CONSERVATION GROUP STAGES MEETING HERE

150 Present at Northwest Association Session Monday Night

HALLOCK MAN NAMED PRESIDENT OF GROUP

Favorable Action Is Taken on Lengthy Series of Resolutions

One hundred fifty men representing eight sportsmen's clubs Monday evening attended the annual meeting of the Northwestern Minnesota Association of Conservation Clubs in the municipal Auditorium. Officers were elected for the ensuing year, resolutions adopted, and the group witnessed the showing of motion pictures of wild life presented by Carl E. Moen of the department of conservation, assisted by Dr. Edward Bratrud.

Paul Hanson of Hallock was elected president, succeeding Harry Gregg of East Grand Forks who presided over the session. F. A. Brown of Grygla is the new vice president, and Elmer Smith of Lancaster will serve as secretary-treasurer.

County directors named include Haldor Hanson of Karlstad, Kittson county; W. F. Zauche of Baudette, Lake of the Woods; Marvin Smeby of Newfolden, Marshall; Bill LaFave, Pennington; J. J. Rinowski of Roseau county; and Jack Simms of East Grand Forks, Polk county.

Favorable action was taken on a series of resolutions presented by the resolutions committee, of which Judge Oscar R. Knutson of Warren served as chairman. One provided for the appointment of a committee to develop an enlarged membership for the association, and another changed the date of the annual meeting from the last Monday in July to the first Sunday in August.

Another resolution recommended an open season on Hungarian partridges in Northwestern Minnesota, the open territory to include all of Marshall and Pennington counties. It was also recommended that the commissioner of conservation be given the power to declare a five-day deer season after making a survey to learn the number of deer in the territory, and it was further asked that the season be opened either on a Saturday or Sunday.

A closing resolution thanked the officers for their effective work during the past year, and complimenting W. F. Zauche of Baudette on his work as chairman of the legislative committee. Mr. Zauche submitted an exhaustive report covering the activities of his committee while the legislature was in session early this year.

An excellent demonstration of tap dancing was given by Jackie Ruddy, ten-year-old East Grand Forks boy.

Mr. Moen showed colored motion pictures prepared by the conservation department, dealing with the flight of the blue geese, Carlos Avery game farm, fish propagation in Minnesota lakes and streams and upland game birds.

At the close of the evening lunch was served in the Civic and Commerce rooms by members of the Pennington County Sportsmen's club.

Thronson Reports on 1941 Assessment Roll

New Music Supervisor

MISS GRACE OMUNDSON
Of Detroit Lakes, who was elected Saturday by the board of education to serve as public school music supervisor in the local schools, succeeding Miss Ruth E. Nelson. Miss Omundson has accepted the appointment.

City Assessor T. M. Thronson submitted figures to the local board of review, which was in session in the assessor's office from Monday thru Wednesday, showing that personal property in Thief River Falls as of May 1 this year had a full and true value of $1,649,429 and an assessed valuation of $515,866.

These figures represent a slight decline as compared to last year, Mr. Thronson explained, owing to the fact that the classification of bank assets as personal property ceased following the enactment of new regulations in the 1941 legislature. The 1940 personal property assessment showed a full and true value of $1,676,894 and an assessed valuation of $517,462, of which latter figure the local banks supplied $49,568.

Allowing for the elimination of the banks, the 1941 figures reflect an actual gain of almost $48,000, most of which is represented by new buildings on railroad right-of way, these being classified as personal property.

Real estate improved since May 1, 1940, showed a full and true value of $142,020, and an assessed valuation of $39,584. Assessments of moneys and credits also increased from $797,480 in 1940 to $830,095 this year.

Mr. Thronson reported that his office this year handled 1,560 household returns and 283 returns from business places, an aggregate of 1843 compared to 1,799 in 1940. The figures, he stated, indicate an increase of approximately thirty new families in the population of the city during the past year.

The huge volume, due largely to the demand created by the extremely hot weather accompanied by lawn sprinkling thruout the city, compares with an average consumption of under 500,000 gallons a day and with the former record mark of 720,000 gallons established in the summer of 1936.

Fair Goes Ahead in Full Swing This Afternoon

Exhibit Space Well Filled at Fortieth Annual Exposition

EVENT WILL CONTINUE THRU SATURDAY NIGHT

Rodeo and Circus Each Afternoon and Spectacular Revue at Night

The fortieth annual Pennington county fair swings into full action today with all available exhibit space well filled, and with topnotch entertainment features scheduled for both afternoons and evenings to-day, Friday and Saturday.

The livestock barns were filling up Wednesday afternoon, and the poultry building was well filled. The woman's building was packed to capacity with displays of flowers, preserves, fancy needlework, school exhibits and commercial displays.

Particularly outstanding is the exhibit of tractors and other types of farm machinery, occupying a large area in the rear of the grandstand and bleachers, and with a half-dozen local dealers cooperating to make the largest showing in the history of the fair.

Today has been designated as Thief River Falls Day at the fair, and local stores will cooperate by remaining closed this afternoon. Friday is 4-H Club and Farmers Day, with the award of a free tractor as a feature, while an event of Saturday will be the presentation of a new automobile to some person attending the fair that day.

Light rains fell Wednesday afternoon, but halted in time not to interfere with the WLS Barn Dance show, which was presented in the evening before a well-filled grandstand. The crowd enjoyed the performance, of which a feature was a quiz program ably presented under the direction of Chuck Acree, with members of the audience competing for prize awards. Preceding the program the Lincoln high school band appeared in a short concert.

The entertainment before the grandstand each afternoon at the fair is being furnished by Barker Brothers combined rodeo and circus, which fair officials state is the most colorful and complete of any program ever presented on the local grounds.

Barker Brothers will present, at each performance, a complete circus, wild west and rodeo. Bill Blomberg, well known in both the rodeo and circus business, is the general manager and arena director. Bill's circus experience covers the field all the way from water boy to chief trainer and manager. Some of the animals to be seen in his present show were trained by him.

Some of the show's highlights are a group of genuine Alaskan Husky dogs, said to be the only troupe of the kind before the public; the Seline Cossacks, a team of wild-riding horsemen from the snow steppes of Russia; Prof. Manley's trained thoroughbred Shetland ponies; Blomoberg's high-school and jumping horses; a troupe of colorfully garbed Indians in pastimes of the reservation, and a full quota of hard-riding cowboy and cowgirls. In the latter's offerings are included bronco riding, steer wrestling, trick ridining and trick roping.

Before a dazzling scenic setting which carries out the colors of the American flag, "Step Lively", a new musical with a youthful swing and plenty of comedy, will open a three-day engagement before the grandstand at the fair starting this evening.

"Step Lively", is played in five parts, or numbers, with smartly designed costumes, specially arranged music and novelty acts continually changing to please the eye and ear alike.

The government weather recording station at Grand Forks reported a high mark of 103 Saturday afternoon, the highest mark since the record heat wave of 1936.

With harvesting operations now in full swing, grain crops which had given promise of bumper yields are reported to have suffered material deterioration as a result of the extremely hot weather, County Agent Ernest Palmer reported that barley fields in some localities would not be threshed because the heads had failed to fill properly.

While heavy rains fell in some sections of Northwestern Minnesota during the past week, together with a severe hail storm east of Ada in Norman county, the only precipitation here was a light shower Wednesday afternoon.

Betty Crocker KITCHEN CLINIC

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

prepared for Your Newspaper by Betty Crocker Home Service Department

WHAT'S A PICNIC WITHOUT POTATO SALAD!

"If you'll just wait a minute", my friend, Mrs. Hart, whispered, "I see Mrs. Cook coming with her potato salad. She makes the best potato salad!"

We were at the annual community picnic where Mrs. Hart was chairman of "the committee". Gladly I let the dish of ordinary-looking potato salad go past me. I was interested in seeing what this extra special salad of Mrs. Cook's would be like. Evidently "the committee" believed that potato salad was as essential a part of any picnic as the fried chicken and lemonade. I counted seven different bowls of potato salad . . . some of them looking uncommonly tempting.

Worth Waiting For

Finally Mrs. Hart came to offer me the first helping from Mrs. Cook's salad. One taste convinced me that it had been well worth waiting for. It had pep and character. It was seasoned to perfection. It was crunchy and soft, gold and red and green and creamy-looking. Really a sort of super-potato salad. Here is the recipe:

MRS. COOK'S SPECIAL POTATO SALAD

3 cups potato cubes (from cold cooked potatoes)	2 hard-cooked eggs, sliced
2 tbsp. finely chopped onion	½ large cucumber, cubed
6 radishes, sliced	½ cup French dressing
½ cup chopped celery	½ cup boiled salad dressing
	Pimiento or parsley

Before I tell you about putting this salad together, I'd better explain that this amount will make six servings. Mrs. Cook had doubled the recipe when she took potato salad to the community picnic.

Putting The Salad Together

Place the potato cubes, onion, radishes, celery, cucumber and two of the eggs in a bowl. Mix lightly with the French Dressing. Let stand in a cold place for an hour or more. Toss together with boiled salad dressing. Serve in a large bowl or on a platter garnished with lettuce leaves or other salad greens, slices of hard-cooked egg and chopped parsley or pimiento. A sprinkling of paprika over the top adds to the color.

You Won't Need Fried Chicken With This Meat and Potato Salad

Wouldn't it be fun to just take potato salad to a family picnic . . . and not bother with the fried chicken! Here's a meat and potato salad that makes a grand one-dish-meal for any summer-time occasion.

MEAT AND POTATO SALAD

2 lb. lean beef (cooked until tender) (about 4 cups)	4 sweet pickles
3 cooked potatoes (2 cups)	2 large stalks celery
2 hard cooked eggs	½ cup mayonnaise
2 tomatoes	Seasonings: 1 tbsp. salt, ½ tbsp. catsup, ½ tsp. pepper and 2 tsp. prepared mustard
2 onions
2 green peppers

This also makes 6 servings. Cut beef and potatoes rather coarsely. Cut eggs and tomatoes in sections. Chop fine the onion and green pepper. Slice pickles and chop celery. Put in bowl, blend with mayonnaise and seasonings, tossing together with two forks. Chill. Serve in bowl lined with crisp lettuce. Garnish with additional sections of tomato and eggs.

Three Ways To Make Fried Chicken

By Katharine Fisher

Director, Good Housekeeping Institute

The fried-chicken season is here! The supply of fryers—fresh and quick-frozen—is usually at its best at this time of the year. So get out your skillet and treat your family to some good fried chicken. Follow any of these recipes, and you'll have the family loudly clamoring for more.

All recipes tested by Good Housekeeping Institute

Use Institute-approved measuring cups and spoons. Measure level.

KATHARINE FISHER Director of Good Housekeeping Institute

Pan-Fried Chicken

With Flour or Corn-Meal Coating:

1. Buy fryers (1½ to 2½ lbs. each) split lengthwise, quartered, or cut up as for fricassee. Roasting chickens may be pan-fried if first simmered tender after cutting up.

2. Heat enough fat or oil in skillet or chicken fryer to make a ½" to ¾" layer. Use 2 skillets to save time.

3. Clean but do not dry the chicken. Coat by shaking in a paper bag with 1 c. flour (or ½ c. flour and ½ c. corn meal) mixed with 1 tbsp. salt.

4. Place a few pieces at a time in hot fat, and brown on all sides. Reduce heat; cover or not as preferred, and fry 35 to 40 min. longer, or until tender. (2 to 4 tbsp. water or cream may be added to chicken after browning if desired.)

5. As the pieces are fried, keep hot in a covered double boiler, in a bowl set over hot water, or in a covered casserole or roasting pan in a warm oven.

WITH EGG AND CRUMB COATING:

1. To 2 c. sifted, dried bread crumbs or cracker crumbs, add 1 tbsp. salt. Beat 1 egg with 2 tbsp. cold water.

2. Dip chicken in crumbs, then in egg, then in crumbs, and fry as above. Flour may be substituted for bread or cracker crumbs.

Oven-Fried Chicken

Here's a method that is especially convenient when several chickens are to be fried, since it cuts down on the turning and watching necessary when chicken is fried in a skillet.

1. Coat, and fry cut-up chicken in a skillet to a golden brown on all sides, as we do in Pan-Fried Chicken.

2. Then transfer the chicken to a covered casserole or roaster; cover, and complete the cooking in moderate oven of 350° F. for 1 hr., or until the chicken is deliciously tender.

3. Serve with cream-without Cream Gravy, as desired.

Deep-Fried Chicken

1. Dip cut-up fryers in egg and crumbs (see Pan-Fried Chicken) or in following batter: Stir 1 beaten egg and ¾ c. milk into 1 c. sifted all-purpose flour with 1½ tsp. salt and ¼ tsp. pepper.

2. Fry a few pieces at a time in deep fat or oil heated to 375° F., or hot enough to brown a cube of day-old bread in 1 min. Keep the fat at 350° F., and fry until tender—about 20 to 30 min.

3. Or simmer cut-up chicken until just tender. Then skin; coat with eggs and crumbs (see Pan Fried Chicken) and deep fry at 375° F. until golden brown—about 3 min.

Kitty's Komments

The moon rode high on a pinnacle of dark and ominous clouds as the mutterings of thunder grew more and more distant every minute.

The silvery rays of moonlight blessed a rainswept garden. The storm was over. I could again go back to sleep.

Lucky people who sleep soundly through any storm no matter how furious, but there are others like me, who, at the first faint flicker of lightning in the west announcing an approaching storm are wide awake!

As the black masses of clouds rush onward and upward and thunder gets louder and more angry every minute, every nerve is tense waiting for the storm to break.

You watch the light ... mass of rolling wind clouds with fear in your heart and think of the place where that 'spearhead' or snow plow shaped cloud is speeding disaster across the country side. Always where that cloud passes, they have terrific wind. We have been fortunate so far not to have been in its pathway.

The sudden rush of wind proclaims to all, here's the storm! Then a few drops fall—big ones. There's hail in the air.

It then pours—rain coming down in buckets—letting up as suddenly as it came. The clouds are whirling furiously in the heavens. An unmistaking crack of falling hail on the roof and another! The rain again mixed with hail. Finally it's only raining in a steady down pour.

Then a sizzling flash of lightning followed instantaneously by a clap of thunder. The barn! You run to the window. Its safe!

It's raining now, quietly and the thunder rumbles to the eastward.

I put on my slicker to go to the turkey roosts to pick up the small fellows who have fallen off in the storm, putting them in the brooder house. None dead, but such a soaked looking bunch!

As I walk back to the house the moon breaks through the clouds, flooding the dripping landscape with light.

The rumbling thunder moves with the storm eastward where others like me are watching its approach.

With a little prayer of thanks that everything is safe, I return to bed and sleep.

Painting the bottom step white is a safety measure suggested for poorly lighted stairways.

Rural Credit farms are selling briskly and liquidation of the state's holdings in farm lands is getting along to the point where the end is in sight. More than three hundred farms in Marshall, Pennington and Red Lake counties have been put back into the hands of owners and taxpayers. Of the ninety-five Pennington County farms sold, all but six have been sold to Pennington County people. Encouraging thing about the liquidation is the collection record. Of 7,069 mortgages and contracts held by the Department only 81 are delinquent more than one year. That means that with few exceptions the farms that have been sold will remain sold, and that, after all, is the important thing. That they are being sold at a big loss to the state is unfortunately true but that was to be expected. Township and county officials have been consulted in determining values and the state is getting a fair price for the land under present market conditions. Farm lands may some day increase in value again, and probably will, but values will never increase as long as the state's holdings hang over the market. Once the thousands of farms held by the state have been put back on the tax rolls, in the hands of owners, we will have a normal condition of supply and demand again and the market value of land will seek a natural level. It is encouraging to know that we now are approaching the end of a depressing influence.

We are beginning to like this man Senator Joe Ball. Frankly, his appointment didn't appeal to us at the time it was made. At that time, it seemed to us, the Governor could have done better by selecting some older and more experienced man to represent the state in the nation's capitol. Perhaps we were thinking a little in terms of party politics. It soon became apparent, however, that the new Senator was not thinking in terms of party politics. At any rate he didn't talk like a politician—not like the politicians we generally send to Washington. By the manner in which he has conducted himself he has given us the impression that as far as he is concerned he would rather be right than senator. The thing that convinced us he is too honest to go far in politics was his speech delivered at a Townsend picnic at Redwood Falls Sunday. The ordinary run-of-the-mill politician would either have declined to address such a gathering or would have given the audience an evasive endorsement of their plan. Not so Senator Ball. He told them that while he favored adequate old age assistance, he could see no merit in their program as an economic recovery plan. He told them that what was paid to them would be taken from someone else, would, therefore, not be new purchasing power but merely a redistribution of present purchasing power and that, "consequently there would be no real increased demand for products and no stimulus to our economic system." Yes, we are beginning to like this man Senator Joe Ball.

We are not going to take sides in the argument about keeping the boys in camp more than a year. There is justification for the complaint of those who argue that a year was the promised limit of service. There also is justification for the appeal of those who are trying to build an army that much of our past effort will have been wasted if the period of service is terminated at the close of the year. In behalf of those who have ideas about building an army it might be said that the promises of politicians never were meant to be taken seriously. In behalf of the politicians it might be argued that, there being no immediate need for a large army, and not enough equipment to properly arm one if we did need it, the army builders might concentrate temporarily on the more efficient training of smaller units with the idea of adding men as they become equipped to handle them.

As we approach the end of the sixth week of Hitler's conquest of Russia we mustn't pass up the opportunity to gloat once again over the fact that the Axis powers are having considerable difficulty. Mussolini may have to throw another division of his crack troops into the fight if his friend Adolph is going to get to Moscow before the snow flies.

LABELED GOODS
St. Paul Dispatch

The Wool Products Labeling act which went into effect Tuesday gives the consuming public the same kind of information on the content of woolen textiles it buys that has long been a normal trade requirement in the buying and selling of raw materials. It is the culmination of a 30-year struggle to provide the consumer with a factual basis of judging the quality of his textile purchases.

The act requires that all goods sold in interstate trade containing 5 per cent or more of wool shall bear labels disclosing, by percentage the various fibers present in the article and the type of wool used in that component. For this purpose wool is designated as of three kinds: "wool", which means fiber that has never before been used in a finished product; "reprocessed wool," which means fiber reclaimed from tailors' scraps, remnants and the like never used or worn; and "reused wool," which means fiber salvaged from woolen rags, worn garments and the like.

Only a comparatively small proportion of the textile industry's normal annual consumption of wool fiber comes from the reprocessed category. The major part is divided between new and reused wool on an approximate 70-30 basis. The quality of reclaimed wool goods varies in the same way as new wool goods, according to the quality of the fiber used or reused, and the skill and care of manufacture. Articles made of high grade reused wool can be superior to articles of low grade virgin wool, though in all cases reused wool is employed in manufacture as a lower-cost substitute for new wool.

A big industrialist, trying to speak temperately, puts in the form of a question a proposition that has long troubled the minds of many. "Would the present grave situation exist had officialdom, in recent years, given as much sympathetic consideration to the right to work as it has to the right to strike?" "The right to work"—there's something we must write into the bill of rights when we fix the Constitution over to bring it up to date.—Fairmont, Minn., Sentinel.

SHYSTER TRADE SCHOOLS MULCTING YOUTHS
(Canby News)

"If I were 21 again, I'd get myself a job as a mechanic," recently remarked William Knudsen, the immigrant boy who grew up to become head of General Motors and defense advisor to the President. That's sound advice for the 1941 graduates, advice which many youths with mechanical bents will heed.

There is great opportunity ahead in the skilled trades and as a result there have grown up various shyster trade school and training courses which have as their object not the equipping of young men for a position, but the mulcting of whatever cash they have.

Here are some tips by the Better Business Bureau of Minneapolis on selecting a trade school: interview graduates which any reputable school will furnish, learn about the school from them; interview employers about employment requirements and the value of school training; visit the school if possible; investigate before you invest, most "registration" forms are legal contracts; no reputable school will guarantee positions; check "scholarship" offers carefully; beware of "your-last opportunity to sign up"; make sure the salesman's promises are in the contract; don't hurry, most offers will be just as good next week.

A local man who doesn't use tobacco in any form figures that in the 40 years abstinence he has saved around $2,000. He doesn't have the $2,000 and can't explain what he has done with it. The same thing is true of many small expenses and could just as well be applied to the matter of payments on a home. Small weekly or monthly payments would make a home of their own possible, but unless some regular form of payments is once established they will never, perhaps, own a home.—Winnebago Times.

SO. ST. PAUL LIVESTOCK
(By U. S. Department of Agricultural Economics and Minnesota Department of Agriculture)

South St. Paul, Minn., July 29, 1941: Pressure became quite pronounced in the slaughter cattle trade this week. Good and choice yearlings and lightweight slaughter steers being about the only kinds to escape. Losses of 25c appeared on common and medium grades of both steers and heifers, while cows lost 25c as well. Bulls ranged steady to 25c lower, the Federal-State Market News Service review says, while vealers sold steady to 50c off. Stock cattle held about steady. Choice mixed yearlings topped the slaughter division at $12.25, but quality was considerably below last week, bulk medium to good going at $10.00 to $11.50. A few choice heifers brought $11.50. [illegible] $11.00 to $12.50, with strictly choice $13.00. Good yearling stock steers brought $10.50.

In the hog division, barrows and gilts scaling from 160 to 230 lbs. [illegible] heavier weights were steady to weak. [illegible] Tuesday's late extreme top was $11.15 [illegible] $11.25 [illegible] $10.50 to $11.00 [illegible]

Sharply lower live costs have been enforced for fat lambs and yearlings. Liberal receipts, western spring lambs with a broader outlet, coupled with the slow demand [illegible] at eastern dressed centers, were factors that contributed to the faltering price structure. Fat lambs were largely $1.00 off, instances more, while yearlings were [illegible] lower. Sheep prices weakened. Holdovers [illegible] Late sales of good to choice western spring lambs bulked at $10.75-10.85 with natives from $10.25 to $10.50, and yearlings were purchased chiefly under the [illegible]

2,000,000 Patents

The first United States patent law was signed by President Washington in 1790 and since then more than 2,000,000 patents have been issued by the government. Recent patents include a method of keeping milk fresh without cooling; a method for making aluminum firearm shells, thus saving copper and brass, and a method of making colorless paving asphalt.

War on Rabbits

Churches, volunteer firemen, American Legion posts and other organizations report they have waged successful war on jackrabbits which had been destroying young trees in the vast shelter belt plantings of South Dakota. Two hundred and fifty community rabbit hunts were staged. The total bag was 59,533 jackrabbits, 87 foxes and 21 coyotes. The forest service reported 1,618,000 acres were systematically combed by 16,000 hunters, who cut the rabbit population to less than 23 per square mile. It was 58 per square mile in 1933. The forest service furnished the shotgun ammunition. The $4,000 in proceeds from the sale of the rabbits went to charity. The rabbits brought as high as 11 cents each.

Looking Backward

1931— TEN YEARS AGO

The Peterson-Biddick company started construction of a large new addition to its poultry plant.—Dr. T. F. Kane, president of the University of North Dakota, addressed the local Rotary club. —The mercury mounted to the 101-degree mark July 23. —Mr. and Mrs. N. O. Lawson observed their 33d wedding anniversary. —A. B. Kriel of Red Lake Falls and H. O. Ness of Fosston joined the staff of the Great Northern depot here.—The O. F. Halldin family returned from an extended trip thru the eastern part of the country.

1921—TWENTY YEARS AGO

The twentieth annual Pennington county fair opened with large crowds in attendance.—When the awning on the west side of the Oen Mercantile company broke loose in a windstrom, five large plate glass windows were shattered.—Miss Doris Halvorson, who recently completed a course of study at Oberlin Conservatory, appeared in a piano recital at the Lyceum theatre. —Dr. F. H. Gambell of Willows, California, former local physician, gave a lecture at the Presbyterian church. — Lars H. Larson purchased the Thief River Music company from F. S. Ebert, Theodore Hagen and Roy Halseth.

One of Its Kind

Los Angeles, Calif., lays claim to what is probably the only marriage clinic in this country, probably in the world. It is the Institute of Family Relations with Dr. Paul Popenoe, one of the first ranking social eugenists in the nation, as general director. The institution is supported in part by generous donors who are interested in the promotion of social service. The institute is particularly proud of its premarital service, which is offered to those about to wed who want help in making their marriage a success. Every couple who have taken this service before marriage are still married, so far as is known.

Dog's Eyes Valuable

If you own a dog whose eyes show a lot of white around the pupils, he may be worth his weight in gold, according to Henry East, owner and trainer of Asta, most famous dog in the movies today. This is the rare feature that distinguished canine film stars from normal dogs whose eyes are dark and beady from lid to lid. Because those eyes are a monotone of color, their movements cannot be photographed effectively.

Santa Didn't Get It

Less than one-third of the money saved by individuals during 1940 under Christmas club plans operated by banks was actually used for Christmas purchases, a report by Christmas Club, Inc., shows. Most of the $363,000,000 saved by 7,500,000 club members went into permanent savings, payment of bills, taxes, insurance premiums, educational, travel and charity contributions.

Big Three

Kentucky, Illinois and Indiana are the "big three" of the liquor industry, producing three-fourths of all the whisky made in the United States. Of the total national output of 10,303,914 gallons in March, for example, Kentucky produced 4,675,187 gallons, Illinois 1,442,125 and Indiana 1,334,925.

We like the thought behind "The Temperers," a club founded by M. L. Shuster, the publisher. The members are pledged to take it easy. All new members are put on a probationary period during which they have to prepare a daily list of things to do, and then not do them. When any member is asked to engage in a game that involves bending, running or jumping or just standing up, he is supposed to compromise and not even watch the game.

We-non-ah, could you live again

Would you rejoice that white men speak

Their clustered teepees, all are gone;

You'd never know the trail!
But war-paint still is evident
And savage trends prevail.

First Mace

The mace was provided for by a resolution adopted by the house during the first congress on April 14, 1789. The first mace used by the house was destroyed by fire when the British burned the Capitol in 1814. From that time until 1842 a mace of painted wood served. In that year the present mace was made in reproduction of the original. It is over three feet in height and consists of a bundle of ebony rods, representing the states, bound with a band of silver in imitation of the fasces. From the center protrudes the stem of a silver globe surmounted by a silver eagle with outspread wings.

Statue on Capitol

Not so well known, perhaps, as the Statue of Liberty, the statue which crowns the dome of the nation's Capitol at Washington takes on great significance at this time. The statue is that of Freedom, armed with helmet, shield and sheathed sword. The bronze statue is 19½ feet high, weighs 15,000 pounds. It was set in place, 307½ feet above the esplanade, December 2, 1863. "Freedom" is the work of Thomas Crawford, an American artist. The original model is in the Smithsonian Institution.

Admitting a State

No steps for admitting a state into the Union have been fixed, but a substantially uniform procedure has grown up. Ordinarily the process is set in motion by the people of the territory sending a petition to congress for admission as a state. If this is regarded with favor, congress passes an enabling act, authorizing the territorial officials to arrange for a popularly elected convention to frame a state constitution. After the constitution is prepared it is submitted to the people and, if adopted, is sent to congress for approval. If it is accepted, a resolution is passed declaring the territory a state.

Questionnaires

The federal government received about 135,700,000 reports and returns to questionnaires from individuals and business concerns last year. Industrial, commercial and financial enterprises filed a total of 60,000,000 returns—an average of about 20 for each enterprise—while about 21,000,000 returns of all kinds were filed for farms—an average of about three for each farm. The average industrial questionnaire contains about 63 questions.

Uses Cheaper Coal

An automatic household-furnace stoker using the cheaper grades of hard coal, which, with thermostatic control, can be ignored for months at a time, has been invented by E. T. Selig and tested by the Mellon Institute. Given an adequate coal bin and an ash-storage pit four feet deep, it was necessary to replenish the coal only once in four months, have the ashes removed three times a year. A 22-year-old boiler-furnace was used for the test.

Perfect 'Divining Rod' For Discovering Oil

Herbert Hoover Jr., following in his father's professional footsteps, appeared in New York recently to describe an important development of his own in prospecting for oil.

The 37-year-old Hoover said that he and his associates had perfected a modern "divining rod" to discover pools of oil as deep as 10,000 feet below the earth's surface. By adapting the mass spectograph, a scientific instrument heretofore used only in research laboratories, Hoover said he had made it commercially practicable to analyze gases in sub-surface soils. Such gases as butane and octane reveal hidden oil deposits.

So sensitive is the Hoover device that gases seeping up from buried oil can be detected in quantities as tiny as one-tenth of one cubic millimeter, smaller in volume than the head of a pin. A single pint of earth from the ground above an oil pool will yield that much gas. Furthermore, one part of oil-produced gases can be identified in 20,000 parts of methane, ordinary marsh gas given off by rotting vegetation.

When all the gases have been removed from the sample of earth to be tested, Hoover explained, they are shot through a U-shaped tube by electric and magnetic impulses. Gases of heavier atomic weights become automatically separated from lighter gases by centrifugal force. Those indicating the presence of oil can thus be identified.

One drawback to the Hoover process is the bulkiness of the equipment. The device with which he has worked weighs several tons and fills most of a 600-foot-square room. However, he has hopes of reducing it eventually to portable size.

Helpful Suggestions For Preventing Termites

Prevention is the surest control for termites. Builders recognize that there are many ways to prevent termites from gaining a foothold in the foundations of a house. Since dampness is a favorable condition for termite breeding, the ground around the house should slope away from the foundation walls to assure good draining. Rainspouts should not empty close to the foundations.

If a storm sewer is not available spouts should be emptied onto splash blocks located to carry rain water at least three feet from the building. If a dry well is used, it should be located at least eight feet from the building.

Making the home safe requires a constant check for possible danger points. Since stair rails are in constant use and continual pressure is exerted on them, a check may prove worthwhile. A loose baluster might well be a source of injury, in addition to detracting from appearance. Manufacturers and local supply dealers furnish wood and iron balusters to fit all sizes and types of stairs and balconies.

Concrete floors on porches, stoops, garages, and basement recreation rooms may easily be freshened with colorful paints. A reliable formula is a primer coat of floor enamel in the color selected, thinned with linseed oil or turpentine in accordance with directions. Allow to dry and then apply a second and third coat of the same enamel full body.

Skillful Hands Needed, Too

A change in our system of education that runs sharply counter to the thinking of the majority of our parents and their children in the past two decades was recently advocated by the American Youth commission, a group of distinguished citizens appointed by the American Council on Education.

In its report, the council suggests that "we abandon the mistaken notion held by many parents who assume that the only road to a higher social and economic status for their children leads through the traditional 'academic,' 'college' preparatory curriculum."

The commission urges the elimination of subjects of less importance in order that occupational adjustment services may be added. It lays greater importance upon the practical at the expense of what has been called the cultural.

The job of our schools is to best fit our children for a job in life; we need men who can work skillfully with their hands just as we need men who can work skillfully with their brains.

Let a want ad be your salesman. Inexpensive, yet a go-getter.

LOGIC

A man was charged with shooting a number of pigeons, the property of a farmer. Counsel for the defense tried to frighten the farmer.

"Now," he remarked, "are you prepared to swear that this man shot your pigeons?"

"I didn't say he did shoot 'em," was the reply. "I said I suspected him of doing it."

"Ah! Now we're coming to it. What made you suspect this man?"

"Well, firstly, I caught him on my land wi' a gun. Secondly, I heard a gun go off and saw some pigeons fall. Thirdly, I found four o' my pigeons in his pocket—and I don't think them birds flew there and committed suicide."

Ladies 'Naughtier'

Women are getting "naughtier" all the time, Federal Bureau of Investigation records indicate. A study of 578,320 arrest records for 1939 disclosed that 7.9 per cent represented women. Only 6.8 per cent of cases examined in 1938 were those of women. FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover pointed out that, although fewer women than men commit crimes, those who do break laws commit serious violations.

The league-leading Crookston team increased their Polar golf league margin by 7 points when they out-scored the second-place Bemidji team, 49 to 42, in the league matches played over the sun-scorched local course Sunday. Bemidji collected 42 points and now trail the league leader by 26 points with but one match remaining on the schedule. Thief River Falls and Erskine each garnered 43 points in Sunday's matches, while Mahnomen avoided a shut-out by scraping up 5 points.

Mahnomen Man Killed in Bemidji Accident

The car was owned and driven by John Arnold, also of Mahnomen, who escaped with bruises. Dr. Peter Eckel of Mahnomen, a third occupant of the car, was receiving treatment for a minor back injury early this week in the Bemidji hospital.

A small group of persons associated with the entertainment features at the Pennington county fair this week were guests of the Rotary club at its luncheon Tuesday noon in the Evelyn hotel. MARSHALL CO. COLLECTS 850 POUNDS ALUMINUM

Approximately 850 pounds of scrap aluminum was collected in Marshall county for national defense during the state-wide campaign which was completed Tuesday. Judge Nels M. Engen, chairman of the Marshall County Civilian Defense committee, announced today in Warren.

The reason so many farmers post "No Hunting" signs on their property not to protect the game, they're just tired of picking buckshot out of their mules.

Fortunello & Cirillino, two chaps who have made a reputation for themselves as top-notch knockabout comics and pantomine artists, are a part of the Pennington county Fair grandstand show opening today. Powerfully muscled, Fortunello tosses his tiny partner about the stage with reckless abandon, so carelessly at times that only a skilled gymnast could emerge without broken bones. Both are also expert acrobats, and at times their splendid balancing and tumbling overshadow their comical antics.

EMERGENCY GRAIN STORAGE IS AIDED BY FARM SECURITY

To Loan Money to Low Income Farmers for Storage Facilities

In an effort to provide emergency grain storage facilities to all low income farmers and to aid in alleviating the acute grain storage situation, the Farm Security Administration has announced an expansion of their present storage-loan plan, according to H. W. Thelander, acting County FSA Supervisor.

The new program, designed to aid all farmers unable to secure credit for this purpose elsewhere, will offer loans for construction or repair of storage space up to 3,500 bushels, the announcement said.

As the grain storage situation grows more acute daily, the announcement came in an effort to aid all low-income farmers to finance needed farm storage facilities.

Loans will be available to AAA co-operators who cannot obtain credit for this purpose from any other source.

"They will be made," Mr. Thelander said, "for construction or repair of storage space which meets minimum requirements of the Commodity Credit Corporation and for storage of grain eligible for CC loans".

Storage bins constructed or repaired with FSA loans may be located on the farm of the borrower or land under lease by the borrower for the anticipated period of the storage.

Interest will be charged at the rate of 5 per cent per annum for all grain storage loans.

Farmers in need of this service were urged by Mr. Thelander to contact their local AAA or FSA office immediately.

THIEF RIVER FALLS SEVERELY DRUBS ALVARADO SUNDAY

Defeat Visitors 14 to 0 in Heat on Fair Grounds Diamond

Pounding the offerings of Curt Johnson and Bill Ready for 16 sunburnt hits, coupled with 7 errors, the locals bounded back into the win column Sunday when they trounced Alvarado, 14 to 0, in a game played on the fair grounds diamond. While pitcher Bill Hallamack was scattering 8 hits, and registering his second shut-out of the season, the locals were hopping on Alvarado's starting pitcher, Johnson, for 4 hits and 2 runs in the 1st inning, and 4 hits and 3 runs in the 3rd inning, to drive him off the mound.

Thief River Falls continued their assault on the "soft" stuff pitched by Bill Ready, and turned the game into a rout by scoring 7 runs on 1 hit, 5 errors, and three bases on balls, with the hit of the inning being a booming triple to center-field by lanky Bob Snyder, scoring three base-runners.

The fielding play of the game was contributed by first baseman Stan Cockrell when he made a fine running catch of Curt Johnson's foul pop in the 5th inning, Stan dashing behind Alvarado players' bench and nabbing the ball on an overhead grab.

Hitting honors for the locals in the free-hitting contest, in addition to Snyders' triple, went to Lenny Helquist and Johnny Jaranson, with "2 for 3"; Bob DuChamp and Nick Bromberg, with "2 for 4"; and Jesse DuChamp (who was hitting in tough luck, driving out a couple of line drives that were snared for put-outs) and Wally DuChamp, with "2 for 6".

Manager Helmer Ness announced that the team would journey to Alvarado next Sunday for a return game with Bill Ready's boys; and on August 10th the team would go to Plummer for a game with G. A. Krueger's revenge-seeking team.

WOMAN DISREGARDS LAW IN QUEST FOR FISH

Detroit Lakes—Any person who doubts Mrs. Mable Bailey's great love for fishing should case aside all such thoughts. Game Warden Emil Frank found Mrs. Bailey, of Ayr, N. Dak., fishing with four poles on Lake Maud. The woman greeted Warden Frank by telling him she was having fun and expected a sentence of 90 days for disregarding the law. As it happened, she was brought before Justice of the Peace Teague who imposed a fine on her and she willingly paid it.

IT CERTAINLY IS A SMALL WORLD:

St. Peter—E. E. Miller, St. Peter resident who spent the past winter at West Palm Beach, Florida, had a strange experience which proves the truth of the saying "It's a small world, after all". While conversing with an aged blind man 90 years old, Mr. Miller learned that the old man, Mr. Brown, had formerly lived in Minnesota in fact, in St. Peter. But most strange and startling was the fact that Mr. Brown had lived in the house formerly owned by one of St. Peter's five governors, Governor Austin, which happens to be the identical house that Mr. Miller now lives in.

He who blames others for his failures fools nobody but himself.

It's Fair Week

Scanning the program of entertainment that is in store for the patrons, it appears that the Fair Board has arranged a very attractive card for the Pennington county fair, which is in progress this week. The afternoon show will feature the Barker Bros. rodeo, and the evening spectacle will be a Gertrude Avery production entitled "Step Lively."

This Bill Blomberg, who's owner of the rodeo, and who m.c's the acts, is a native Minnesotan, having been reared near St. Peter, Minn. In fact, he and Frank Rinkel were childhood neighbors, and Frank states that the Blomberg kids were the "toughest Swedes in Nicollet county."

Lenny "Oats" Furuseth, who's usually reliable and conservative in his statements, said that the Rudy Rudynoff trio, with their dancing horses, is a very fine act. The Rudynoffs (man and wife, and young son) were one of the features in the Shrine circus at Pontiac, Michigan this spring, and that's where "Oats" saw their performance. If you have any "beefs" on their act, and they perform with the Barker Bros., bring those "beefs" to Lenny. Rudynoff, by the way, is a former Ringling Brothers circus performer.

And when you're at the Fair don't forget to "make" the shows on the Midway. They have some rides set up there that are guaranteed to make you forget the European situation. Jay DuChamp says the "Hula" show will make you forget the European situation, too.

Heinie Will be in the Line-up

Henry A. "Heinie" Wang is expected home on a ten-day furlough from Fort Warren, Wyo., today. "Heinie" is with an artillery unit—Battery C, 28th Battalion. Helmer Ness, manager of the Kiewel's D-ball team, made the announcement that "Heinie" would be in his old position in right-field when the Kiewel's take the field against the Land O'Lakes Tuesday night. Well, "Heinie" will think that he's up against an anti-tank gun when he faces "Ham" Myhrer's speed-ball pitches.

Memo on Sunday's Ball Game

An oddity occurred in the 9th inning of the game Sunday, when Birdean Nornes, the local's catcher, donned the pad and mask and went behind the plate for Alvarado, relieving the visiting team's catcher, J. Ready, who was forced from the game by a sprained finger. You'd have thought that a couple of New York Yankee scouts were in the stands, judging by the "pepper" that Nornes exhibited behind the plate. Lots of chatter, shagging foul flies all the way to the back-stop, etc.

The Bob Snyder in the Thief River line-up is a 6-foot 3-inch U. of M. freshman, from Anoka, and a classmate of "Bones" Stadum and Roy Lee. Bob's working in this vicinity with the State Highway department. That triple he poled out in the 8th inning was really a clout, for the ball nearly reached the race-track in center-field.

It Was Worth the Walk

Bill Sponheim and I trudged along with the Polar league No. 1 players [illegible] following them for about 14 or 15 holes, and we saw a lot of good golf, and some poor golf.

Jimmy Nordine shot a pair of 36's to tie Crookston's Ernotte Hiller for the low medal, but Hiller won the match by a 3 and 2 score. Hiller had one bad hole, No. 3 during the morning round, when he took an 8, and that boosted his score for the round to 39, leaving him all even with Nordine after the morning's round. During the afternoon's round Hiller shot a 33 to Nordine's 36, giving Ernotte his 3-up advantage.

But Jimmy wasn't shooting his game. For instance, he missed a 3-foot putt for a birdie on No. 1; he pulled the wrong iron out of the bag on No. 2 and was twenty feet short of the green with his approach shot; missed an 18-inch putt on No. 4 (Hiller missed a short one, too); took a 5 on No. 6 when he missed his approach. There you have four shots that Jim can make, and that would have given him a 32. But that's what makes golf the interesting game it is, for you never mark up the score until the ball is in the cup, and as Bill said, a lot of things can happen between the tee and the cup.

Hiller picked up that 8 when his second shot, a wood, went past the green on No. 3, and into the water. He attempted to splash-shot the ball out of 4 inches of water, but dug the ball into the muck, drenching himself. He lifted the ball, took the penalty, pitched to the green, and two putts, for the 8.

Summer Complaint Now Becoming Rare Malady, State Physicians Say

The old days of "summer complaint" and upset stomachs from "something he et" are virtually a thing of the past, the bulletin issued by the Minnesota State Medical association's committee on public health education declared today.

Modern refrigeration and pasteurization have played the biggest part in this release from the summer troubles of our forbears, the doctors say in this bulletin. But freedom in this, as in other things is likely to breed carelessness, and outbreaks of food poisoning still occur from time to time in spite of modern improvements.

"One of the most fruitful sources of trouble these days is the custard cream pie or eclair and the luxurious cream filled cake", the bulletin points out. "These foods are wholesome in themselves. But they provide admirable living places for bacteria if bacteria are allowed to get in. And if, at the same time they are left sitting for two or three hours on a kitchen table or in a baker's unrefrigerated show case, the bacteria are likely to multiply. The food may not be spoiled to the taste, in that case, but it may be responsible for a whole round of upset stomachs."

Skin Rinse

Facing yourself frankly in the mirror now and then is a good idea. Skins need attention and care helps even the best. This doesn't have to be expensive, for beauty aids are not all bottled in elaborate packages. For example, the humble lemon will help you to a greater loveliness. Every morning wash your face with warm water and soap, almond meal or powdered oatmeal. Then squeeze the juice of half a lemon into a bowl of cold water and rinse the face. This removes every trace of soap, softens the water and leaves the skin in its normal state, which is slightly acid. Repeat the process in the evening but instead of the lemon water rinse, pat into the skin your favorite cream into which you have stirred lemon juice (a teaspoonful to a two-ounce jar).

LOCAL CITIZENS ATTEND FUNERAL OF WAR VETERAN

Max Raines, Crookston, Dies in Automobile Mishap Near Waubun

Members of Elmer J. Eklund post of the American Legion and auxiliary and of the former auxiliary drum corps journeyed to Crookston Tuesday afternoon to attend funeral rites for Max Raines, prominent Legionnaire and since 1930 drum major of the Ninth District American Legion band, who was killed in an automobile accident four miles east of Waubun Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Raines, 42, who was an agent for the state bureau of criminal investigation, was the victim of a head-on collision with another car as they met near the top of a hill. He succumbed in a Mahnomen hospital. Also killed was Jack Ryan, a carnival wrestler, who was riding with Raines. Passengers in the other car escaped with injuries.

Funeral rites for Raines, a World War veteran, were conducted in the Methodist church at Crookston, with Rev. Paul Snyder officiating. The Ninth district band played at the services.

Plummer Baseball Club Continues Slump Sunday by Losing to All-Stars

The Plummer ball team continued in its slump Sunday when they lost its fourth straight game, losing to the Little Six All-Stars by a 6 to-3 score in a game played on the Plummer diamond.

After the All-Stars had picked up two tallies in the 2nd inning they 'iced' the contest with 4 scores in the 3rd inning, when doubles by Shelquist and Art Sandland, a single by Olson, two bases on balls, and an error, accounted for 4 runs and drove Plummer's starting pitcher John Hovanac off the mound. Plummer's veteran right-hander, 53-year old Jimmy Gilbertson took up the pitching duties, and in the six innings that Jim was on the mound he hurled shut-out ball, allowing but one hit, and collecting 8 strike-outs.

GENERAL RELIEF BURDEN IN STATE LIGHTER IN 1941

Total of 25,110 Direct Relief Cases Reported at End of June

The general relief load in Minnesota at the end of the first half of 1941, was more than 10,000 "cases" lighter than at the end of June, a year ago, according to information obtained in St. Paul today from Walter W. Finke, director of the state division of social welfare. The monthly cost of direct relief, on the basis of the June report, Mr. Finke said, was $250,000 below the mid-year level of 1940.

At the end of last June there were 25,110 direct relief cases—mostly families—in the state, receiving assistance through the 87 county welfare agencies. This number is 3,566—12.4 per cent—fewer than in May, and 10,839—30.2 per cent—fewer than in June, a year ago.

As a result of these commitments, the welfare program's obligations for general relief were $536,963; $76,633—12.5 per cent—less than in May, and $257,935—32.4 per cent—less than in June, a year ago.

The average grant, per relief case, in June was $21.38; 2 cents less than the average in May, and 73 cents less than the average in June, 1940.

Mr. Finke also reported a drop in the cost of the disabled war veterans' relief program. In June the number of cases was 1,843; 83—4.8 per cent—fewer than in May and 402-17.9 per cent—fewer than in June, last year.

Patrolmen Stop 47,000 for Dangerous Driving in First Half of 1941

Nearly 47,000 motorists—enough if they were really bent on killing, to man the steering seats of eight modern mechanized U. S. Army divisions—have been either warned or arrested for illegal, life-endangering driving practices by the Minnesota Highway Patrol during the first six months of 1941.

The commonness of traffic offenses, which have contributed to more than some 250 traffic fatalities and thousands of injuries since January 1, is shown in the Patrol activities report of Chief Elden Rowe.

High in the patrol's efforts to make Minnesota's highways safer for everyone—motorists, pedestrians and tourist guests—were 22,691 written and verbal warnings given to offenders for infractions which contribute to accidents. Because the infractions themselves did not warrant arrest and because it is the Patrol's policy to simply issue warnings when the offense is not too grave or it is believed the safety purposes of the law will be better served, no arrests were made in these instances.

Another 17,128 motorists, however, were given "must repair" tags because their cars were being operated on the highways with faulty, dangerous or illegal equipment. Improper or inadequate lights resulted in the greatest number of tags, with 5,223 being given motorists whose cars' tail-lights were out; 3,698 for having only one headlight, and 2,221 for headlights out of adjustment. Brakes which did not come up to safety requirements were repaired by 1,466 "tagged" drivers.

License Drive

In an effort to lock the barn before the horse is stolen, Michigan plans to stiffen driver's license requirements under a program worked out by state authorities in co-operation with safety and law enforcement agencies. More difficult tests will be given applicants for licenses under the new plan and a series of institutes will be held throughout the state to instruct license examiners in conducting the tests.

TOO-MODERN ATTIRE LANDS WEARER IN HOSPITAL

Howard Lake. — That a heat wave can force people to do strange things was proven recently when policeman Schmieg, of this city, picked up a man wearing a straw hat, a sweater, one bedroom slipper, and carrying a small fishing box. Upon being questioned, the man gave many reasons for his strange behavior, among them stating that he had lost his pants while in fishing. After considerable thought, Mr. Schmieg decided that the attire of the gentleman was far from fashionable and was unfit to be displayed in public. The man was brought to Deputy Sheriff Anderson, who in turn took him to the St. Peter State Hospital.

Automobiles Divided in Line with Population in State, Survey Shows

The ratio of motor vehicle ownership to population is fairly uniform in all but a few of the population groups in Minnesota, according to the motor vehicle allocation study made by the highway planning survey.

The Planning Survey is a co-operative project of the state highway department and the federal public roads administration. The motor vehicle allocation analysis was one of a number of studies of road use, road costs and road conditions being made as a guide to future highway planning.

The survey found a larger proportion of trucks and trailers in rural than in urban areas. In rural areas, including incorporated places of 1,000 or less, the ratio was 78.6 per cent passenger cars, 16 per cent trucks, 0.2 per cent busses, and 5.2 per cent trailers, motorcycles and others. In urban areas, places of more than 1,000 population, the ration was 86.1 per cent passenger cars, 11.8 per cent trucks, 0.1 per cent busses and 2.0 per cent trailers, motorcycles and others.

Minnesota Motor Travel More Than Half Business

Motor vehicle travel in Minnesota is more than 55 per cent for business purposes, less than 45 per cent for pleasure, recreation or miscellaneous, according to estimates by the highway planning survey conducted by the state highway department and the federal public roads administration. Nearly half of the passenger car travel is for business, and travel by other vehicles is nearly all for business.

The estimates are based on interviews with nearly 90,000 motor vehicle owners representing all vocations and all sections of the state. Classed as pleasure travel were trips to church, theaters, dances, games, visiting, evening and Sunday rides, week-end, holiday and vacation travel, hunting and fishing; all travel to places of recreation, even though the travel itself may not be classed as pleasure. Business travel includes commercial and professional trips, rides to and from work, to railroad stations, to creameries and markets, shopping, and taking children to school. Travel by tax-exempt vehicles, by vehicles from other states, and by Minnesota vehicles in other states, was not included in the estimates.

BULL AND BUCK STAGE STRANGE BATTLE

Sauk Centre. — Ben Dickhoppe was confronted by a strange sight recently when walking through one of his pastures. A group of docile cows were formed in a circle, and in the middle a bull and an antlered buck deer were staging a dramatic battle. The bull would charge under the buck, tossing it to the ground, and in turn the buck would come back with its antlers lowered for the charge. The battle, which was as strange a sight as one would want to see, is estimated to have lasted at least one hour. None of the contestants was seriously hurt.

RED RIVER VALLEY EDITORIAL GROUP MEETS SATURDAY

Pinehurst Resort on Twin Lakes Scene of Summer Get-Together

More than 30 editors and newspapermen attended the annual meeting of the Red River Valley Editorial association Saturday at Pinehurst resort on Twin Lakes.

The editors were greeted by E. E. Miller of Twin Lakes and an address of welcome was given by John Arnold, president of the Mahnomen Commercial club. Les Nelson of Mahnomen presided.

Speakers included District Judge Oscar Knutson of Warren; Horace Cotton of Red Lake Falls, president of the Minnesota Editorial association; M. M. Oppegard, publisher of the Grand Forks Herald; Lyle George of Hillsboro, president of the North Dakota Press association; Allan McGowan of Minneapolis, secretary of the Minnesota Editorial association, also spoke.

C. W. Mattson and N. A. Holen represented the Times at the meeting.

A REAL FREAK VEGETABLE STORY

Kasson.—Another freak of nature, a vegetable of a freakish variety, was found by Mrs. Frank Cooper as she was busily at work in her garden. From the roots of an apparently normal white radish there grew another full grown red radish. Altho the specimens were altogether different, they evidently used the same root system to obtain nourishment. Yes, mother nature's terra firma has yielded another wonder that can well be referred to Mr. "Believe it or not" Ripley.

SPUDS! SPUDS! AND PLENTY OF THEM

Mountain Lake.—The never to be forgotten Armistice Day storm snowed under a potato field at the A. Friesen farm near Delft. This year the spuds grew into new potatoes, only they did not stick to the rows but were scattered all over the field. One hill was dug up just a short while ago and there was a bumper crop in it, 41 in all. It is little wonder, therefore, that the Friesens display a feeling of pride whenever spuds are used as a topic for discussion.

HORSE IS VICTIM OF HIDDEN TRAP

Atwater — Death beckoned a horse on the Herbert Peterson farm as the animal inherently walked across a hidden well situated on the premises. The weakened covering of the old pit was not strong enough to support the weight of the animal, therefore causing it to fall to its doom. Ordinarily horses were not allowed near this particular spot, but as the animal was recovering from an illness it was allowed to wander at will. Before this incident the whereabouts of the death-trap was not known. Its depth was estimated at forty feet.

RECREATION HIGHLIGHTS

Playground equipment that has been available at East-side park and Northrup school playground during the past six weeks will be moved to Tindolph park. Lack of participation at East-side and Northrup, along with a great increase at Tindolph brought about the decision to move the equipment near the swimming pool. During the heat of the summer participation figures run very high at Tindolph park and pool area, hence a need for additional play-ground equipment. Archery and tennis will still be available at East-side park. All other activities will be resumed at the park at the start of the school year in September. Moving the equipment also means added supervision at Tindolph.

Swimmers' Warning

Life guards are on duty at the pool from 10 o'clock in the morning until 9 o'clock at night. Many swimmers have gone into the water before or after these hours. Persons going swimming when the life guards are not on duty do so at their own risk, and are asked to stay out of the water at that time.

Puppetry and Game Room

A great many children are spend their afternoons working on puppets under the direction of Camille Dostal, puppet supervisor. Several of the group have entered puppets in Pennington Fair competition. Others are invited to take part in the activity. The game room is open daily in the arena along with puppet construction. Anyone wanting to make use of the game room is welcome at all times. Many games are available.

CAR UNSATISFACTORY; OWNER SETS IT AFIRE

Long Prairie—It was only after much despair that Stanley Bauernfeind of Kandota set fire to his month old Plymouth car. The new vehicle, after once being sent to the garage for repairs, continued to operate poorly. About two miles from Sauk Centre Bauernfeind sprayed the interior of the car with gasoline, lit a cigarette, and threw the cigarette and match into the car. After confessing to the police the Kandota man was assured that no matter how great your dislike for your car may be, burning it is not a solution.

HOOK SAME FISH ON TWO LINES

Young America—Emil Schrupp and Paul Gutzke tell a fish story that is indeed one of the best. The two men were fishing in a lake in Ottertail county, and the fish were biting fairly well. Suddenly both felt a tug at their lines and simultaneously began to reel in. When the catch was brought up to the boat it was found that both Emil and Paul had landed the same fish. The victim had swallowed both hooks where were baited with grub-worms.

Checkup on Lighting

Because shorter days mean that most workers have to drive home after sunset, motorists are urged to give special attention to the efficiency of their lighting equipment. Headlights should be checked to comply with the law and tail lights should be inspected to see that they are in working order and are bright enough to be visible at a distance of 500 feet. Motorists should also remember that they are now required by law to use the lower head-light beams when coming within 500 feet of an approaching car.

JUST REGULAR BREAKFAST, EXCEPT ITS COST

Franklin — While at a nearby cafe, William Caven, shoe store proprietor, was not aware of the fact that the meal he was eating would cost $4.70. It seems that Mr. Caven, while in quest for some food, left his shoe store unlocked and unoccupied. When he returned everything had remained the same except for the fact that someone had relieved the cash drawer of $4.70 in change. All in all, Caven figures the meal he ate was a costly one, but will not mind that so much once he is assured that the culprit who took the money is in the hands of the law.

New Wheat Crop Offers Huge Storage Problem, Railroad Men Declare

Governors of 16 principal grain-producing states have been appealed to by the Western Association of Railway Executives to interest themselves in the storage of the 1941 wheat crop.

In a communication to the governors on June 1, C. E. Johnston of Chicago, association chairman, said in part:

"An acute situation is rapidly developing in regard to the 1941 wheat crop. Your serious concern for the welfare of agriculture prompts me to write to you.

"The abnormal carry-over, the rapidly increasing estimates of the crop yield, and the clearly indicated shortage in grain storage capacity, combine to emphasize the need for immediate provision of local storage by wheat producers.

"The railroads have arranged for, and are ready to provide adequate facilities to move the crop, but it cannot be moved unless there is some place to put it at destination. It is a problem of finding facilities for storage, not for transportation."

BURIED SINCE NOVEMBER, HUNGRY HOG EMERGES

Howard Lake—It is to be hoped that this is the story to end all stories. A hog on the Mike Kramer farm, three miles south of Waverly was buried in a straw pile November 11th during the blizzard. On May 20th, the animal found its way out. Perhaps Mr. Hog wanted to be absolutely certain that he would be the title holder for "animal buried longest following the November blizzard." It is doubtful that the porker's record will ever be duplicated and the hog, who is now picking up in weight and seems to be getting along pretty well, may be assured without fear of contradiction that his title will never be questioned.

HONESTY AT ITS BEST REVEALED AT PIPESTONE

Pipestone—A man walked into one of the local newspaper offices and recalled an incident that had happened three years ago. At that time, he said, he was hired by someone in the office to repair an article of furniture, but because he was taken ill was not able to complete the job. The money for the job had been given him in advance, and now he was ready to return the same sum to its owner. However, a stool that needed some mending was produced, and the stranger began the task of making the necessary repairs. Thus, a man whose honesty is one of his outstanding virtues, set aside his tools to finish a job that he started three years ago.

STATE TO IMPROVE 3168 MILES TRUNK ROUTES DURING '41

Big Maintenance Program Is Planned by Hoffman for Current Year

State Highway Commissioner M. J. Hoffmann today announced a maintenance program for the reconditioning, strengthening, and surface improvement of 3,168 miles of Minnesota state trunk highways this summer.

A major portion of the state-wide maintenance improvements, which are entirely separate and distinct from construction projects programmed, are expected to be gotten under way early this month, as a majority of them already have been advertised for bids and a substantial portion of the work is already under maintenance contract. They are estimated to cost about $2,000,000. Additional work will be programmed as the season advances, Commissioner Hoffmann said.

The announced program includes two types of operations: light type, including repair of spring breakup damage, and bituminous retreatment and sealcoating operations to restore and preserve existing surfaces; and the heavier type of work involving the reinforcing and strengthening of road foundations, laying of substantial new gravel and crushed rock surfaces, and the addition of new bituminous surfaces on improved grades and more stable bases.

Mileages at the present time definitely programmed for such improvements, and which will be supplemented by future announcements, are:

Bituminous retreatment of 1,628 miles, estimated to require 209,865 cu. yds. of mineral aggregate and 4,421,425 gallons of bituminous material, at a cost of approximately $783,818.

New bituminous treatment of 127 miles, using 127,291 cu. yds. of mineral aggregate and 1,507,645 gals. of bituminous material, estimated to cost $343,076.

Sealcoating of 581 miles of surfaced roads on high type bases, estimated to require approximately 64,862 cu. yds. of mineral aggregate and 2,143,500 gals. of bituminous material, at a cost of $441,479.

Substantial gravel or crushed rock surfaces on 747 miles, requiring 853,800 cu. yds. of aggregate, the work estimated to cost $402,621.

Resloping and light regraveling 85 miles of existing gravel roads, at $33,602.

CREW FINDS SAFE; BUT WHERE'S THE MONEY?

Chisholm—Thoughts of pirates of long ago and their romantic search for buried treasure entered the minds of workmen digging at the site of the New Great Northern Depot. While digging, they had struck two small safes at a depth of six feet, and waited anxiously the opening of one of them to see what treasure if any, would be contained in them. After considerable difficulty the men managed to pry open one of the safes, and instead of the much hoped for treasure found only worthless papers and documents. Back to work went the men, thinking all the while of the glory that might have been theirs.

3,011,456 lb. Rough Fish Removed from State Lakes

Removal of 3,011,456 pounds of rough fish from Minnesota lakes and streams during the past fiscal year was reported today by the State Game and Fish Division.

Operations were carried on under closely supervised contract netting. L. E. Fiero, Division Director, said the state realized approximately 20 per cent of the gross sale value of the fish. The money will be used for expanding the rough fish control program.

Of the fish taken, [illegible] pounds were sold. The remaining 358,520 pounds were unsaleable or disposed of in agreement with border water states.

Avoid Accidents

One building authority has suggested that on occupying a house, each member of the household should be made familiar with the shut-off valves so that in case of a leak or other accident, damage by escaping water can be reduced.

Uncle Sam is Using the Telephone a Lot Now

The unprecedented speed-up of defense activities and general business have placed heavy demands on the telephone, particularly in the larger cities and over the principal long distance lines.

National defense demands for telephone service are being met promptly and fully but doing this and, at the same time, minimizing the restrictive effect of defense needs upon the service generally, is a tremendous job.

Kid's Komments

Thousands of feet—some idling along—others with the merry skip of youth—some more slowly with the tread of age—all moving in a kaleidoscopic pattern—some stopping so that the owners can chat or look at something—others stopping into some ride to be tossed high in the air—then again others stopping at a game of a chance where the owners are trying their luck. Yes—I am speaking about the many feet that travel the ways of the county fair. Yours and mine have traveled its dusty paths many a year and will do so again.

Pa and Mom and the kids must take one day off from work to go to the fair. Pa is kind of anxious to see if his grain exhibit won first. If it has, he'll feel like a million for some time to come.

Mom is wondering about her preserves and you'll see her wend her way to find out as soon as she gets on the fair grounds.

As for the young folks, the rides are ever new to them and such fun they have. Perhaps Junior and Sister have Four-H exhibits and it's with a great deal of pride they show Mom and Dad the blue ribbons—or if they didn't win, they examine the winners with a greater determination that theirs will carry off the blue ribbons next year.

What a great deal of enjoyment the family get from the grandstand performance. The children are generally practicing acrobatic stunts for several weeks after the fair much to the dismay of Mom who doesn't like to see them hanging by their toes from trees for fear they'll break their necks.

The cattle, horses and poultry are all looked over and commented upon—Dad has a team of horses at home that looks just as nice as the winners—maybe next year?

The children get so interested in the rabbits—Sonny wants one for a pet—vetoed by mother.

As the day draws to a close, its a tired, dusty, yet extremely happy family that drive into the farm yard in time for the evening chores.

Annual Water Carnival Set for Sunday, Aug. 17

Plans for the 1941 Water Carnival, sponsored by the WPA city recreation program are well under way, according to Ferd B. Elstad, city recreation supervisor. The event will be held at Tindolph pool and playground on Sunday, August 17th.

The carnival planned for this year will be larger than the one held last summer. Although several activities will be dropped, others will be added to make the affair bigger and more colorful than last year's event.

Finals in the summer playground activities will be run off as a part of the carnival. Archery for high school girls, horseshoe for men, table tennis for high school boys, and croquet for young boys and girls are activities in which carnival champions will be named.

Competition in swimming and diving, under water swim for distance, and diving for pennies are also scheduled. All those interested in participating in carnival events are urged to practice and sign up with recreation leaders or life-guards at the pool.

Medals, cash awards, and merchandise prizes will be given for all competitive events, replacing the ribbons awarded last year to winners.

Exhibition swimming and diving and a life saving and first aid demonstration by the life-guards are also included in the plans.

Several novelty events will be on schedule during the afternoon. Among them will be a wash tub race, cock fight, candle swim, and canoe tilting.

Motor boat racing including speed boats and row boats will be one of the feature attractions of the carnival. Persons interested in the races, as well as the novelty events are also asked to get in touch with leaders at the pool.

It is hoped a tumbling and twirling exhibition can be added to this year's carnival. Winding up the day's activities will be a band concert featuring community singing in which, it is planned, residents of the East-side will compete with those of the west-side.

Miss Margaret Larson will leave Sunday for Williams, where she will be employed in the office of the Northern Farmer's Grain and Seed Exchange.

4 LOTS NORTH OF AUDITORIUM ARE SOLD PAST WEEK

Minneapolis Company Buys 100-Foot Frontage at Tax Sale

One of the most desirable remaining building sites in the downtown district, the 100-foot frontage on Main av. immediately north from the Auditorium, was acquired late last week by the Lakeland Realty company of Minneapolis.

The property was purchased at forfeited tax sale at the appraised price of $4,500, virtually all of which will accrue to the city of Thief River Falls to apply on unpaid paving assessments extending over the past twenty years.

H. O. Chommie, local attorney who acted for the principals in acquiring title to the property, said any announcement as to plans for improving the property would have to come from the Lakeland Realty company.

It was learned from other sources, however, that it is planned to proceed, as quickly as title to the lots has been perfected, with the construction of a building to be occupied by a food market. It is anticipated that a formal announcement as to plans will be forthcoming during the next few days.

EXTENSION OF 18 MONTHS FOR DRAFTEES SEEN

Congress Acting to Extend Period of Service from Twelve Months

12 MO. EXTENSION FAILS OF APPROVAL

Senate Expected to Pass the Bill Today and Send It to House

The administration scored a victory of unexpectedly overwhelming proportions in the senate Wednesday with the rejection of a hotly argued proposal that any extension of the service period of draftees, national guardsmen, reservists and army enlisted men be limited to 12 months.

The result was that all factions were predicting the approval Thursday of an 18-month limitation offered as a compromise by the military committee, and backed by Senator Barkley of Kentucky, the Democratic floor leader.

The vote against the 12-month restriction, 50 to 21, came as a highly pleasing surprise to administration leaders. They had foreseen a much closer outcome.

Senator Barkley called for a recess until today, when the 18 month idea is expected to be adopted and the bill passed along to the house.

The reasons stated for the attitude of the anti-administration bloc were various. Wheeler said he had always taken the position that he would support a six-month extension but no more.

In addition, some senators opposed to the whole bill were credited with believing that while a 12-month limitation might meet with ready house approval, the 18-month proposal would create a rebellious situation there.

"The secretary of war has authorized me to say", Barkley said, "that it is the unanimous view of the department and the members of the general staff that the reduction to a period of 12 months would place about them such rigid restrictions that they could not operate the army successfully".

NEW RECORD IN ATTENDANCE AT CO. FAIR IS SET

Fortieth Event Comes to a Record-Smashing Climax Saturday Night

GROSS RECEIPTS TOO REACH NEW HIGH MARK

Record Established Despite Canceling of Friday Night Program

A crowd estimated at well in excess of 15,000 persons stormed the fair grounds Saturday evening, bringing to a record-smash climax the fortieth annual Pennington county fair. Ideal weather contributed to the evening's turnout, the main feature of the program being the award of a 1941 model automobile, which was won by Bud Korstad of Highlanding.

Despite the fact that Friday night's grandstand program was canceled as the result of rain that fell early in the evening, fair officials stated that total attendance at the four-day exposition was the largest in history, and that gross receipts correspondingly attained a new all-time high mark.

While final figures on receipts were not available yesterday, fair board members indicated that income from the event should be sufficient to defray all expenses that have been incurred and leave a comfortable working balance with which to start preparations for the 1942 fair.

In addition to the record Saturday night crowd, the grandstand and bleachers were filled virtually to capacity Thursday afternoon and evening, designated as Thief River Falls Day, and again Friday afternoon, when a tractor was awarded to Mrs. Fred Steinhauser.

The entertainment provided each afternoon by Barker Brothers rodeo and circus won general approval from the grandstand audience, as did the "Step Lively" revue and individual acts on the evening programs. The midway attractions won a superior rating for that type of offering, an unusual feature being that not a single complaint was filed with the police by any patron.

A feature that attracted much attention from fairgoers was a wild life display arranged by the Pennington County Sportsmen's club under the supervision of Game Warden William Borchert. Included in the exhibit were a doe with twin fawns, her twelfth and thirteenth; a racoon, foxes, and other animals.

Plans for the 1941 Water Carnival, sponsored by the WPA city recreation program are well under way, according to Ferd B. Elstad, city recreation supervisor. The event will be held at Tindolph pool and playground on Sunday, August 17th.

The carnival planned for this year will be larger than the one held last summer. Although several activities will be dropped, others will be added to make the affair bigger and more colorful than last year's event.

Finals in the summer playground activities will be run off as a part of the carnival. Archery for high school girls, horseshoe for men, table tennis for high school boys, and croquet for young boys and girls are activities in which carnival champions will be named.

Competition in swimming and diving, under water swim for distance, and diving for pennies are also scheduled. All those interested in participating in carnival events are urged to practice and sign up with recreation leaders or life-guards at the pool.

Medals, cash awards, and merchandise prizes will be given for all competitive events, replacing the ribbons awarded last year to winners.

Exhibition swimming and diving and a life saving and first aid demonstration by the life-guards are also included in the plans.

Several novelty events will be on schedule during the afternoon. Among them will be a wash tub race, cock fight, candle swim, and canoe tilting.

Motor boat racing including speed boats and row boats will be one of the feature attractions of the carnival. Persons interested in the races, as well as the novelty events are also asked to get in touch with leaders at the pool.

It is hoped a tumbling and twirling exhibition can be added to this year's carnival. Winding up the day's activities will be a band concert featuring community singing in which, it is planned, residents of the East-side will compete with those of the west-side.

EXTENSION OF 18 MONTHS FOR DRAFTEES SEEN

Senate Expected to Pass the Bill Today and Send It to House

The administration scored a victory of unexpectedly overwhelming proportions in the senate Wednesday with the rejection of a hotly argued proposal that any extension of the service period of draftees, national guardsmen, reservists and army enlisted men be limited to 12 months.

The result was that all factions were predicting the approval Thursday of an 18-month limitation offered as a compromise by the military committee, and backed by Senator Barkley of Kentucky, the Democratic floor leader.

The vote against the 12-month restriction, 50 to 21, came as a highly pleasing surprise to administration leaders. They had foreseen a much closer outcome.

Senator Barkley called for a recess until today, when the 18 month idea is expected to be adopted and the bill passed along to the house.

The reasons stated for the attitude of the anti-administration bloc were various. Wheeler said he had always taken the position that he would support a six-month extension but no more.

In addition, some senators opposed to the whole bill were credited with believing that while a 12-month limitation might meet with ready house approval, the 18-month proposal would create a rebellious situation there.

"The secretary of war has authorized me to say", Barkley said, "that it is the unanimous view of the department and the members of the general staff that the reduction to a period of 12 months would place about them such rigid restrictions that they could not operate the army successfully".

NEW RECORD IN ATTENDANCE AT CO. FAIR IS SET

Fortieth Event Comes to a Record-Smashing Climax Saturday Night

Record Established Despite Canceling of Friday Night Program

A crowd estimated at well in excess of 15,000 persons stormed the fair grounds Saturday evening, bringing to a record-smash climax the fortieth annual Pennington county fair. Ideal weather contributed to the evening's turnout, the main feature of the program being the award of a 1941 model automobile, which was won by Bud Korstad of Highlanding.

Despite the fact that Friday night's grandstand program was canceled as the result of rain that fell early in the evening, fair officials stated that total attendance at the four-day exposition was the largest in history, and that gross receipts correspondingly attained a new all-time high mark.

While final figures on receipts were not available yesterday, fair board members indicated that income from the event should be sufficient to defray all expenses that have been incurred and leave a comfortable working balance with which to start preparations for the 1942 fair.

In addition to the record Saturday night crowd, the grandstand and bleachers were filled virtually to capacity Thursday afternoon and evening, designated as Thief River Falls Day, and again Friday afternoon, when a tractor was awarded to Mrs. Fred Steinhauser.

The entertainment provided each afternoon by Barker Brothers rodeo and circus won general approval from the grandstand audience, as did the "Step Lively" revue and individual acts on the evening programs. The midway attractions won a superior rating for that type of offering, an unusual feature being that not a single complaint was filed with the police by any patron.

A feature that attracted much attention from fairgoers was a wild life display arranged by the Pennington County Sportsmen's club under the supervision of Game Warden William Borchert. Included in the exhibit were a doe with twin fawns, her twelfth and thirteenth; a racoon, foxes, and other animals.

It wouldn't take much of an incident to bring about an explosion in the Pacific. There apparently is to be no more backing away from the Japs. The period of appeasement has ended. Economic war has been declared and from economic war to shooting war is a short step. Cut off from sources of vital supplies, Japan now faces the necessity of making a difficult decision and the decision probably will depend on what happens to Hitler's Russian campaign. If Russia collapses Japan will no doubt become more bloodthirsty than ever. On the other hand, if Hitler does not gain a decisive victory in a short time, the Japs probably will decide that it is to their best interests to remain friendly with Britain and the United States.

Reports from the Russian war front are as conflicting as usual. From the Hitler camp come stories of tremendous German gains and from the headquarters of Stalin we are told that the Russian lines are holding and that the Germans are being driven back with heavy losses. During the past week the Germans seem to have made some progress but considering the fact that they are still pounding away at the same objectives they said were practically in their control four weeks ago we can see little reason for believing the struggle has been a disaster for the Russians. The fight is now nearly two months old and Russian morale, that did not break under the excitement of the first weeks, probably will stand up under a lot of pressure and a lot of adversity from now on. During these precious weeks the Russian crops have ripened and will either be harvested or destroyed. There is a far better chance now than there was six weeks ago that the Russian army will be able to make an orderly retreat if it becomes necessary to withdraw and the possibilities for a long war on this front are steadily improving. Hitler's army may win many victories but until organized Russian resistance is completely broken his Russian campaign will not have been a success.

The extreme heat of the past few weeks has been disagreeable not only in terms of discomfort but in terms of dollar losses as well. Late crops have suffered extensive damage. Reports from the harvest fields indicate that the situation is not too bad, however. Early grains are threshing out to very satisfactory returns. It could have been much worse. Up to the present time our territory has been fortunate in that hail and wind have passed us by.

Recent purchases of sites in the business section justify the hope that construction of two large buildings will be under way in the near future. That's good news over which we will rejoice in greater detail when the proper time comes. The thought that occurs to us now is that in the near future we may have to get along with two less parking lots in the city and that is going to add further to a problem that is already difficult. Better lighting on side streets, already provided for in several blocks, probably will be one of the answers.

It isn't too early to start thinking seriously about the city election that is ahead of us. City government is important to all of us. Time now to either encourage present office holders to carry on or find better men to replace them.

In another three months we can quit worrying about what would happen if two fires should break out in town at the same time. It's going to be nice to know, too, that we will be able to co-operate with other communities in an emergency without leaving ourselves entirely without fire protection. The new engine is going to be very welcome.

Officials guess there were more than fifteen thousand people on the fair grounds Saturday night. At any rate it was a record crowd and facilities were far from adequate to properly take care of the visitors. Now that it is all out and over, the thing to be glad about is that there were no injuries.

A CHAT ON BICYCLE ACCIDENTS

(Detroit Lakes Tribune)

Fifty per cent of the persons killed in bicycle accidents are children between the ages of 5 and 14, Paul W. Kearney, noted safety expert, points out in the current issue of the Rotarian magazine. Over 1,000 youngsters have been killed and over 51,000 injured in such accidents in the last three years, he reports.

The fault is not entirely that of the bicycle rider. The fault is largely lack of stress on what Mr. Kearney calls "The 'three E's'—enforcement, education, and engineering. Few cities and towns, only about 150, have studied the "bike problem" at all, and these have been rewarded by an immediate drop in accidents.

The third "E", engineering, is of necessity slow and expensive, but enforcement and education can be readily put into practice. Requiring registration of bicycles is a helpful practice, but only if it is used to enforce the laws pertaining to bicycles and used to report infractions of the law and commonsense. Many towns that require taillights or reflectors for "bikes" ignore the ordinance and permit bicycle riders to pedal after dark with no sort of light to protect themselves—or to protect the motorist who cannot easily see a dark object against a dark field.

Safety lanes in schools have disclosed that few bicycles are up to mechanical safety standard. The first day of the test lane at Steinmetz high school in Chicago, only three machines passed! Most rejections were for lack of lights or horns.

Several communities have special "bicycle traffic courts," administered by youths themselves with the cooperation of the authorities. Many of these use the police to serve summonses, but the actual trial and admonition is by youth of high-school age. Penalties are usually attendance at a traffic school for riders conducted by the police or safety engineers working with the police.

TOURIST ENCOUNTERS BEAR WHILE ENROUTE HOME

Hallock—A tourist, who was returning west after a visit with his sister, Mrs. Oscar Danielson of Lake Bronson, tells of an incident that happened while enroute home. As they were passing thru the high Rockies, the tourists came upon a large mother bear and her three little cubs. The large animal refusing to move from the road, caused the car to come to a stop. The driver of the vehicle attempted to push aside the animal, only to have it bite deeply into his shoulder. It is usually the big fish that reminds tourists of their stay in Minnesota, but this person will have a tale of woe to relate to his friends when telling of his recently spent vacation days.

PUBLIC OPINION

To the Editor:

I have read with interest your article in last week's issue on U. S. Senator Joseph Ball. In offering this comment on Mr. Ball's Speech at Redwood Falls and your article dealing with it, I want to be entirely fair with the Senator and point out that in the speech he stated, "I have not studied the Townsend Plan as I should, and I intend to study it." In a letter accompanying a copy of the speech, the Senator states, "I still have not reached final conclusions."

Townsendites appreciate both of these statements for they insure us the Senator may still become informed on the plan and following the millions who have actually made a study of the plan, will become a supporter of it. The statements also leave the door open for the Senator to accept the support of the Townsend group at the right time and since we are living in a period when human events move swiftly, when great nations rise and fall within a year who knows but what the mind of even the Senator may change and within the year we find the hand of the noble Senator extended to greet the humble Doctor.

Turning to just a few of the statements in the Senator's speech, he speaks of the, "Townsend Plan or any one of the half dozen other similar pension proposals pending in Congress." Let me inform the Senator as well as yourself, that there are not one half dozen pension plans before Congress at present and that there is not now nor has there ever been a pension plan similar to the Townsend Plan presented to Congress. He states, the Townsendites claim the plan would bring about 100% production. I am wondering what the Senator means by 100% production. The Technocrats claim that we could produce today, sixteen times what is produced under the present system. He speaks of six billion dollars being spent under the pension plan which would make us all poorer, would not increase production and "no stimulus to our economic system." Probably the Senator can tell us what form of magic has jumped the business of this country up from 30% to 50% with in the past year, if it has not been the spending of several billion dollars taken out of the vaults and darkness and put into the light of the channels of trade, in fact put to work. The Senator dangles the same old skeleton you had all wired up for public consumption last winter and tells us the pension money "would not be new purchasing power." No Townsendite claims it would be new purchasing power but we do claim it is purchasing power impounded behind the gates while the water wheels are rusting and fertile lands have died of thirst and become desert places. The Townsend Plan is designed to open the gates and use the power to turn the wheels of industry throughout the land and to bring back life and peace and plenty to the desert places. Put that old skeleton away, bury it once and forever. The Senator turns from the skeleton and builds a giant that will destroy us under the T. P. in the pyramiding of prices up to 300%. Our loaf of bread may cost us thirty cents under the frown of this new giant. I suggest you go back to the files of the Times and reread the story of the loaf of bread.

There are so many unfounded statements in the Senator's speech that I could uncover, I am sure you could not give me the space. He states, he prefers the present S. S. plan which "we know from experience will work." The facts are that nearly fifty per cent of the workers in the southern states and thirty per cent throughout the nation can not possibly come in under the present S. S. old age pension plan for the reason that they do not earn enough in a year to qualify and yet they will have to pay up to three per cent of their meager wage and get nothing in return. This very subject is being investigated by a committee of the U. S. Senate right now. It is too bad our young Senator did not postpone his talk until he could have studied the report of the investigating committee. Every state in the northwest quarter of the nation, the most progressive part of the nation, embracing a population of forty seven million, has memorialized congress requesting the passage of the Townsend Plan.

In closing allow me to extend to you my appreciation of your several articles on the war question. I believe you have expressed very clearly the opinion of a very large majority of the people of this district and this country. The slimy monster that has left behind his every foot print, a river of human blood, paved with the flesh and bones of millions of peace loving people and the destruction of the art and science of centuries must be destroyed.

LOOK BEFORE YOU LEAP, SAYS STATE SECURITIES CHIEF

Public Urged to be on Guard Against Illegal Promotions

Pointing out that many persons, attracted by the picture of easy money painted by slick promoters, fail to take advantage of protective measures provided by the state, Robert L. Smith, Jr., Minnesota Securities commissioner, this week appealed to chambers of commerce, law enforcement agencies and citizens generally to aid in the fight which the state securities division is making to prevent illegal stock sales.

Huge sums have been taken out of many communities over a period of years, Smith says, by fraudulent promotions which could have been prevented. Counting over a few years beginning in 1924, he called to mind 27 illegal promotions in which stock salesmen obtained an estimated $7,862,000. Most of the losses resulting from such transactions can be avoided, Smith says, if prospective purchasers will merely take the trouble to find out whether the promoters have obtained licenses to sell the securities.

"One of the hardest things about this business of protecting investors" he pointed out, "is that the very people whose money we save often resent it. So plausible do the promoters make their story in many cases that many of their customers feel we are engaged in a great conspiracy to keep them from getting rich. They are determined not to let us spoil their dreams of wealth."

Smith's files afford a striking commentary on how gullible people sometimes are. One of the most recent illegal promotions has been the sale surreptitiously of shares in a Mexican mine at 50 cents a share. An investment of $100, the smooth promoters point out, will provide an income of $100 a month for life. If you want an income of $200 a month, all you have to do is to put in $200.

That, you might think, would be hard to sell. Yet many persons bite on it. One business man, clever enough to develop a business that pays him $10,000 a year, was caught on this promotion.

Oil and gold promotions are not infrequent. One group of promoters collected money to put down an oil well in Minnesota. Not finding oil, the promoters went back to the same people and convinced them that gold had been discovered on the property. More money came in. Eventually hopes of the customers for riches from gold began to fade. Just at this point the promoters showed up with the startling report that mercury had been found on the property. More dollars flowed in. More than $100,000 was collected for this venture, investigation developed.

CASS LAKE MAN GOES DOWN BUT NOT OUT

Cass Lake.—That it would take the most severe of punishments to end his life was proven recently by Frank Toombs of Bemidji. Frank, who works at the mill, was hit on the back of the neck by a thousand pound dump box and thrown on his face. The victim was pulled out from under the box, which stopped only four inches from the ground, and was hurriedly rushed to a hospital. It was thought that every bone in his body was broken, but the X-rays showed that not even one bone was messed. Frank's right arm is a bit stiff yet as a result of the encounter, but nevertheless in a short time Frank will be back on the job feeling as good as ever.

DEFENSE SAVINGS BONDS CAMPAIGN WELL UNDER WAY

Volunteer Committees Now at Work in Various Parts of State

The defense savings campaign went into high gear this week as volunteer committees set to work in various parts of the state, linking their work with promotional efforts to encourage investment in government defense bonds.

Committees were completed in Minneapolis, St. Paul, Duluth, Winona, Rochester, Austin and Owatonna, and the organization work was proceeding rapidly in other sections of the state.

"Buy a bond a month," was the plea in many quarters, as the story spread that a bond which will be worth $25.00 in ten years can be bought for $18.75.

Leading business men joined with labor representatives and farm leaders in talking up the program, developing plans for regular purchase of bonds whenever possible.

Individuals and organizations were finding many ways to use defense stamps, giving them as prizes, as tips, distributing them by many means, and using them to save up for the purchase of a bond.

BOYS SEEK RELATIVES, BUT THEY'RE IN WRONG STATE

Dawson—Two youngsters from Minneapolis came to Dawson recently to visit some relatives. Upon inquiring as to the residence of the people, no satisfactory information could be given. The lads thought for a moment, and soon realized that their destination was Dawson, North Dakota. That solved the problem, and the boys were sent back to the Mill City on the next bus to begin their journey all over again.

State Physicians Urge Hygiene as Protection from Late Summer Ills

Late summer and early fall bring special disease hazards which actually affect relatively few people but which strike general terror especially when they happen to be especially prevalent.

Poliomyelitis (infantile paralysis) is one of these disease hazards and encephalitis (sleeping sickness) is another.

Members of the Minnesota State Medical Association's Committee on Public Health Education advise against undue fear of either in their bulletin issued today.

Here are a few facts about them as outlined today by the doctors:

Even in epidemic years, the number of people who are actually paralyzed or permanently disabled by any of these diseases of the nervous system is small in comparison with the number of people who are afflicted by other equally disabling diseases.

Both are caused by a virus which is present in infective material from patients; but little is known about just how this virus is carried from person to person. It may be by healthy carriers, or by insects, or by contaminated food, milk or water, or from infected animals, (in the case of encephalitis) or from all four.

As yet, the only known protection is good general hygiene and the same careful sanitary precautions that should be followed as a protection against all disease.

Important Ingredients for Motorist

The modern motorist can set forth in any direction on this continent and be sure of finding everything good, without wasting time or money looking for these things if he is equipped with the important ingredients.

There is a new guide on the market which consists of road maps for every state in the Union; for every province in Canada, Mexico and for 48 cities that is less bulky than a monthly magazine. This guide also contains a section food and lodging, a list of principal places of interest along each route and a complete index of cities and counties, with population.

Another guide for motorists contains a list of dining places, hotels, auto courts and guest houses. This directory contains descriptions and exact directions for reaching them, with honest and impartial outlines of what each place has to offer. It even tells the type of food and lodging one may expect.

The Deadly Camera

The accuracy of photogrammetry, the science of photographic surveying, is such that it has made aerial reconnaissance very effective in directing parachute landings and artillery fire, according to Paul H. Robbins, instructor in Cooper Union Institute of Technology.

He declares that the flight of the German airplanes over France and Britain last autumn and winter and their flights over the neutral Low Countries were not aimless flights, but were made with the view of making a topographical map of all Holland, Belgium and France, with accuracy to the height of each hill and the depth of each gully without once setting foot in Allied territory.

Train Ticket Problem

Although elaborate systems of ticket checking have been in operation for some time, Indian railways have been unable to cope with the problem of ticketless travelers. The railways claim that nearly 2,500,000 persons annually are caught without any tickets, or with incorrect tickets, and recently the figure shows an increase. The railways lose $1,250,000 yearly because of unpaid fares, they claim.

SO. ST. PAUL LIVESTOCK

(By U. S. Department of Agricultural Economics and Minnesota Department of Agriculture)

South St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 5, 1941: Following the sharp losses enforced in lamb prices during the past week, there was a moderate recovery during the first two days of the week and about half of the loss was recovered. The reaction on slaughter spring lambs figured about 40c. Other slaughter classes have not changed materially. Replacement classes were offered too lightly to accurately test the market. Curtailed receipts proved the tonic in reverting the slaughter lamb price trend, as the dressed lamb trade in the East failed to show any marked improvement. Good and choice western spring lambs sold within a price spread of $11.15 to $11.40 and natives ranged from $10.75 to $11.00. Yearlings at $9.50 had considerable wool credit. Western feeder lambs topped at $10.85.

All slaughter cattle met improved demand and there was a tendency for the market to strengthen. Spots on Good and Choice slaughter steers, as well as on cows and bulls, showed 25c upturns. Choice mixed steers and heifers landed at $12.25 and there were several loads of steers, all representative weights, at $12.00. Bulk Medium to Good steers moved at $10.00 to $11.00. Choice heifers brought $12.00, with most Common and Medium grassers at $7.50 to $9.80. Vealers held steady, bulk Good and Choice kinds cashing at $10.50 to $12.50. A little improvement was noted in demand for stock cattle. Good yearling stock steers reached $10.50.

In the Hog division, barrows and gilts 180 lbs. up and all weights of sows ranged 10 to 15c higher, while light lights and feeder pigs were weak to 25c lower. Tuesday's top was $11.20 paid freely for Good and Choice 180 to 250 lb. weights, with the bulk 170 to 240 lb. offerings moving in a $10.85 to $11.20 spread. Similar graded scaling 240 to 270 lb. cashed at $10.60 to $11.15. Heavier kinds were scarce, ranging downward to $10.00 for weights around 400 lbs. Most 140 to 170 lb. averages made $10.25 to $11.10. Good sows 400 lbs. down [illegible] $9.60 to $10.00 with heavier weights selling downward to $9.25, mostly [illegible] to $9.75. Feeder pigs moved in a $9.00 to $10.50 spread.

RED WING MAN IS NEW CHAMPION IN BEMIDJI TOURNEY

Jimmy Nordine of Local Club in Running Until the Semi-Finals

Charles "Chuck" Betcher, Red Wing golfer, defeated N. R. "Fuzz" Johnson, Bemidji, 3 and 2, Sunday to win the Birchmont International golf tournament played over the Bemidji Country Club course last week-end.

Jimmy Nordine, of the local club, and Birchmont champion in 1939, qualified with a 75, and went to the semi-finals, losing to Betcher 1 up, after a ding-dong struggle. Jim held a 1 up lead with 2 to go, when Betcher made his rally to win the match. "Fuzz" Johnson won his way into the finals by up-setting Minnesota state amateur champion Neil Croonquist, and defeating Keith Bridston of Grand Forks in the semi-finals.

Other local club members who participated in the tournament, in addition to Jim Nordine were Dr. Warren Hanson, who won the 7th flight consolation, Dr. E. S. Amesbury, Floyd Daniels, O. S. Nordine, Dane Nordine and Kern Olson.

T. R. FALLS WHIPS ALVARADO AGAIN BY SCORE OF 8-3

Locals to Engage in Combat on Plummer Diamond Next Sunday

The locals continued their supremacy over the Alvarado team Sunday when they defeated Will Ready's nine, 8 to 3, in a return game played at Alvarado. Next Sunday Thief River Falls will travel to Plummer for one of the season's climactic games.

Jess DuChamp's single and stolen base, and Bill Hallamack's one-base blow into left field gave Thief River Falls a tally in the opening inning of Sunday's game. The locals added two scores in the 3rd inning when Jesse DuChamp again opened the frame with a base hit, stole second, and scored on Stan Cockrell's drive to center. Stan moved to second on the throw to the plate, stole third, and scored on Wally DuChamp's poke into center-field.

Singles by Hallamack and Wally DuChamp, and doubles by Johnny Jaranson and Bob DuChamp, a wild pitch, and two errors, accounted for four Thief River scores in the 5th inning, giving the locals a 7 to 0 lead.

In the 6th inning the locals were made victims of the game's outstanding play when Alvarado completed a triple play. Two singles and a line-drive, and three men were out. Cockrell opened the inning with a sharp single into right-field; Hallamack lifted a short fly to left-field for a single, Stan stopping at second. Johnny Jaranson smashed a line drive over second, but Nystrom came up with a leaping catch for the put-out, then made the throw to first base to double Hallamack, and Vixie pegged the ball to shortstop Eukel covering second base to get Cockrell for the third out.

Pitcher Bill Hallamack missed his second successive shut-out when Alvarado bunched two hits, a single and a double, and two infield errors, to score three runs in the 9th inning.

Lindenmeyer in Army Air Corps

Lieutenant John Lindenmayer, high school athletic coach, arrived in town early Saturday morning, driving from Omaha, Neb., and notified the local school officials that he had been called into the service and that he was to report at once to the Army's air base in Phoenix, Ariz. That settles quite a few rumors about John's military status.

It's strange, though, that Lindenmeyer, who's a first lieutenant, and who's had all his army training as an infantry man, should be transferred to the Air Corps—but such is the case.

Here's New Coach—Harry Newby

The school officials certainly didn't dilly-dally very long in choosing a new athletic coach, for on Tuesday afternoon they signed Harry Newby to a contract.

A brief synopsis of his athletic achievements would read like this:

Played half-back on Vincent Hunt's undefeated Northfield high school teams in 1928 and 1929, and was the leading scorer in '29.

Was named on the all-district and all-regional basketball teams in 1928, when the Northfield team won 3rd place in the state tourney.

Was a high school track star in the 100 and 200 yard dashes, winning the Southern Minnesota and Carleton Invitational meets, and placing second in the dash events in the state meet.

Attended St. Olaf college, and was half-back on the state championship teams of 1930, 1931, and 1932. Was mentioned in Bob Ripley's "Believe It or Not" and John Hix's "Strange As It Seems," for making a touchdown the first time he carried the ball in four consecutive games, his shortest touchdown run being for 35 yards, and the longest run, 91 yards.

Was a basketball letter-man in 1930, 1931, and 1932.

Earned four college letters in track, winning numerous state college sprint events, and is the record-holder in the 100 yard dash, with a time of 9.09. He was given a try-out for the 1932 Olympic team.

Played "pro" football with the Gogebic Panthers of Ironwood, Mich., in 1934, and was named as half-back on the league's all-star team.

Played part of the 1934 season with the Brainerd baseball team in the Northern league.

His coaching record while at Carlton, Minn., a small town of 700 population near Duluth, has been exceptional. His team won the sub-district basketball title in 1935-36, and repeated in 1936-37, and won the 20th district championship in 1937, with his team going to the regional finals that year, losing to Virginia. Carlton has established a record of 32 consecutive victories in its basketball league, a circuit composed of the smaller towns on the Range.

Harry has coached American Legion junior baseball, with his Carlton team winning the Lake Area district title in 1935, 1936, and 1937, and in '37 his team participated in the state tournament, losing by a 2 to 1 score to New Ulm.

He has been manager of the Carlton city baseball team.

Yes, Harry, who's of German-Irish descent, dark-haired and stocky-framed, is quite an athlete, and I think that the boys are going to like him.

Newby will be on hand Aug. 25th when he calls the high school boys for the first football practice.

Should be Quite a Game

Basing my judgment on that epic contest Plummer and Thief River Falls played here several weeks ago I believe that the return game, on the Plummer diamond Sunday, should be quite a struggle. Plummer has had a so-so season this year, having lost four games; but if they should beat Thief River Falls on Sunday I'm sure that they will consider the season a success. There is some question whether manager Krueger will dare to send Lefty Hovanec against Thief River Falls or whether he will gamble on lanky Bob Snyder. The locals certainly straightened out Hovanec's curve-balls the game he hurled here.

A New Batting Leader

Bill Hallamack pounded Alvarado's Will Ready for "4 for 5" to raise his average to a fine .405; and passed Birdean Nornes, who was held hitless in four trips to the plate, and whose average dropped to .350 and second place. Batting in third place, with an average of .333, is Bobby DuChamp, and you should see Bob nurse that average of his!

His Leave Was Cancelled

Had a letter from "Heinie" Waag telling me that his unit was being transferred to Camp Lewis, Wash., for maneuvers, and as a result his ten-day leave had been cancelled.

PLUMMER WINS PITCHERS' DUEL FROM R. L. FALLS

Plummer Piles up 4 Scores in Eighth to Settle Outcome

A four-run outburst in the 8th inning broke up a tight pitcher's duel between Woody Almquist, on the mound for Red Lake Falls, and Plummer's John Hovanec, and gave the Red Sox a 5 to 2 decision over Red Lake Falls Sunday.

Red Lake Falls had picked up a run in the 4th inning, on singles by Kiefenheim and Almquist, a fielder's choice, and an error, to have a 1 to 0 lead going into the 8th inning. Opening the 8th frame Plummer's Schoenauer was hit by pitched ball; Howard Hoflus bunted safely, with Schoenauer going all the way to third base, and Hoflus reaching second. "Brownie" McCrady's double scored Schoenauer and Hoflus with what proved to be the winning runs. Plummer added two more tallies before the inning ended.

The hitting honors for the evenly contested game went to Bob Snyder and Reaume Ste. Marie, of Plummer, and Eddie Kiefenheim, of Red Lake Falls, each of whom had "2 for 4".

RARE FLOWER FOUND AT MEADOW VALE

Elk River—A rare and perfectly formed flower, the "Indian Peace Pipe," was found by Donald Bailey in the woods at Meadow Vale. The flower, one which very few people have ever seen or heard of, is said to be a branch of the mushroom family. It grows with a single stem, and is curved at the top to form an Indian peace pipe. The finding of this flower has not caused much excitement, for the Meadow Vale country has long been known for its rare wild flowers.

FISHERMAN HAS UNIQUE EXPERIENCE AT LAKEFIELD

Lakefield—Merrill Peterson had the experience of not only catching the same fish twice, but also recovering his plug and leader. He was about to land a "beauty" when his leader gave way. As would be most fishermen after such an occurence, Mr. Peterson felt very sad. But he did not feel [illegible] however, as hearing a splash in some nearby willows, he came to investigate and found his bass with the plug in its mouth hooked in the willows. It seems that you just can't keep a good fisherman down.

DOG COMES TO TOWN RIDING ON BOX CAR

Marshall—A new species of bum came riding into Marshall atop a box car, it wasn't the usual man transient that rode this car, but rather a plain shepherd dog. A man that recognized the animal said that it rides on box cars from town to town as do many humans. At the sound of a freight whistle the dog makes for the train, watches for an empty car, takes a flying leap, and is soon on his way. Many hoboes have tried to keep the dog with them, but to no avail. As to this dog, the call of the [illegible] road is stronger than [illegible] human companionship.

56 LOSE LIVES IN TRAFFIC IN STATE IN MONTH OF JULY

Toll Is One-Third Higher than Total Recorded in July, 1940

Traffic death struck with unusual ferocity among the ranks of Minnesota motorists during July just past.

Fifty-six fatalities, an increase of exactly 33 1-3% over the 42 recorded in the same month of 1940, have already been reported to the state highway department. And the month's toll almost certainly will be still further increased as other victims, now maimed and fighting for life in hospital beds, succumb to their injuries.

Only six of the reported deaths were pedestrians. But motor vehicle drivers and their helpless passengers wrote in red with their own blood an accident record which was as grim as the pedestrian record was encouraging.

The wave of slaughter started with 11 killed over the July 4th holiday week-end, and, as if carried on by its own momentum, recklessly swept the highways of the state, leaving misery and sorrow in its wake.

The 56 July fatalities resulted from only 42 traffic accidents, six of which caused multiple deaths. Fifty-four drivers were involved, and 30 of these, or more than 55%, were in violation of the traffic laws at the time the accidents occurred. Of the six pedestrians killed, four were violating traffic regulations.

Speed too great for conditions and riding the center-line or trying to pass without a clear sight-distance ahead were the principal causes of motor vehicle disasters. Fourteen of the 42 fatal crashes were headon or sideswipe collisions between two or more motor vehicles. Sixteen of them were non-collision accidents, generally due to the driver of the car running off the road.

State Farm Security Advisory Committee Announced by Flaten

Selection of the 1941-42 state Farm Security advisory committee, which includes three new members, was announced today by Milo G. Flaten, St. Paul, state director of the Farm Security Administration.

New members, appointed for three years each, are the Right Rev. John H. Peschges of Crookston, bishop of the northwestern Minnesota Catholic diocese; Harvey Richardson of Morris, prominent Stevens County farmer; and Irving J. Clinton of Litchfield, formerly president of the state Guernsey breeders association and now president of the state federation of REA co-operatives.

They succeed Victor E. Lawson, Willmar newspaper editor; M. W. Thatcher, St. Paul, general manager of the Farmers' Union Grain Terminal Association, and the late Frank Murphy, attorney and farm owner of Wheaton.

Other committee members are Paul E. Miller, St. Paul, state extension service director; Carl F. Steel, Conger, state AAA committeeman; Roy Cummings, Beaver Creek; William Friedrechs, Foxhome; John Perry, Crookston; and William F. Haenke, Gilbert.

State Parks Draw Big Attendance in July

Attendance at state parks hit a new high in Minnesota history last week. Conservation department records show that the beaches, golf courses, picnic, camping and boating facilities were taxed to capacity. Visitors by the thousands found surcease from heat in the cool shade of state parks throughout the state. As a rule July 4 is the high point in park attendance. This past week doubled that figure in all parks in the state.

NAG CHEATS DEATH IN 75 FOOT PLUNGE

Red Wing.—A horse belonging to Victor Anderson was grazing along the edge of a nearby bluff, and although generally considered a sure-footed animal, the ground was made too wet by a recent rain, and Old Dobbin began to slip and fall. Down he went sliding on a sharp incline for about 10 feet, and then falling to a small ledge 20 feet below from which he bounded, and then tumbled the remaining 45 feet in a sheer plunge. Dr. C. A. Knorth, veterinarian who attended the animal, stated that a similar accident probably wouldn't happen again in a thousand years without resulting in certain death for the victim.

Pedestrian

A pedestrian is a man who has two cars, a wife and a daughter.

GOOD REASON

The conductor was exasperated. For the twentieth time the old lady had asked: "How soon do we get to Jonesville?"

"Now don't worry any more," the conductor said. "Just stay in your seat and I'll come for you when we get to Jonesville."

But, what with various other passengers to help off and orders to get, the conductor forgot the old lady and the train was a half-mile beyond Jonesville when he remembered her. Quickly he pulled the emergency cord and had the train backed up to the Jonesville station. Then, in his sweetest tones, he approached the old lady.

"Here we are, madame. This is Jonesville. Can I help you with your valise?"

"Oh, no," said the old lady. "I'm not getting off here. It was just that my daughter told me that by the time we got to Jonesville, it would be time to take another pill."

INFALLIBLE SIGN

FINDS RATTLESNAKE ON SHOCK OF CORN

Olivia. — Many unusual things have occurred near Olivia in recent years, but the story that follows tops them all. Fred Willis, a hired man on the John Tersteeg farm, was shocking in the field when he heard a familiar sound. Cautiously he made for the source of the noise, and as he expected, there coiled on a shock of corn was a four foot timber type rattlesnake. Using a shock as a shield, Willis successfully warded off the "strike," and then proceeded to make the kill. It is fortunate that the snake was discovered by Mr. Willis, rather than by some of the other people who might not have known how to handle the situation quite as well.

SEED DEALERS ARE AFFECTED BY NEW TAG REGULATIONS

New Law Enacted by State Legislature Went into Effect Aug. 1

Retail seed dealers are directly affected by a new seed act which was passed by the state legislature and which went into effect August 1. The act requires retail dealers to purchase from the state department of agriculture, dairy and food, tags which must be attached to containers of seed offered for sale. The tags are available under a sliding scale of costs ranging from 1 cent for containers of less than 15 pounds to 5 cents for sacks 100 to 150 pounds.

The proceeds will be used to defray the cost of a system of statewide checking to insure enforcement of pure seed laws.

C. P. Bull, director of the division of seed and weed control, points out that the new law applies to all agricultural seeds sold in this state except cereals such as wheat, oats, barley, spelts, and buckwheat.

He says further that tags are to be purchased in four classifications:

1. Yellow tags for seeds of alfalfa, sweet clover, red clover, alsike clover, white clover, lespedeza and other legume seeds of similar size; also, timothy, bromus, rye grass, orchard grass, reed canary grass, blue grasses, fescues, red top, rape, bent grass, and wheat grass.

2. Green tags are flax, millets, proso, sorghum, kaffir corn, milo maize, mangold, hemp, sudan grass, and vetches.

3. Brown tags for field and canning peas, navy and white beans, and sunflowers.

4. White tags for any and all mixtures of seeds in the foregoing groups when mixed in the proportion of 5 per cent or more by weight.

Dealers are urged by Mr. Bull to order a supply of tags at once from the state department so that seeds can be properly labeled.

Registrations for New Brighton Job Made Thru Employment Office Here

All registrations for construction work jobs on the $30,000,000 Twin City ordnance plant at New Brighton, must be made, until further notice, at the nearest local employment office of the Minnesota Division of Employment and Security, it was announced in St. Paul this week by Colonel Joe S. Underwood, constructing quartermaster in charge of this huge new national defense project.

Work seekers, therefore, should make application at the division's local office that is nearest their residence. In this locality, the office is located in the Citizen's bank block in this city.

Applicants for such jobs are urged to save the expense and time many have incurred in coming to the Twin Cities, and it was further emphasized that no applications for this work are being accepted either by the constructing quartermaster or by Foley Bros., Inc., of St. Paul, constructing contractors.

Conservationists are Now Conducting Survey of Upland Game Birds

Game wardens, field technicians and sportsmen cooperators took to the field this week on a statewide roadside census that will determine the hunting season recommendations this fall. Department of conservation officials announced they expect to have the season data ready for release August 21.

While reports have indicated a good season is in prospect for pheasants, department technicians have withheld judgment until the nesting season had advanced. The roadside censuses will be conducted the first two weeks of August.

Also scheduled for surveys are the populations of Hungarian partridge, pinnated grouse or prairie chickens, sharptailed grouse and quail. The department bureau of research will have its season recommendations ready by August 15.

$1 PCA CHECK SELLS FOR $80

Eighty dollars—this is the price paid for a $1.00 check representing the 2-billionth dollar loaned by farmers' cooperative production credit associations when auctioned off at a special observance attended by farmers from all parts of the country held at Newton, Iowa. The proceeds went to the USO.

SMILEY

The Smiley Community club's meeting will be held Friday, Aug. 29 at the hall. The program committee is O. N. Olsons, Fred Luhes, and the Elias Angells. The lunch committee will be the L. O. Stenseth's, Christ Larsons and Will McCrum. Since the club has been unable to have a successful program since early this spring due to the roads and weather, let's hope eagerly that we may have a "rip-snorting" program this month and a dandy attendance. Keep the date in mind, Aug. 29.

Tuesday evening picnickers at the Adam Lendobeja home in the form of a farewell get-together for the Al Gerend's who left the next day for home. Those there to enjoy the feast were Mrs. Peter Lendobeja, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Johnson and sons, Danny, Bobby, and Gary, Julian Lendobeja, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Lendobeja and son Glenn all of these folks are from Kratka; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lendobeja, Delores and Julian Lendobeja, Mrs. Leon Lendobeja and daughter Glennis of Thief River Falls, Mr. and Mrs. Al Gerend and Marcia Gerend of Akron, Ohio, the honor guests, Verl and Junior Ingberg, Mr. and Mrs. Adam Lendobeja and Dolly.

Mrs. O. N. Olson, daughter Clara and son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Olson were among the crowd that attended the Ladies Aid Sunday afternoon at the Soren Knutson home in Numedal.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Beiswenger, Sr., daughter Selma and son Herman, Mr. and Mrs. Bruno Beiswenger and three daughters motored to Mavie Sunday where they attended a large Mission festival of the German Lutheran church.

Smiley was exceptionally well represented at the local county fair last week in Thief River Falls. All agreed it was a nice fair and very interesting, but there is a general disappointment amongst one and all in not winning that beautiful Nash or that slick tractor that were awarded. Some folks get all the luck, says they!

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Aakre and daughter of Lakefield, returned home Friday by car. They had spent a two weeks vacation with Mr. Aakre's mother, Mrs. E. Aakre and his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Markus. Monday the Peterson's and Mrs. Weckwerth went shopping and looking around in the city of St. Paul. In Minneapolis they were guests of another sister of Mrs. Peterson, Mrs. Oscar Young and her family. The party returned on Tuesday perfectly refreshed, for what doesn't refresh a farmer more than a good trip away from the farm.

Another swell trip in the opposite direction was taken the same week end by a nice family party composed of Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Allen, their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Korupp and daughters Irene and Helen of Thief River Falls. This party was supposed to have gone to the Bad Lands and Miles City, Mont., but they refrained from travelling out that way as the weather reports predicted intense heat waves so they decided to go to the North country where the lovely breezes blow. When they reached Baudette, they crossed the Rainy River and motored north until they came to Nestor Falls where they spent the evening at Arrowhead Point at one of Bob Booren's cottages. From there they took the Kenora highway and journeyed to Winnipeg, where they spent Saturday and Sunday nights. Monday they came home along Highway 44 following the Red River of the North. They were a very tired outfit when home they came.

Travellers, too, the same week end to Winnipeg were Mr. and Mrs. Marion Cater and daughter Janice, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Cater of St. Cloud. The two Messers Cater are brothers. Dorothy and Eunice Peterson stayed at the Cater home and took care of the house and baby boy, Glenn Cater while Harry Holmes tended to the chores.

On the way home they were going to make a short stay in the cities at the home of Mrs. Gerend's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lendobeja, and their daughters, Mrs. Ernest Lindcrantz and her husband. Then on to Green Bay, Wisc., the Gerends were to make another short stay at the home of Mr. Gerend's mother who is convalescing from a recent major operation.

Pea Canners

A sort of a co-operative idea was experimented with in the caring and canning of peas this summer. Canning for home use only and with the defense idea in mind too, was what inspired the O. N. Olson's, the Mark Olson's and Jim McCrums with just the womenfolk on the job. Everything was divided co-operatively. One family bought all the pea seed. Three pounds was used in the patch which made three one hundred foot rows. The seeding was done by another woman and the weeding and cultivating by another. All the women worked together in the picking, the shelling and the canning with two pressure cookers going full blast on each canning session which was three half days only. One row of peas was the American Wonder which showed the most productive results, the second row was the Potlatch and the third row was the Telephone. The latter two rows were very large peas but the productiveness was not so great. Out of this patch, the women canned one hundred and forty-eight pints. It was fun to work together, not to mention the enjoyment of sitting in the shade shelling peas and chatting. Then a picnic lunch when canning is done. The women say the idea worked swell and will be repeated again next summer on a larger scale.

Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Allen were at the Wendell Corbet home in St. Hilaire Sunday to help Mrs. Corbet celebrate her birthday.

The council approved the reappointment by Mayor W. W. Prichard to the library board of three members whose terms expire at this time. They are Mrs. J. O. Yotter, Mrs. N. A. Holen and Anton Hall. Also approved was the appointment on a temporary basis as police chief of L. W. Knadle, veteran member of the local police force.

TO GIVE CANNING DEMONSTRATION IN COUNTY, AUG. 16

One at Goodridge in Morning and in This City in Afternoon

Two demonstrations on the use of the pressure cooker in connection with the home management canning project in Pennington County will be given on Saturday, August 16 according to an announcement made this week by Miss Margaret Gunelson and County Agent Ernest A. Palmer.

The first demonstration will be given on Saturday morning at 9 A. M. in the high school gymnasium at Goodridge and the second will be given at Thief River Falls in the Civic and Commerce Rooms starting at 2:00 P. M. The public is cordially invited to attend these demonstrations.

Mrs. S. E. Hunt, county home and community chairman, Miss Gunelson and Mr. Palmer will be in charge.

Home canning of fruits and vegetables is being stressed this year because of the national defense program. It is expected that the price of canned goods probably will be increasing slightly and it is to the advantage of everyone to do as much home canning as possible. The use of the pressure cooker in preference to the hot water bath method of canning is gaining prominence because of the time saving with the pressure cooker, economy in operation, and safety in the canned product for home use.

DOZEN CASES OF ENCEPHALITIS REPORTED HERE

Illness Reported to be in Mild Form in Majority of Cases

A check-up of local physicians Wednesday revealed that approximately a dozen residents of this community have received treatment during the past week for encephalitis or sleeping sickness, most of the patients suffering from a mild form of the disease, with no deaths resulting to date. Several persons suspected of being affected with the ailment are reported to have recovered fully after only a short indisposition. Press reports reveal that in the state of North Dakota, where the disease has been most prevalent, an estimated 400 persons have contracted sleeping sickness, death resulting in 46 cases.

Three new deaths in Minnesota since last reports yesterday boosted the state fatality score to 34.

According to Dr. Orianna McDaniel, head of the Minnesota division of preventable diseases, cases and suspected cases are now close to the 400 mark with every indication of going higher.

Cases and suspected cases have now been officially reported in 72 of Minnesota's 87 counties.

The sudden boom in reported cases may be the result of "epidemic panic" on the part of people living in stricken areas, Dr. McDaniel said.

Mr. and Mrs. Ward Thompson of Nett Lake left Thursday after visiting the past two weeks at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Thompson. They left for Koykuk, Alaska where Mr. Thompson will assume a civil service teaching position.

Local Man Drove Truck on Famed Burma Road

Impelled by a love for high adventure, Tom Blanchard, 27, who arrived this week at the home of his mother, Mrs. Claude Evenson, has the rare distinction of having served the Chinese government the past three years in the perilous occupation of truck driver on the famous bomb-wracked Burma road, along which route the major portion of imported supplies are obtained by the Chinese people in Chungking, the national capital, and other cities.

Embarking as a deckhand on a ship on the west coast, Blanchard arrived at Rangoon, Burma, in June, 1938, and left the crew there, going on to Mandalay, where with several other Americans he signed up with the Chinese government for employment as a truck driver and mechanic.

Operating out of Lashio, an army settlement on the China-Burma border, he drove an unlighted truck at night transporting ammunition, food supplies and other commodities brought in from Russia, the United States and elsewhere to supply the Chinese armies and civilian population.

Altho the Burma road was frequently bombed, Blanchard said delays in transporting goods were usually brief, owing to the fact that thousands of Chinese laborers immediately repaired the damage by hand labor. More difficult to repair, he said, was damage to bridges caused by Japanese bombers and saboteurs. He added that he witnessed the worst devastation caused by bombs in the city of Hankow, repeatedly attacked by the Japanese, and also at Chungking.

Following the completion of his third year of service, Blanchard arrived on the West Coast early in June, remaining there until the past week, when he returned to Thief River Falls, he said, "to settle down." He said he was not permitted to divulge the means by which he made the return trip to the United States.

Previously to going to China, he had traveled widely throut this country, as well as Canada, Mexico and the Panama canal zone.

Short talks were given by Walter Aubol, Mrs. Peter Nelson, Mrs. Emil Sigerud of Goodridge and Rev. J. O. Jacobsen of this city. Rev. E. L. Tungseth spoke briefly in the evening and presented a purse of money from another group.

Present for the happy occasion were all of the nine living children of Mr. and Mrs. Engelstad, in addition to 36 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren. A large number of old friends from distant points also called at the home during the day.

Board of Education Acts to Approve Calendar at Meeting Monday

SCHOOL BUS DRIVERS, JANITORS ARE NAMED

Miss Stapleton Resigns Position after 20 Years of Service

The board of education at its August session Monday evening approved the school calendar for the coming year, calling for the opening of the Thief River Falls schools Tuesday, September 2. The board also appointed janitors and bus drivers, and accepted the resignation of Miss Alice Stapleton, head of the teacher training department for the past twenty years.

The present staff of janitors was reappointed, including Otto Geske, Knox school; Peter Sater, Northrop; Obert Lindland, Minton Hoard, Neary Louse, Albert Poppenhagen and Werner Rasmussen, Lincoln; and Anton Carlson, Washington. Those receiving less than the maximum salary under the schedule now in effect were given wage increases.

Reappointed regular bus drivers were Randall Noper, Gilbert Reiersgaard and Evart Thomas, while Norman L. Johnson was selected from a field of 18 applicants for the position of driver on a newly established route.

No successor has yet been named to Miss Stapleton, who resigned after her long period of service because of ill health. Previous to coming to Thief River Falls, she had taught for seven years in Wisconsin, followed by eight years of service as normal training instructor in other schools in Minnesota.

Supt. Morris Bye informed the board that, in addition to the complete renovation of the school buildings by the janitorial staff during the summer recess, remodeling work in the old Lincoln building authorized at the June meeting has been completed.

Acoustics of four rooms, he stated, has been greatly improved by the installation of acoustic tile on the ceilings. A larger rest room has been provided for the women teachers, the assistant principal will have an excellent office and the teachers a good workroom, and the junior high school students will have an adequate study hall. Fluorescent lighting has been installed in the drawing room.

SODIUM CHLORATE SPREADER IS NOW READY TO BE USED

County Board Buys Equipment for Farm Use in Weed Eradication

The county sodium chlorate spreader for the eradication of noxious weeds is now available for the use of farmers in Pennington county, according to County Agent Ernest A. Palmer. This weed spreader was purchased by the county commissioners because of the prevalence of Creeping Jenny and leafy spurge in several townships. This machine spreads sodium chlorate in a dry form which probably is the most convenient and effective way to eradicate these noxious weeds.

On two fields in Pennington County in which this machine has been used it has been found that chlorate spread at the rate of four pounds per square yard has been sufficient to eradicate all plant growth. The cost per square yard is approximately 40c for the chemical. Land on which this chemical has been applied will be dormant for one to three years depending on the nature of the soil, the rainfall, and the amount of cultivation given.

Anyone wishing to use this weed eradicator is asked to contact the county agent's office.

A CHALLENGE THAT SHOULD BE ANSWERED

Marshal Petain's declaration to the French people, establishing a dictatorship pledged to support the Axis powers in their program of world domination, was not the cheerful appeal of a hopeful leader. Our reaction to his speech was pity rather than condemnation. Obviously he spoke under compulsion. In his outlook there was no enthusiasm. In his acceptance of the new order there was no glorification of the leadership of that new order. Wistfully he expressed the hope that the Amreican public would still respect his people and not consider the action of his government as a "decline of French ideals." It is significant that as he decreed the end of popular government and personal liberties in his own country, he directed an appeal for a sympathetic understanding by Americans. Nothing he could have said under the circumstances would have testified more eloquently to the anguish in his heart, nor could he have directed a more convincing warning to our people that the form of government which he cherish is in grave danger.

Marshal Petain may continue for a short time as the nominal head of the new French government, but the dictator of France will be Admiral Darlan, to whom ideals of popular government are not a serious consideration. Under the rule of Darlan it may be expected that the French government will co-operate to the fullest possible extent with the Axis. And by this co-operation the Axis gains a foothold in the Western Hemisphere.

Under the circumstances our government should lose no time in answering this new challenge. Instead of recognising the government that Hitler has forced upon France, our country should establish relations with the leader of the Free French as the only responsible head of the French people and the Free French should be encouraged, and givn assistance if necessary, to take over the government of all French possessions in the Western Hemisphere. Now is not the time to stand on formalities. We are faced with a fact, not a theory. It is time to quit talking and start acting.

Congratulations to the Minneapolis Star Journal on doing a nice job in handling the letter of hot headed Harold Ickes, the Lord Foulmouth of New Deal aristocracy. Under ordinary circumstances Mr. Ickes should be encouraged to write more "letters to the editor." They are extremely diverting and no doubt would do much to build circulation for any newspaper. At the present time, however, we believe it would be in the best interests of the country as a whole if the President would accept Mr. Ickes' resignation from all of the dozen or more jobs he holds. He has long been a discredit to the administration for which he has too often been the spokesman. Now, in a national emergency, he should be replaced by someone who will encourage harmony rather than discord and who, by the example of moderation, will check the flow of bombastic criticism of the administration, much of which has been inspired by the poison pen of Harold the Hater.

As the eighth week of the Russian war draws to a close Hitler's blitzkrieg seems to be gaining momentum in the Ukraine. Little information is available as to just what is happening but there is general agreement that the Russians are falling back. Both sides agree, too, that the fighting has been fierce and so it may be concluded that both armies have suffered terrific losses. Reports from other sectors of the long battle front also indicate that the Russian armies are being driven back. But the fact that the Russians are falling back does not necessarily mean that the end of resistance is near at hand and until all resistance on the eastern front has been broken Hitler's Russian campaign will not have been a victory. The Soviet defense system is said to extend back to the Ural mountains and the Germans still have hundreds of miles to go before that distance is covered. It is conceivable that Russia will be as difficult to conquer as China has been.

Try as we will, we just can't get excited about the possibility of being forced to get along without silk shirts.

Storms have been running in streaks this year, several neighboring communities having been subjected to repeat performances of bad weather. At Red Lake Falls the other night considerable damage was done by a heavy rain that flooded the basements of many of the homes and stores. We have been fortunate so far but that doesn't mean that we are always going to be favored and when we heard of the flooded basements of Red Lake Falls we decided to put in another plug for more adequate storm sewers in our own village. The time to build storm sewers is before the storm.

St. Hilaire Ball Club to Play Here Next Sunday

The St. Hilaire nine will meet the local ball club on the Fair Grounds diamond next Sunday. It will be the first meeting of the two teams this year, and the natural rivalry between the clubs will be heightened by the fact that a former St. Hilaire player, Bill Hallamack, will be on the mound for the locals. Last Sunday's rain washed away the game which was scheduled to have been played at Plummer.

A program for the Midwest Shrine council meeting August 22 and 23 in Winnipeg, which will be attended by a large delegation of Kem Temple members from Grand Forks and other communities was announced Saturday by John E. Howard, Kem potentate.

Receptions, sightseeing, parades and entertainment are scheduled for the two-day session. Kem Temple will send approximately 100 nobles including its divan, patrol, band, drum corps and stage crew.

Pvt. Lewis L. Stenseth of Thief River Falls will leave shortly from Camp Claiborne with the 135th Regiment for war maneuvers in the Lake Charles area of Louisiana. Private Stenseth will be one of more than 500,000 soldiers participating in the war games. These maneuvers — the most extensive in the nation's history—will cover a period of some two months and will extend over a great part of the South. These war games will be the nearest to the real thing to modern warfare that the army can make, leaving as little as possible to the imagination.

Hemmy Doing OK

Hemmy Sahl, corporal in the 20th Infantry serving at Fort Leonard Wood in Missouri, seems to be doing ok in this picture, taken with a Jeep background. His good right arm is feeling fine, he reports. Practicing on hand grenades should be helpful in speeding up Hemmy's delivery.

E. R. Starkweather, deputy director of the division of game and fish and head of law enforcement, said the location of the two week camp will be either Camp Ripley military reservation north of Little Falls or Camp Curry just above Willow River.

With Ole Ness' double and triple in three trips to the plate, leading the attack, the Kiewel's team pounded out a 10 to 4 win over Bridgeman's Thursday night. Two hits, four bases on balls, and two errors, gave the red-shirted Kiewel's five tallies in the 2nd inning. Gordy Kaushagen pitched 4-hit ball, and held Bridgeman's hitless until the 4th inning.

Land O'Lakes, 17; R. L. Falls, 6

A 9-run 1st inning made a rout of the Land O'Lakes vs. Red Lake Falls game Friday night, with the Lakers coming up with a 17 to 6 win. Two doubles, a triple, five singles, two bases on balls, and an error, accounted for the nine runs. Woody Almquist of the Land O'Lakes blasted out the season's longest homerun, a drive into deep left-field. Jim LaFave also clubbed out a homerun for Walt Larson's team, getting his round-tripper with the bases loaded.

Hartz, 3; Kiewel's, 2

The season's best-pitched game was won by Hartz Monday night when they eked out a 3 to 2 win over Kiewel's. The game was a hurling duel between Hartz' Al Ness and Kiewel's Gordy Kaushagen. Each pitcher had hurled 2-hit shut-out ball up to the 6th inning, when Hartz, on singles by Russ Solheim, Jess DuChamp, Bill Hallamack, and a double by John Jarnson, and an error, to rack up three scores. Kiewel's bunched two hits, with a stolen base, an error, and a base on balls, to count two markers in their half of the sixth. Jesse DuChamp did the catching for the Hartz team, and led the Hartz attack with two singles.

Govednik Is Speaker at Rotary Club Luncheon

Roy Oen had charge of the program at the Rotary club luncheon Tuesday noon in the Evelyn hotel, and introduced Frank Govednik, in charge of the local NYA office, who told of the activities of the agency he represents. A short talk also was given by A. M. McLaughlin of McMinnville, Ore., father of A. R. McLaughlin of this city.

Keeping Score

They'll Average 200

That's the claim that Ole Ekeren makes for the five bowlers that he has signed to represent the Pharmacy during the season's bowling schedule. Being pretty well acquainted with the averages of all the bowlers in town I thought that Ole was getting loose with his talk when he put out such a claim. In fact I was just about to make a slow bet with him when Ole gave me the explanation. Here it is: the five bowlers that will make up the Pharmacy squad are Ed and Wally Carlson, Doc Hedemark, Vern Williams, and Frank Kobliska. And here's where that 200 average comes in—Ed weighs 215 pounds, Wally weighs 215 pounds, Vern Williams tips the scales at 205 pounds, Doc Hedemark reaches 210 pounds, and Kob barely weighs 160 pounds; an aggregate of 1005 pounds, or an average of 201. Now if Ole can only persuade the boys to bowl their weight he's going to have quite a team.

And the bowling season isn't so far away. Oscar Cerny opened his Mint alleys a couple of weeks ago, for evening bowling, and in spite of the hot weather the patronage has been fair. Wally DuChamp will open his alleys on Sept. 1st. Wally is busy putting the finishing touches on the two brand-new alleys he has had installed this summer.

It's a Suspicious Circumstance

Hartz was scheduled to play the Land O'Lakes last night, but they postponed the game with the understanding that Hartz was to play a Bemidji team. But this Bemidji team cancelled the game, or so say the Hartz, and a game between Land O' Lakes vs. Bridgeman's was substituted. It all looks screwy, and Walt Larson who's usually a trusting soul, has become suspicious of these "squeeze" plays that Hartz pulls off. Maybe the Hartz scouts—and they have scouts at all the Land O'Lakes games—told Clarence Offerdahl that Walt Larson's outfit was playing plenty snappy ball and that it would be fine strategy to postpone the Wednesday night game? Maybe the Bemidji team was merely a means of developing the postponement? And why didn't Hartz play the Wednesday game when they learned that the Bemidji team wouldn't be here? Well, they have an answer for that question too, and it's that Al Ness and Offerdahl, the Hartz battery, were pitching for a Bemidji team against a Grand Rapids club.

Hartz and Land O'Lakes will play off that postponed game tomorrow night, and according to Walt the Hartz outfit will wish that they had cooked up a postponement for that game too.

St. Hilaire vs. T. R. Falls

It should be worth the attendance fee to witness Sunday's ball game between St. Hilaire and Thief River. St. Hilaire will have their fast-ball ace, Woody Almquist, on the mound, and he's anxious to hand the locals a defeat. And adding to the rivalry will be the fact that the St. Hilaire team will be facing the slants of their old team-mate when they meet the locals' Bill Hallamack.

Rube Mickelson to Iowa State

Reuben Mickelson, who was out of school last year, being employed in Columbus, Ohio, is planning on returning to Iowa State college at Ames, Iowa, where he will be a sophomore. Rube was a hot shot on the Ames freshman basketball team two years ago, and he will be eligible for the varsity this year.

Gil Mickelson, who was graduated from Ohio State this year, is doing post-graduate work at Rutger's university, where he has an assistantship.

Will Play a Lot of Tackle

It was rumored that Orrin Pederson, the Prowlers rough-house tackle, was going to transfer to International Falls, and that he was to have a part-time job up there while going to school. But it's only a rumor, because Orrin told me that while he had thought of transferring to International Falls, he had changed his mind and decided to stay here. That's good news for the football team, because there won't be any better tackles in this part of the state than Orrin.

Andy Wilson at West Point

Bones Stadum was telling me that he had received a card from Andy Wilson, a guard on the 1939 Prowler football team, and that he, Andy, was at West Point. The usual procedure for entrance into West Point is for a congressman to nominate a candidate, but in Andy's case it was a selection by army officials, for Andy had enlisted at Fort Snelling, and it was through the army channels that he received his appointment. That is quite a compliment for Andy.

MINNESOTA HISTORICAL SOCIETY

60,321 MOTORISTS GUILTY OF DRIVING SINS IN 18 MONTHS

Human Lives Endangered in the Great Majority of Cases

When civic and safety leaders propound the question, "Why are so many people being killed in traffic?", here may be one of the answers:

More than 60,000 motorists have been convicted in the Minnesota courts of moving traffic law violations in the last eighteen months ending June 30.

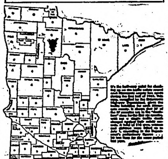
An analysis of arrest and conviction reports from all district, probate, juvenile, municip. and justice courts in the state to the drivers license division of the state highway department showed that more than 58,000 of these convictions were for driving offenses which definitely endangered human lives.

Traffic convictions for moving violations during the year 1940 totaled 44,987 and for the first six months of this year 15,334, or an 18-month total of 60,321. No parking law violations and similar offenses, which do not involve the operation of a vehicle in traffic, are included in this total.

Excessive speed was the greatest single offender with 18,414 convicted during the 18 months. Careless or reckless driving accounted for 5,064 convictions and improper passing for 1,206.

Drunken driving brought about the arrest and conviction, generally with heavy penalties following, of 3,571 motorists, and another 171 were convicted of inebriacy and barred from driving in the future.

TRAFFIC DEATHS BY COUNTIES—FIRST HALF OF 1941



Nearly Six Inches of Rain Fall in Ada Storm

Fields were flooded in the immediate Ada territory Thursday after 5.78 inches of rain fell in the 12 hours prior to 7 A. M. At 10 A. M. rain was again falling. Damage was heavy to merchandise and stocks stored in basements which were flooded. The storm apparently was quite localized, the bulk of the heavy rain falling in Norman county, thinning out from Ada, which is approximately in the center of the county.

FARMER DISPLAYS ODD COLORED CORN

Mapleton—One of the best oddities in the plant world to date is a blue corn taken from the Milton Oachs farm. It was planted from a kernel taken from a blue cob. The kernels of the new corn are blue, and the stalk is a bluish purple. All in all, Mr. Oachs has about twenty hills of the corn.

Minnesota Hospital Service Association Extending Activities

Beginning eight years ago when non-profit, group hospitalization was practically unknown in the United States, the Minnesota Hospital Service Association today occupies a unique place among Minnesota enterprises.

In 1933, there were only 2,397 persons subscribing to the Association's plan for hospital care. Today, in the Twin Cities alone, one out of every three persons is a subscriber.

At the end of its first six-month period of operation, the Association had provided only $1,388.03 of hospital care to its subscribers. Today, Arthur M. Calvin, executive director, reports that hospital care amounting to $800,000.00 was provided to its subscribers during the last six-month period ending June 30th.

"During the eight years that this Blue Cross plan for hospital care has been operating, it has made it possible for the people in Minnesota to receive hospital care totalling over $4,000,000.00," said Mr. Calvin.

Tribute to Tobacco

Charles Kingsley's tribute to tobacco is as follows: "When all things were made, none was made better than tobacco; to be a lone man's companion, a bachelor's friend, a hungry man's food, a sad man's cordial, a wakeful man's sleep and a chilly man's fire. There's no herb like it under the canopy of heaven."

Sharp Rise in Family Living Expenses Seen in Insurance Survey

Fatter and fatter pay checks give the average American family an ever-widening margin of "prosperity money" in spite of the fact that living costs have finally started their long-predicted rise. But because raw materials and wholesale prices have soared far more than retail price tags to date, the average family may see its expenses climb in an accelerating tempo from here on, suggests the current family buying power study by Northwestern National Life Insurance company.

In the past twelve months, prices of farm products have jumped 25 per cent, and wholesale prices of food have increased nearly 20 per cent, but Mrs. Housewife is only paying an average of 8 per cent more for foods at retail, the study notes. If the storekeeper's costs continue to mount, he is naturally going to have to mark his own prices up more in proportion. The rise in food prices began in March of this year and from May to June was the sharpest since September, 1939, when the war started and memories of the price boom of the last World War sent householders scurrying to market to lay in pantryfulls of supplies.

In 1917, third year of the World War, the American family saw its living costs soar 19 per cent in twelve months' time, and 1942 will be the third year of the present war, the study points out. As yet, however, Mr. and Mrs. America have nothing to complain about because their monthly pay check has increased five times as much in the past year as their living costs have.

State Rejects Offer for Assets of St. Paul Bank

An offer to purchase remaining assets of the closed Capitol Trust and Savings bank of St. Paul for $120,000 has been rejected, F. A. Amundson, state commissioner of banks, announced this week. The bid was submitted by A. J. Kaufman of Appleton, business associate of Former Governor Elmer A. Benson, acting for a group, and was the highest of two received. Amundson concluded that the offer was too low. Bids may be taken again after the end of the crop year, he said.

STASSEN SEEKS TO PREVENT CUT IN FLAX TARIFF

Asks Rejection of Proposal to Cut Tariff 25 Cents Per Bushel

Fearful that farmers in Minnesota and other states may lose much of the increased income they have been receiving from flax the last two years, Governor Harold E. Stassen wired officials in Washington this past week asking them to reject a proposal, now under consideration, to reduce the tariff on flax seed 25 cents.

Reduction of the tariff would depress prices for American growers and have especially disastrous effects in Minnesota, the governor said, where flax now is bringing in more than $21,000,000 annually for farmers.

Minnesota farmers had only a little more than 400,000 acres in flax in 1937 and 1938. Income from flax in 1937 was $7,625,000, and in 1938, $6,977,000. Acreage increased 1,223,000 in 1939, with an income of $16,090,000, and in 1940 the number of acres increased to 1,580,000, with income of $21,535,000. Acreage this year is about the same as in 1940.

Orphan Section of 59 Highway to be Surfaced

Minnesota's famed "orphan highway," U. S. 59 in Nobles county, is scheduled for base stabilization and bituminous treatment this fall.

Bids received for Nobles county by Highway Commissioner M. J. Hoffman call for the improvement of the 4.8-mile long highway between the south state line and the Junction of State Trunk Highway No. 60, southwest of Worthington. Judd Brown & Lundin Bros. of Mankato were low bidders with a price of $44,857.

The "orphan" road won its name by virtue of the fact that, although it is part of a federal highway extending from Mexico into Canada, it has never been made a part of the Minnesota state trunk highway system, and therefore has never been eligible to benefit from trunk highway funds. The proposed improvement will therefore be financed jointly by Nobles County and Federal Aid Secondary road funds.

A wonderful chicken dinner was the highlight of a get-together at the Tourist park in Thief River Falls of the Brekke clan Sunday, Aug. 3. A feast it was. Week end tourists to the Lake of the Woods were Clarence Myrom of Thief River Falls, accompanied by Miss Martha Anderson of Smiley, Lloyd Johnson and his fiance of Silverton. They had a fine time fishing and boating.

The busy threshing season started the end of last week with quite a number of rigs in this community going at it "full blast." Oats are exceptionally heavy with barley pretty fair. Several farmers proudly boast, with pleasure, that their oats are running between 40 to 60 bushels to the acre. That's something a fella hasn't been able to boast about in years. The flies are here too in all their sticky glory. No amount of spraying will rid us of those intruding pests for long. Well, it appears to be that autumn is near and who doesn't simply love that happy busy season when the reaping of the harvest is at hand?

Visitors at the O. N. Olson home Thursday evening a week ago were Mrs. John Gran of Thief River Falls and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Ed. Carroll (Cappy Gran) of Chicago, Ill., Mrs. William Saxton (Emily Gran) and Mrs. Al. Jensen (Victoria Gran) of Alexandria, Minn. Helperettes

In spite of that terrible heat Tuesday afternoon the attendance was excellent when the members met at the Robert Kraemer home where Mrs. Agnes Warring was hostess to the club. The members spent the afternoon sewing motifs on dish towels and ate a very lovely lunch prepared by Mrs. Warring. A letter from Mrs. Carl E. Olson, who is visiting in New York City with her brother and his wife, was read. Mrs. Olson, who is a Helperette member, sent greetings to the club. She stated that she was having a wonderful time in New York meeting so many of her old childhood friends. She had recently met a woman who had been in Norway four years ago had talked with Mrs. Olson's mother (who is still in Nazi-controlled Norway) and found it very interesting to hear about things over there in Norway.

The Weckwerth boys had a guest, Don Fretland of Thief River Falls, last week. Boys will be boys when it came to these boys as they played at water battles in the stock tank, they hunted crows until the crows had nervous prostration and the Weckwerth pony is completely worn out. The only thing lost in this "melee" of fun was the stock tank water. But a grand time was had by all concerned.

Callers at the home of Mrs. Harold Hammershoy in Thief River Falls Friday afternoon were Mrs. O. N. Olson, Clara Olson, Mrs. George Ege, Mrs. Mark Olson, Mrs. E. B. Benson, Mrs. John Hanson, Mrs. Jim McCrum, Bruce and Marilyn McCrum, and Wayne Olson.

A happy-go-lucky charivari was played on the newly weds, Mr. and Mrs. Ove Nordahl Thursday evening. They were serenaded at their home out here and then taken "for a ride" to town and around. The gang and the honor guests came back for a feast. Congratulations to Ove and best wishes for the Missus is the wish of Smiley folks.

Mrs. Mark Olson and Miss Clara Olson called at the home of Mrs. Miles Gullingsrud Monday. She is a recent arrival to Thief River Falls being that her husband, Dr. Gullingsrud, is associated with Dr. Lynde now.

Bill Weckwerth left Tuesday for Shelly where he is employed. He had spent the week end with his mother, Mrs. Loretta Weckwerth and also attended the county fair.

The Ted Markus of North spent Wednesday evening with the Jim McCrums.

Mrs. Adam Lendobeja will entertain the Bethania Ladies Aid at her home Thursday, Aug. 21.

Mrs. O. N. Olson entertains the Helperette Club at her home the first Tuesday in September.

We have a deft artist in Smiley. She is Miss Ina Anderson who will soon graduate from her correspondence course with the Federal Art School in Minneapolis. Her ability as an artist is shown in her beautiful paintings and drawings. She won three first prizes and three second prizes with her artistry at the county fair. More power to you, Ina!

WYANDOTTE

The Aid society of the Clearwater Lutheran congregation will meet at the church on Thursday afternoon, Aug. 21, at 2:30. Hostesses are Mrs. Selmer Urdahl and Mrs. James Evenson. The mission box secretary requests that the mission boxes be brought to this meeting.

CRASHES WINDSHIELD; HEN GETS WORST OF DEAL

Red Wing.—Chickens are known to come home to roost, but not by the method a certain barnyard fowl used while defying traffic on a nearby highway. The bird came in contact with the windshield of a car driven by H. C. Hestness of Minneapolis. It kept right on going, crashed through the glass, swished by the driver's ear, swooped between two rear seat passengers and proceeded on its way out through the rear window. Two of the injured occupants of the car were treated by local police.

FINDS TRUE FRIENDSHIP WHILE ILL IN HOSPITAL

Luverne.—Henry Greve, of Kanaranzi, is thoroughly convinced that there is such a thing as true friendship. Mr. Greve was confined to a hospital as a result of a recent accident in which he broke two ribs. Knowing that he would not be allowed to work for some time, a group of neighbors gathered at his farm and shocked all of the small grain which had just been cut. Mr. Greve is very appreciative of the fine deed, and as a result feels much better already.

WARREN MAN ENDS OWN LIFE IN E. G. FORKS JAIL CELL

Maynard Johnson Commits Suicide after Being Arrested

Maynard Johnson, about 30 years old, of Warren, jailed Friday night when he refused to get out of a car belonging to another man, hung himself a few hours later in a cell in the East Grand Forks jail, Assistant Police Chief George Keller said.

Johnson had fastened his belt around his neck, tied the belt to a bar over the cell and stepped off a bench, Keller said. Dr. H. E. Nelson of Crookston, Polk county coroner, ruled the death was suicide and no inquest would be held.

Coming to East Grand Forks Friday with two other men, Johnson was jailed at 6:10 P. M. At 9 P. M. he called Desk Sergeant J. R. Johnson for cigarets and Johnson gave him a package. Evidence showed he smoked one cigaret out of the package before he hung himself. His body was found at 10:10 P. M., when Keller walked by the cell.

Police had planned to release Johnson in the custody of the two Warren men he came here with when the men were ready to return home.

Johnson is survived by his father and other relatives in the Warren vicinity. He had been married, but had separated with his wife.

CASS LAKE WOMAN SCARED BY TARANTULA

Fosston.—Think how Mrs. Glen Johnson felt when recently, after purchasing some bananas, she reached for the fruit only to have a large tarantula crawl upon her hand. Heeding a warning given by her husband, the frightened woman kept perfectly still, long enough to permit the insect to creep off her hand. Realizing what might have happened had the deadly insect bitten her, Mrs. Johnson fainted, but suffered no ill effects as a result of the experience.

Dear friends:
Many people seem to believe a funeral service follows a definite routine.
It may surprise you to know, however, that no two funerals are alike. Each service brings its own requirements in accord with the desires of the family. Then there are the many details to be built around those family requests.
Each service, therefore, carries a special program of its own. Never do our services become routine.
Respectfully,
Carl B. Larson

BRITISH WAR NEWS WRITER GUEST HERE

Correspondent for London Daily Mail Visits Wife's Parents in This City

IS SON-IN-LAW OF MR. AND MRS. T. J. WELSH

Tours America for Report on Progress of Airplane Production

Captain Noel Monks, Australian newspaperman and now a London Daily Mail war correspondent covering an assignment in this country, was the guest speaker at a luncheon given in his honor at the Palm Garden Cafe Monday noon. Captain Monks has completed an 8,000 mile tour of the United States, visiting RAF training centers and large aircraft factories, and stopped here for a short visit with his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Welsh, before returning to England by Clipper.

Drawing upon his own observations and experiences as a correspondent in France at the time of the German invasion and several years of reporting North African disturbances, he spoke interestingly of the European war and its many problems. He expressed great satisfaction with the progress being made in the manufacture of American planes. "America builds the best bombers in the world," he said. "We do not need men but we do need 10,000 flying fortresses."

"The defense plans of the French and British at the start of the war were based on the co-operation of the French army and the British navy," Captain Monks declared. "With the collapse of the French army, the British were confronted with the problem of completely reorganizing their war machine. The inadequate air force that, against terrific odds saved England at that time, has now been strengthened sufficiently to control the air over England and the Channel and will be an important factor in defeating Hitler."

The speaker said England is now well prepared to meet any invasion attempt, remarking that people on the Island rather hope such an attempt will be made, certain that it would be disastrous. In response to a question concerning the probable purpose of the Rudolph Hess visit, he doubted, because of the extreme danger involved, that Hess had made his spectacular flight with the consent of German authorities, and expressed as his own opinion the conclusion that the No. 3 Nazi had fled Germany to save himself.

Besides his work as a war correspondent, Captain Monks has written the book, "Squadrons Up". His wife, also a distinguished correspondent, writing as Mary Welsh, is the London representative of Time and Life, two leading American news magazines.

Major Gust Schilbred, commander of the local Legion Post, presided at the luncheon, other speakers being Dr. A. R. Hulbert, Mayor W. W. Prichard, Charles H. Bowers, district airport engineer of the Civil Aeronautics Administration of St. Paul, and T. J. Welsh who introduced his son-in-law.

Employment Office Will Examine Applicants for Lockheed Jobs Tuesday

Arrangements have now been worked out with the Lockheed Aircraft Corporation and the local office of the Division of Employment and Security, under the direction of C. H. Sjolander, to accept applications and conduct examinations for work in the Lockheed factory at Burbank, California. Examinations will be given in the high school here in Thief River Falls on Tuesday, August 26. Two testing classes will be conducted—one at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and another at 7:30 o'clock in the evening.

All applicants from Red Lake, Pennington, Marshall, Kittson and Roseau counties who were unable to take the test at Crookston, should take these tests at Thief River Falls on August 26. A limited number of applications will be accepted from interested parties who have as yet not filed their formal applications.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Hermanson and Mrs. Andy Williamson attended the funeral of Gilbert Anderson in Greenbush Friday.

DUCK SEASON WILL BE OPENED OCT 1ST FEW RULE CHANGES

Shooting Hours Remain the same, Sunrise to 4:00 o'clock, Same Bag Limit

A 60-day duck hunting season was proclaimed by Secretary of the Interior Ickes Wednesday, starting October 1 in the northern states, October 16 in intermediate states and November 1 in southern states.

In issuing 1941 regulations for hunting migratory game birds, Ickes left unchanged the 60-day season and the 10-a-day bag limit of last year, retained the prohibition against use of bait or live decoys, but added a clause forbidding the taking of water fowl by using cattle, horses or mules as blinds.

As in recent years, hunters must plug repeating and automatic shotguns to a limit of three shells and must not use guns larger than 10-gauge. Hunting with bows and arrows is still permissible. Shooting hours remain the same, sunrise to 4 p. m.

DAIRY PRODUCTS TO FEATURE COUNTY'S STATE FAIR BOOTH

Exhibit Will Tell Story of Our Most Important Farm Crop

Feed crops that make dairying the most important industry in Pennington county, and the many uses of dairy products that make the industry so important to the United States will be the big ideas in the county's state fair booth designed again this year by C. A. Vevea. Mr. Vevea left here last night with the material he has assembled and by Saturday he expects to have the exhibit complete and ready for inspection.

In his exhibit this year Mr. Vevea has used more sheaves of grains and grasses than he has in the past, the display including excellent samples of all the various dairy feeds grown in the county. The importance of dairying to the county is effectively presented by charts and its importance to the nation is illustrated by samples of the many products that are manufactured from milk.

The state fair booth, sponsored by local organizations and the city and county, has received much favorable comment in previous years and Mr. Vevea is hopeful that this year's exhibit will rank high in the placing of awards.

Joan Blondell in "Topper Returns" Is Falls Feature Picture Starting Sunday

It's practically an unwritten law in Hollywood that every mystery film have at least one hair-raising scream. The idea seems to be that if the creepy business in the picture doesn't curl the theatre patrons' hair, the scream will.

As a result of this unwritten law the Hal Roach Studio has produced a mystery-comedy titled "Topper Returns". Just to make the picture more spine-chilling, they added a few of these shrieks as an extra dose for good measure. Thief River Falls theatre goers will have a chance to judge if the Hal Roach Studio was right in their idea of "this mystery business". The feature, "Topper Returns" plays at the Falls Theatre this Saturday midnight, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. The cast is headed with glamourous Joan Blondell.

An exciting picture of adventure entitled "Man Hunt" is playing at the Avalon Theatre this Sunday and Monday. This picture brings to the screen a new kind of screen-thrill. The climax is unusual and will long be remembered by those who see it.

AIRPORT SITES INSPECTED BY DIST. ENGINEER

Civil Aeronautics Official Outlines Program for Development

LOCAL CLUBS WILL SEEK QUICK ACTION

Purchase of Quarter Section of Land Recommended—Plan for Expansion

Members of the joint airport committee of the Civic & Commerce Association and the Junior Chamber of Commerce, and representatives of the City Council, met Monday morning with Charles R. Bowers, district airport engineer of the Civil Aeronautics Administration, who outlined to them the procedure for securing a government grant for local airport development and suggested important factors to be considered in the selection of a site. Several possible sites were viewed by the group and Mr. Bowers expressed the opinion that it would not be difficult in this community to find a field that would meet essential requirements.

For the Thief River Falls community he suggested that an airport should not be less than a quarter section in size and should be so located that as future needs would justify it, one runway a mile long could be constructed. Other considerations were drainage, soil conditions and accessibility, recommending a distance from the city that would allow for reasonable development of the residence district.

Airports are favored government projects at the present time he said, and will be placed at the top of the list in the make-work program that is being prepared to take up the slack in employment that will follow the emergency. Private and commercial aviation will be greatly extended and it is reasonable to expect that communities as large as ours will have regular air service in the development that will follow the war.

Mr. Bowers, whose headquarters is at St. Paul, is engineer of a district covering Wisconsin, Minnesota and North Dakota. Meeting with him were Senator E. L. Tungseth, Emil Griebstein, Harry Kinghorn, Robert Lund, Frank Rinkel, Cliff Bjorkman, Ralph Luman, George Rockstad, Frank Govednik and W. E. Dahlquist. Airport committee members and councilmen will meet shortly to consider further action.

GIRL SCOUT NOTES

(Crowded out last week)

The following, which is an outline of a Girl Scout's typical day, may be of interest to those parents whose daughters have attended or are now attending Camp Agassiz at Pike Bay on Cass Lake. The schedule is, of course, tentative, and is changed according to weather conditions, etc. The girls arise at 7, breakfast at 7:30 after which they do their own dishes. From 9 to 9:30 they do their cleaning duties around camp, inside the lodge and on the grounds. These duties are called camp capers. From 9:30 until 11:30 the girls have their choice of doing handicraft or taking swimming lessons. The scouts are divided into non-swimmers and swimmers—advanced and intermediate groups. Dinner is served at 12:30 and at 1 o'clock the girls again do dishes. Rest hour is from 2 to 3, and from 3 to 6 the girls have their choice of handicraft, swimming, or boating. At 6 o'clock supper is served and after the dishes are done the time from 6:30 to 7:30 is spent boating. From 8 until taps are sounded at 9 the girls enjoy a campfire.

Some fifty Girl Scouts from Thief River Falls attended the camp last week, during which they carried out the following schedule: Monday: woodcraft day. Girls make wash basin stands, towel racks, tables, etc. Tuesday: handicraft work begins. The Girl Scouts learn to make bracelets, crosses, wooden beach shoes, book ends, pins, shell necklaces, knapsacks, oilcloth seats, belts, and cork mats. A big campfire is held Tuesday evening. Wednesday: girls follow schedule of a typical day given above. Thursday: visitors day. Big campfire. Pioneer unit leave on overnight hike, returning Saturday afternoon. Friday: Campcraft unit leaves on "overnight" until Saturday afternoon. Saturday night: big campfire. Costume party in the form of an old fashioned country gathering. Each unit prepares something, such as a skit, songs, or recitation, for the program. Each girl, including staff members, comes "dressed up" to this event. Sunday: A program of a serious nature, but not religious, is given.

Miss Olive Crocker, camp advisor and inspector for the Hiawatha region, spent Thursday and Friday in camp. On Friday and Saturday, Miss Beulah Gregoire, waterfront director, gave Red Cross swimming tests. On Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday the canteen was open, but no girl was allowed to buy more than 1c worth of candy. Camp Craft girls from here who went on the overnight hike were Shirley Simonson, Lois Lund, Donna May Twete, Lou Anderson, Arline Louse, Sylvia Borchert, Marion Wiager, Marie Trevland, and Camille Naverud.

Pioneer Girls going on the overnight hike were Joan Lynde, Katheryn Sagmoen, Arlene Clausen, Carol Wells, Betty Jacobson, Agnes Benson, Patty Barge, Joyce Ferguson and Sally Hanson. All of these girls are working for the Pioneer Badge, and are more advanced than the Camp Craft group. On their overnight hike they learn how to make tables and other articles out of wood, they planned and made three meals, and they slept out-of-doors.

This week another large group of Girl Scouts from Thief River Falls and the surrounding region are attending Camp Agassiz, and will return next Sunday.

Noel Monks, Australian newspaperman who now is a British war correspondent, told a local audience that the average age of RAF fliers is 23 years. Pilots of fighting planes range from 18 to 23 and bomber pilots from 23 to 30. Maybe the time to start training our fighting men, if our army is going to be made up of fighting men, is when they graduate from football.

President Roosevelt says the country is not aware of the seriousness of the situation and to that we agree. He also says that we must begin to realize that we will have to make some sacrifices, to which we shout our "amen." But in the kindliest spirit may we suggest that Mr. Roosevelt is himself responsible for much of the country's flabby thinking of which he now complains. He himself has not been particularly realistic in his public statements. On several occasions the public has been told that our war effort would not interfere with our national progress nor would it effect the standard of living of our people. In many things he has not been strictly honest with the people who have looked to him for leadership. It is not yet too late to correct past mistakes and good Americans will gladly adjust themselves to the needs of an emergency. Mr. Roosevelt can do much to bring about this national adjustment quickly by a few simple adjustments in his own approach to national and international problems. Straight talk from our leaders will encourage straight thinking among the people.

We are told that there is dissatisfaction among men in the army and it would be strange indeed if that were not true. What a pitiful thing it would be if the hundreds of thousands of men who have been inducted into the service should be satisfied with life in an army camp, particularly so at a time when every letter from home and every newspaper and every radio broadcast tells them that their civilian cousins are making oodles of bucks working on projects that are supported by the same government that allows them a dollar a day. With few exceptions the men in the service are good citizens. They have demonstrated their willingness to do their bit. But they are human and it isn't unreasonable to believe that they occasionally wonder if the fellows whose numbers didn't come up are doing their part. The government can do much to correct this situation by cracking down on the civilian grabbers. Possibly we have degenerated as a nation to such an extent that that cannot be done. Maybe the American people are no longer willing to make a sacrifice for the ideals of government the orators shout so lustily about. History tells the old story over and over again of great nations that have gone soft and become the easy prey of younger or revitalized tribes and it may be that as a nation our sun is setting. A few centuries of slavery may be ahead of us. But if that's the answer let's find out about it now. A year or two more or less isn't going to make much difference.

Getting back to cheerful things, next week will be the tenth week of the Russian war, Hitler's No. 1 headache. Each day that this war continues improves the chances of self-government being restored to the small Democracies of Europe—Norway, Denmark, Holland, Belgium, Greece and the other little countries of Europe whose only crime was being small. Adversity—and war certainly is adversity—makes strange bedfellows. Who would have thought that we could ever become agreeable room mates with Joe Stalin.

A FEW TRUISMS

(Olivia Times)

You cannot bring about prosperity by discouraging thrift.

You cannot strengthen the weak by weakening the strong.

You cannot help small men by tearing down big men.

You cannot lift the wage earner up by pulling the wage payer down.

You cannot keep out of debt by spending more than your income.

You cannot establish sound social security on borrowed money.

You cannot build character and courage by taking away men's initiative and independence.

AN ARMY ON MERIT

(Christian Science Monitor)

One of the best moves that has ever been made by the United States army is the introduction of promotion for officers on merit rather than seniority. It is true that the innovation is being made by gradual measures; that is all the better, for a sudden upheaval would not be helpful in the midst of a crisis. Methods of selection have to be worked out and tested, and the benefits of experience are not to be disregarded. But the announcement that quicker procedure is being asked of congress for dismissing unfit officers and that advancement is to be based on the record of performance will give encouragement to many young soldiers who are eager to serve their country well. It should afford parents greater confidence that their boys will be ably led in training or, if necessary, in battle. It helps to justify the action of the senate Friday in passing, with a minimum of discussion, the largest single appropriation bill in the history of congress—$10,284,821,624 for the army.

WHERE THE BLAME BELONGS

(Northfield News)

In a recent editorial, the New York Times placed the blame for any power shortage that may exist squarely where it belongs—on the government itself. "In many ways—thru tax policies, rate policies, Federally-financed and subsidized competition, the policies of the Securities and Exchange Commission—the Administration has discouraged private investment in the expansion of the electric power facilities of public utilities," says the Times. "The 'death sentence' law applying to public utility companies was drawn not in a judicial and constructive, but in a punitive and vindictive spirit. The inevitable effect was to undermine the confidence both of public utility managements and of investors and to lead to a drying up in the flow of capital into private utilities."

The figures tell the grim story. In the five years from 1921 to 1925, the private utilities spent an average of $650,000,000 a year for over-all construction purposes. In the seven years from 1926 to 1932, they spent an average of $711,000,000 a year. But in the years from 1933 to 1939, inclusive—which cover the period when they were subjected to the most vicious political and legislative attack—their expenditures dropped to an average of $508,000,000 a year.

The problem now is how to get more power in certain areas. And the only workable solution to that problem is full government co-operation with the private utility industry. The industry is ready to embark on a vast expansion program. It is ready to pool its output with that of the government hydro plants to attain maximum efficiency in distribution. It is ready to do anything possible to make up whatever shortage may exist now or in the future. But this great industry cannot make its vital contribution to national defense if the political saboteurs are permitted to continue their Hitlerian policy of "divide, isolate and conquer." It cannot do its job if it is eternally faced with the possibility of ruthless Federal socialization of its properties. This is the hard truth, and no amount of political oratory can change or hide it.

Sjolander Announces New Jobs are Open in Newfoundland Project

An additional recruitment, in the Crookston and Thief River Falls areas, of construction workers for the U. S. Army and Navy defense base in Newfoundland, was announced today by C. H. Sjolander, local manager at Thief River Falls, for the Employment-Security division.

Labor demands on the project have increased so rapidly that an additional 1,800 men are needed and the list of job classifications to be filled, has been changed to include the following: Water and sewer construction supervisors, gravel plant foremen, compressor and paver operators, pump and pile driver crews, concrete finishing machine operators, paving finishers, reinforced steel, concrete, and paving foremen. Workers in this area who have been accepted for Newfoundland employment are not affected by this second recruitment.

Workers interested in these jobs should consult the Thief River Falls office by August 23. As in the first recruitment, successful applicants must be qualified, be natural born or naturalized citizens, must pass a physical examination, have proof of birth and be able to obtain a U. S. passport and British visa.

15 to 20 Per Cent Gain in Tourist Traffic in State Expected in 1941

Minnesota's tourist trade will be between 15 and 20 per cent larger this year than last, it is indicated by the midseason survey conducted by the state tourist bureau, it was announced early this week by Victor A. Johnston, director of the bureau.

Part of this survey consisted of a questionnaire sent out to 2,000 tourist resort operators throughout the state. The answers received show that:

Sixty three per cent of these resorts are doing better business this year than last, reporting gains ranging from 5 per cent to 200 per cent over 1940, making an average of slightly more than 30 per cent for the group.

That only 13 per cent reported a drop in business compared with last year. Twenty four per cent reported business either as good as last year, or better, without giving percentages of gains.

Thus far in the season Illinois tops all the states in the number of tourists registered.

HEAR YE; MAN BITES DOG

Lake Crystal.—It was the case of "man bites dog" when young Darwin Kelley and John Owens ate fast and furiously to decide which was the champion "hot dog" eater of the world. Kelley was the winner, consuming a total of thirteen "dogs" in ten minutes. After the event, the young man was found resting quietly, for the food he consumed was just too much, even for a champion like himself.

Corrugated pipe is rolled over snow on Canadian landing fields to prevent snow glare.

County Selectees Still Together in California

1931—TEN YEARS AGO

Three hundred relatives and friends gathered at the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Engelstad to congratulate them on their golden wedding anniversary.—The city council planned to retail to local buyers a $40,000 refunding bond issue.—H. M. Hoel of Frasee arrived here to enter the seed business.—Dr. R. Arnold, dentist here the past ten years, left with his family to establish their home at Benson. He exchanged practices with Dr. H. J. Rice of Benson.—Dr. J. C. R. Charest, former local physician, died in Marshall, Minnesota.—Mrs. Anna Langseth and daughter Palma left for San Francisco to make their home.

1921—TWENTY YEARS AGO

As an economy measure, only 51 teachers were signed up for the public schools here, compared to 56 last year.—Personal property tax valuations for 1921 were $325,000 less than in 1920, County Auditor T. P. Anderson reported. L. Haslerud, former buttermaker at the local creamery, was appointed federal butter market inspector with headquarters in New York City.—A movement was under foot to open for settlement a tract of 324,000 acres south and west of Red Lake.—A new appeal was taken in the paving bond case, further delaying a start on the project.

State Fair Begins 82nd Exhibition on Saturday with Auto Race Program

Gates of Minnesota's 10-day 1941 State Fair, the greatest in its 82-year history, will swing open at 8 A. M. Saturday on a breath-taking whirl of fun and education for a million northwest men, women and children.

A record-breaking crowd is expected to be on hand for the opening day, with the most gigantic first-day entertainment bill in Fair history as the stimulus. For the first time in several years, the State Fair will offer patrons a sizzling automobile racing card on the opening day, with more than 60 speed merchants, including Gus Schrader and Jimmy Wilburn in the headlines renewing their ancient rivalry.

A second high-spot in the opening day's entertainment program will be the personal appearance before the grandstand that night of those funnybone ticklers of the air, Edgar Bergen and Charlie McCarthy, who will headline an all-Hollywood cast, including Ted Weems and his Orchestra, in a smashing outdoor extravaganza.

FREAK LIZARD CAUGHT; IDENTITY UNKNOWN

International Falls—A lizard, of an unknown variety, was found by Ed Thomas while vacationing at Bowesmont, N. D. The reptile, unlike the many others of its specie, has a head like a bullhead, small round eyes and long appendages, and horns which look like miniature ferns. It is equally at home on land and in water, and grows to a length of 10 inches, although it naturally is only half that long. Thomas found the reptile in a farm pond near the village of Bowesmont, but needs the aid of a naturalist to verify its identity.

LOSES FISH; GETS EXTRA MINNOW INSTEAD

St. Peter.—John LaDue, a guide in the Arrowhead county, was fishing recently when a strange thing happened. A woman in the party had just lost a wall-eye, and was reeling in her line to see if the bait was still there. To her amazement, she found not one, but two minnows fixed to the hook, both being hooked through the mouth, down through the center of the body, and out the back. It is thought that the fish had a minnow in its mouth when taking the bait, and through its twisting and darting caused this minnow to be hooked the same way as the original. The story is hard to believe, but nevertheless John says it's true.

Eggs, No. 2	.20

South St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 19, 1941: It was an entirely different price picture that was presented for most slaughter cattle the past two days as compared with the day's week ago. Numbers have been reduced slightly, but the offering of grain-fed cattle shows some increase, especially so of mediumweight and heavy bullocks, although cows continue to comprise the major portion of the salable supply. Trends today here on a fully steady basis, and numerous instances of 15 to 25c better money was recorded for steers over late last week, according to the Federal State Market News Service. The strength realized on steers has bolstered the action on other slaughter classes. Replacement cattle continue in light volume, but at strong to 25c higher prices. Dairy cows are in good demand at fully steady rates. Tuesday's sales include the top money for the month of August to date at $12.25 for Choice 1270 lb. averages and comparable grade 1312 lb. bullocks, at [illegible] $12.25.

After a strong to 5c higher week's opening, which sent hogs to a new high since October 1937, with a top of $11.65, prices sagged only slightly on Tuesday, leaving the market strong to 10c higher than last Friday. Tuesday's late extreme top was $11.75, with a large part of the run sold earlier at $11.50 down. Bulk of the Good and Choice 180 to 240 lb. hogs cashed at $11.15 to $11.50, while most 240 to 270 lb. weights ranged from $10.65 to $11.25. Heavier weights were scarce and sold unevenly downward to $10.10 while most [illegible] lb. averages went at $10.40 to [illegible]. Sows of all weights bulked at $9.50 to $10.10.

Price strength vibrated through the sheep and lamb trade. Springers advanced 25c to 50c and some of the more finished yearlings and slaughter ewes gained 25c. Feeder lambs of western origin sold 15c higher. Late sales of Good to Choice western springers secured $12.00, the year's high point, with bulk of the natives stopping at $11.75. Slaughter ewes made $5.25 and feeder lambs $11.25.

Northwest School to Open Fall Term Monday, Sept. 29

The opening date of the fall term of the Northwest School of Agriculture at Crookston has been set for Monday, Sept. 29. Superintendent T. M. McCall states that registration for all new and transfer students will be held on September 29, and that registration of former students and upper classmen will be held on the morning of September 30th, with all classes started on the afternoon of that day.

Increased emphasis according to Superintendent McCall, will be placed this year on the practical application of all courses to the general defense training program. The 900 acre Experiment Station with its full complement of modern farm machinery together with well equipped laboratories in agricultural engineering, farm crops, purebred flocks of sheep, beef and dairy cattle, Percheron horses and large poultry plant enable the students to make practical application of the latest subject matter taught in the classroom.—Courses in foods, clothing, home nursing, child care, home management, elementary and advanced business training fit the girls to meet the demands of the current world crisis.

WARREN BALL TEAM WILL SEEK REVENGE HERE NEXT SUNDAY

Game to be Sponsored by C. & C.; Locals Took Eldred By 6 to 3 Score

The locals punched out a well-earned 6 to 3 decision over the Eldred nine in a game played here Sunday. St. Hilaire, which had been scheduled for the game, found it necessary to ask for a cancellation late in the week when it was learned that their ace pitcher Woody Almquist would not be available for the game; and the local management made a hurry-up agreement with the Eldred team.

A loosely-played 1st inning saw each team racking up two tallies. With one away Romo and Don Holz poked out singles. Nelson sent a bounder to Jaranson at short, and Johnny made the play to second, erasing Holz. On a double steal, Romo was safe at the plate when Nornes dropped the ball tagging the runner. Nelson scored Eldred's second score when Wally DuChamp let Anderson ground single into center-field roll through his legs. The locals picked up their two runs when Cockrell's looping hit bounced off Peltier's glove back of second base, and Bill Hallamack followed with a sharp poke along the third base line; with Stan and Bill crossing the plate on John Jaranson's drive into right-field.

Singles by Lenny Helquist, Klem Gigstad, and Gordy Relerson, with Relerson's one-base blow scoring Pudge and Klem, accounted for two Thief River markers in the 4th inning, and breaking the 2-all deadlock. Singles by Wally DuChamp and Birdean Nornes, a double steal, and Gigstad's infield hit, scoring Wally, gave the locals a tally in the 5th inning. Thief River chalked up their final score in the 8th inning when Johnny Jaranson got a life on second baseman Anderson's bobble, went to second on Wally DuChamp's short hit into left-field, and to third on a fielder's choice, and scored when Eldred's Stan Brekke uncorked a wild pitch.

Next Sunday's game with Warren is expected to be a continuation of the red-hot rivalry between the two clubs. Warren defeated Thief River, 4 to 3, in a ten-inning struggle at Warren several weeks ago, and Harold Stroble, Warren's manager, states that his club, which will be strengthened by the addition of a couple of Oslo players, will hang another defeat on the locals.

Famous Leaning Tree

The Grizzly Giant, an enormous sequoia tree in Yosemite National park, is known as the leaning tree. It is 208 feet high and leans 18 3-10 feet off center, or approximately 4 degrees and 38 minutes. Research shows that it has been off center for centuries, but is in no danger of falling.

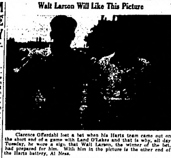
Walt Larson Will Like This Picture



Clarence Offerdahl lost a bet when his Hartz team came out on the short end of a game with Land O'Lakes and that is why, all day Tuesday, he wore a sign that Walt Larson, the winner of the bet, had prepared for him. With him in the picture is the other end of the Hartz battery, Al Ness.

Hartz-Land O' Lakes Start Finals Tonight

Hartz drew first blood in the city D-ball play-offs when they defeated Stan Cockrell's Bridgeman's team, 11 to 2, Monday night. Johnny Jaranson's single, double, and triple, in four times at bat, led that Hartz 13-hit attack on Bill Gray. Hartz hurler, Al Ness, scattered the five singles collected by the Bridgeman team.

Land O'Lakes won the right to oppose the defending champion Hartz ten in the final series beginning tonight, when they overcame an early five-run lead to hand Helmer Ness' Kiewel's team a 11 to 5 trouncing Tuesday night. Kiewel's pounded pitcher "Ham" Myhrer for 7 hits in the first three innings, and coupled with two errors and three bases on balls, gave the red-shirted Kiewels five scores; while Gordy Kaushagen was pitching one-hit shut-out ball. Land O'Lakes broke up the ball game in the 6th inning, after scoring 3 runs in the 5th inning, the Lakers blasted Gordy Kaushagen off the mound with a rally that netted 5 runs. Jimmy LaFave's homerun over Wally DuChamp's head in deep center-field being the blow that gave the Lakers the win. After that unsteady pitching during the opening innings "Ham" Myhrer settled down and pitched fine ball, allowing but two hits and no runs during the last four innings.

LAND O'LAKES BEATS HARTZ TO TIE FOR TOP

Walt Larson's Land O'Lakes team defeated the city champion Hartz club, 9 to 5, in the final game of the season's D-ball schedule Friday night, and as a result the green-shirted Lakers earned a tie for the top spot in the league standings, with both Hartz and Land O'Lakes having two defeats.

The decision of the Red Lake Falls entry to withdraw from the league caused a complication in the schedule, with the team managers deciding to begin the championship play-offs this week, and erasing the postponed games which were to have been played this week. A toss of a coin, which was called correctly by manager Offerdahl of the Hartz, sent the Hartz team against the fourth-place Bridgeman team Monday night, and gave manager Larson of the Land O'Lakes the honor of pitting his club against Helmer Ness' Kiewel's team Tuesday night.

Land O'Lakes, 9; Hartz, 5.

Friday night's epic contest between Land O'Lakes and Hartz was a jittery affair, with both teams making numerous errors. Wally Tunberg opened the game with a double, and after Jim Kelly had popped out, singles by Jim LaFave and Ham Myhrer, and two Hartz errors, the Land O'Lakes had counted two scores. In their half of the frantic 1st inning Hartz' Bill Hallamack mashed out a double, then four Laker errors, 3 bases on balls, Johnson's infield hit, gave Hartz five tallies.

The Lakers picked up two runs in the 2nd inning; and then broke up the ball game with a 5-run cluster in the 4th inning, punching out 4 base hits, and drawing 2 walks, and taking advantage of 2 Hartz errors.

The Hartz team, which was playing with a make-shift line-up, clicked off three double-plays during the game, while Land O'Lakes completed one double killing.

MANY ENTRIES ARE EXPECTED FOR TWO DAY GOLF TOURNEY

Second Annual Invitational Event Will Open Here Saturday

Jimmy Nordine will defend his championship laurels over the week-end when he competes as defending champion in the second annual Thief River Falls Invitational Golf Tournament. Ernotte Hiller, Crookston, last year's runner-up, is expected to compete, as will Ed Nordheim of Bemidji. Other ranking northwest golfers who are expected to enter are Wally Paulson of Grand Forks, Dr. C. J. Oppegaard, Crookston, Johnny Burk and Don Sealander of Detroit Lakes.

Tournament chairman W. G. Claffy stated that all golfers wishing to compete in the championship flight must play their qualifying scores over the local course on Saturday.

Adding interest to the tournament will be a Calcutta auction of the players which will follow the tournament banquet to be held at the Evelyn Hotel Saturday evening, starting at 7:00 o'clock.

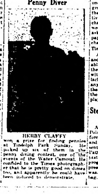
Penny Diver



HERBY CLAFFY won a prize for finding pennies at Tindolph Park Sunday. He picked up six of them in the penny diving contest, one of the events of the Water Carnival. He confided to the Times photographer that he is pretty good on dimes too, and apparently he could have been induced to demonstrate.

PLUMMER TAKES RED LAKE FALLS BY 6 TO 0 SCORE

Mis-plays are Costly for Red Lake Falls, Few Hits are Allowed

Lefty John Hovanac tossed up a five-hit shut-out against the Red Lake Falls team Sunday, and with his team-mates taking advantage of mis-plays by the Red Lake Falls club, Plummer won a 6 to 0 ball game. Woody Almquist on the mound for Red Lake Falls turned in a well-pitched game, limiting the Plummer batsmen to but six hits. Harold McCrady and Maurice Page led the Plummer attack on Almquist, with McCrady collecting two singles in four trips to the plate, and Page getting two hits in three tries.

Next Sunday the Plummer aggregation will travel to Crookston for a return game with the Red River Valley All-Stars. The game, which is scheduled to be played in Highland park, will begin at 2:30 P. M.

RECREATION HIGHLIGHTS

Recent requests for parents and children to visit the game room and puppet construction rooms in the arena upstairs have not gone unanswered. Many parents have brought their children to the arena where they have access to a number of games, and where they can make puppets and other dolls. Camille Dostal is in charge of all the recreation facilities in the upstairs part of the arena. Although a great many are taking part in the activities, Mrs. Dostal is anxious to have a lot more come to the arena. Weekly puppet shows will again be held at the start of school. This means more participants are needed to build shows and to act as puppeteers. It's a good time all the time while you are working with puppets, so why not get an early start. There is never a charge for the activities, as everyone is invited to come.

Fall Activities

When we start talking about Fall activities, we get to thinking about winter, but we have to face it sooner or later. The Water Carnival last Sunday served as a climax to summer activities. Although summer activities will be available for some time, plans are under way now for the Fall program. With the start of school and the coming of cooler weather, activities and hours will change. No changes are planned for the next week or two, but participants are asked to keep in touch with the paper for notices concerning these changes.

Tindolph Park

Archery, table tennis, croquet, and horseshoe facilities are available at Tindolph park. Results of the tournaments held in connection with the Water Carnival showed a lack of practice or something. At any rate, scores were low. Now is the time to get in more practice for the tournaments to be held at the playgrounds during the fall season.

Stenberg, Former Chief of Police, Is Honored

A. B. Stenberg, former Chief of Police, was honored by law enforcement officials of Pennington and Red Lake counties and representatives of the State Highway Patrol at a dinner at the Rex Cafe yesterday evening. Following a program of speaking in which all present took part, Mr. Stenberg was presented with a leather hand bag.

Will Play Warren at Fair Grounds Ball Park Sunday

Football Practice Monday Morning

All candidates for the 1941 Prowler football team are asked to report at 10:00 a. m. Monday morning at the high school for the first practice session under the new coach, Harry Newby. The boys had better bring their gym suits, for it is expected that the first work-out will be devoted largely to calisthenics and muscle-limbering drill. Coach Newby will arrive in town Sunday and will take charge of the daily drills.

Trapshoot this Evening

Don't forget, you trapshooters, that on Thursday evenings and Sunday mornings you have a date at the Fair Grounds trapshooting lay-out. It's probable that there will be a chicken and Hungarian partridge season this year, and shooting at these fast-moving clay pigeons is about the finest way of getting your eyes and wing-shooting reflexes in condition. Even if you don't shoot it's worth your while to drive out there and watch the boys, and to look over the lay-out.

A. F. Jones, Thief River Falls' nationally known trapshooter, certainly went on a rampage during the first day's firing at the 42nd Grand American trapshoot, being held this week at Vandalia, Ohio. Jones made the A. P. headlines when he shot a perfect string of 100 to tie E. L. Hawkins of Ft. Wayne, Ind., in the opening event of the weeks' program. But Jones lost the first place honor to Hawkins on a flip of a coin, with Hawkins calling the turn.

75 Cents Asked; No Takers

The boys had lot of fun conducting a Calcutta in connection with the stag party held at the golf club-house Saturday night. As was to be expected, Jimmy Nordine drew down the highest bid, being [illegible] maximum. The embarrassing moment of the evening arrived when Lloyd Bennes was sold on the auction block. It was a case of 75 cents being asked; but there weren't any takers. Finally Lloyd bid himself in for the six bits. It is reported that Lloyd had given Sewell Gross 75 cents before the bidding began, with definite instructions to buy Lloyd; but Sewell, I guess, got into a pinochle game and forgot about Bennes' 75 cent bid. Lloyd bought Judge Lincoln Arnold for 25 cents, to sweeten the 75 cents he had invested in himself; but at two bits the Judge wasn't any bargain for he lost his first match, losing to Ted Threnen.

Incidentally, there will be a Calcutta at the Evelyn hotel Saturday night, with bids being received on the players that are participating in the Invitational golf tournament Sunday.

It Had to Happen

Walt Larson, of the Land O'Lakes waited a long time for Aug. 15th to arrive, for it was that night that his team defeated Clarence Offerdahl's Hartz D-ball ten, 9 to 5. From now on that date will be a holiday on Walt's calendar. Of course the losers could have brought up the alibi that their team was short-handed, they didn't have Offerdahl, Russ Solheim, Roy Lee, and Don Lorentson in the line-up. But that fact doesn't detract from the Lakers win, for Hartz had Al Ness on the mound and the Land O'Lakes clubbed him for 12 base-hits. Offerdahl and Larson had made a wager on the game, with the loser to wear a sign advertising the fact that his team lost. Poop, for one day, wore a sign which read like this: "I manage a lousy team. Do we smell! Land O'Lakes beat us 9 to 5!"

But we'll see what will happen now that Hartz and Land O'Lakes have both reached the D-ball finals. The pressure will be on.

By the way, have Frank tell you of his experiences while on that Lake of the Woods jaunt with Cliff Bjorkman, Doc Anderson, and that gang.

Held a Meeting Saturday Night

"Buttercup" Nornes and his Wine, Dine and Dance club held a meeting Saturday night. Nornes acted as the club treasurer, for he financed the steak dinners; Bobby DuChamp presided as toastmaster, while Jim LaFave and Bob Snyder furnished the applause.

Valley Small Bore Rifle Tournament Here Sept. 7

At the request of the Strandquist Rifle Club, the fourth annual Red River Valley Small Bore Rifle Tournament will be sponsored by the Thief River Falls club this year and will be staged at the local range on Sunday, September 7. A program of events, including six matches, will be mailed to riflemen this week by Howard Hoel.

Girl Sluggers Again Lose to Boy Luggers 20 to 16

For the second time this season Billy Nelson's "Luggers" defeated Camille Dostal's girl's club "Sluggers", when they handed the "Sluggers" a 20 to 16 defeat in a diamondball game played Monday evening.

Sue Prichard, doing the hurling duties for the girls, turned in an exceptionally well-pitched game, collecting 10 strikeouts during the five innings of play. Sue struck out Bob Nelson three times, and Wes Hovle and Earl Long twice each. Bernice "Butch" Severson did the receiving for the girls team; while Bobby Olson and Marvin Carlson were the battery for the boys.

As a result of the victory the girls are pledged to be hosts to the boys at a picnic. Camille Dostal announced that arrangements for the outing will be completed soon.

TO USE UPPER RED LAKE FOR PIKE REARING

Indians Interviewed by State Fisheries Officials on Feasibility of Proposed Plan

Experimental use of Upper Red Lake as a gigantic walleyed pike rearing pond moved a step further this week when two employes of the State Bureau of Fisheries used sign language and the Chippewa tongue to get the red man's knowledge of Kin-oje.

In the Indian language, Kin-oje, means walleye, the fish that supplies a commercial fishing industry to which the Chippewas have exclusive rights on Red Lake. It is generally conceded that members of the tribe know more about the movements of walleyes in the Red Lakes than any other source.

The investigators, A. L. Nelson of Redby and Hjalmer Swenson of Washish, sought information on where the fingerling walleyes swarm by the thousands in the shallows of the great lake at short periods every fall. They got the Indians' opinions on whether it would be feasible to trap them.

State Bureau of Fisheries officials believe that if a practical method of trapping the fingerling pike is devised, the stock can be used to replenish hundreds of walleye lakes all over Minnesota. In that manner, the 440 square miles of the Red Lakes would be a huge rearing pond.

Indians reported that at times the swarm of fingerling walleyes is so thick as to cover the bottom shallows. The inshore movement frequently is accompanied by a heavy sea, with the waves often washing thousands of the little fish up on shore where they perish.

The problem, as reported by Nelson and Swenson, will be to invent a trapping method that will overcome the impossibility of terrain in the region and the heavy action of the waves. The first attempt at harvest is scheduled for September.

Technicians report that if a plan can be devised, it will not harm the lake. The Red Lakes are recognized as one of the greatest "natural" walleye water in the United States. Because of the nature of the shoreline and the susceptibility of the lake to quick storms, it is angled very little.

Anton Olson Found Dead North of Trail Aug. 11

Anton P. Olson, about 80, bachelor farmer living 11 miles north of Trail, was found dead Monday, Aug. 11 on a trail leading from the highway to his log cabin home in the woods.

Dr. H. E. Nelson, Polk county coroner, who with Deputy Sheriffs Ed Kelley and Frank Lohn investigated the case, said the man had been dead for several days, probably since last Wednesday.

His body was discovered by Henry Lund, a neighbor, and the Rev. H. Farseth, of Superior, who, at the request of the neighbors had arrived to visit Olson. Lund told the county officials that he had written Olson's relative asking that he come to see the elderly man, and attempt to convince him of the wisdom of leaving his farm and going to live where he might have care and company.

Lund told the county officials that Olson had been suffering with a heart ailment for some time. He said it was Olson's custom to go every Wednesday to his mailbox, on the highway, for a Norwegian newspaper to which he subscribed, and county authorities presumed he had been enroute to get the paper when he was stricken with a heart attack. His death was the result of both the heart ailment and exposure, Dr. Nelson said.

Then you add twelve small onions, sliced, two green peppers, chopped; one can of pimentos, cut fine, one and one half quarts vinegar, half a cup of flour, six cups of sugar, one teaspoon tumeric powder and two tablespoons of dry mustard. Main problem today seems to be while keeping cost of living fig-to get the airplanes into the air ures on the ground.

Or you may choose $25,000.00 in one lump sum. Open to all over 18 years of age. No letter to write! Just write a last line for the jingle below, and you may win.
Lots of Big Money Prizes Every Week for 6 Weeks. No Letter to Write! So easy to enter! All you do is supply a last line for the jingle below, and send it with an Oxydol box-top and a Camay wrapper (or facsimiles) to Camay-Oxydol, Dept. 2, Box 25, Cincinnati, Ohio. You can get complete rules and handy entry blanks at your dealer's. If you wish, you can use a plain sheet of paper.
Get in on This Record Contest. Think what it will mean to win such a big, valuable grand prize—made possible only because two great soaps join forces. So try for that lifetime income of $30.00 every week. It means security, luxuries, independence—and you may be the winner.
Hints on How to Win
Your last line may be about Oxydol or Camay, or both, or neither.
A trial of Oxydol and Camay, as these soaps are improved today may suggest many last lines. That is one reason for the contest—to induce you to try these better soaps.
In your washer, Oxydol's the soap that gets clothes snowy white with maximum speed.
In tub, washer or dishpan, gives up to 5 times the suds of many soaps, cup for cup, and is kinder to hands than a whole group of well-known washday soaps, tested repeatedly. Amazingly "scorchproof," too—with no loss of sudsing speed, washing performance or mildness.
Today's Camay—with its greater mildness—is an important help to every woman who wants her skin to be lovely.
For Camay is milder by actual recorded test—in tests against ten other popular beauty soaps, Camay was milder than any of them. So let this milder Camay help you to a lovelier skin.
Get the handy entry blank from your dealer or use a plain sheet of paper.
Winners will be announced on the Radio
"Guiding Light" and "Woman in White" programs. See your local newspaper for time and stations.
JUST WRITE A LAST LINE FOR THIS JINGLE!
Safe Oxydol washes clothes white
Mild Camay helps keep your skin right
Don't take it from me
Use both and you'll see
Write out your last line and send it together with 1 Camay wrapper and 1 Oxydol box-top, any size, (or facsimiles), to Camay-Oxydol, Dept. 2, Box 25, Cincinnati, Ohio. Print your name, address.

AUSTIN RESIDENT IS STATE CHIEF OF AMERICAN LEGION

Roy Anderson Is Elected at State Convention in St. Paul

Roy T. Anderson of Austin was elected state commander of the American Legion Wednesday at the closing session of the Minnesota department's annual convention in the St. Paul auditorium. Joe Kise, Moorhead, is retiring commander.

In a resolution adopted the convention urged that provision be made for the care of men "discharged from the forces of the United States on account of defects of mind or body."

Asserting that such action is "being taken without due consideration for the rights or future of these men," the convention asked that the war department, the bureau of navigation and the veterans administration unite in an effort to aid or rehabilitate such persons.

The convention also heard committee reports urging that the Minnesota department establish scholarships for the orphans of veterans and that Minnesota Legion posts organize junior employment offices in the high schools.

The legion national defense report was scheduled for consideration late in the day.

Duluth was selected as the 1942 convention city.

Minnesota Truck Driving Championship to be Held at State Fair Grounds

Minnesota truck drivers who during the past year have not been involved in any accident whatsoever will have an opportunity to compete in a state-wide truck driving championship contest to be staged at the Minnesota State Fair Grounds, Sunday, Sept. 14.

According to Robert Babcock, Minneapolis, general chairman, this is the first year that the contest has been thrown open to drivers of all types of trucks. Private, contract and common carriers will be permitted to enter one driver in each of the two classes—straight truck and tractor-trailer units. Operators with one truck can compete themselves if they meet the qualifications.

The winners of each event will be awarded an expense-paid trip to New York to compete in the National Truck Driving Contest to be held in Madison Square Garden, October 29. In addition, all contestants in the Minnesota contest will be rewarded for their no-accident records. Entry blanks will be made available by Regulated Motor Transportation Association of Minnesota, 1957 University Ave., St. Paul.

UPLAND GAME OPEN SEASONS ARE DECLARED

17-Day Statewide Season Is Ordered for Ringneck Pheasants

SHOOTING OF RUFFED GROUSE OPENS OCT. 11

Northern Zone Hungarian Season to Commerce September 20

Open seasons on six upland game species, including a statewide 17 day shooting period on ringneck pheasants from October 18 through November 3, inclusive, were announced Thursday by the department of conservation.

The regulations provided for 20 days of ruffed grouse shooting beginning October 11, a 17-day quail season starting November 1, and two split zone seasons of eight days each for Hungarian partridge, prairie chickens and sharptailed grouse.

The northern zone Hungarian season is from September 20 to 27, inclusive, the southern zone from October 18 to 25, inclusive. Sharptailed grouse and prairie chickens may be taken in a northwestern zone from September 20 to 27, inclusive, and in a northeastern zone from October 11 to 18, inclusive.

The regulations provide that one hen pheasant may be included in the daily bag limit of three birds, or the possession limit of six. In other words, the hunter may not possess more than one hen at any time.

Shooting hours for all upland game are from 7 A. M. to 4 P. M. except in the northern Hungarian and the northwestern prairie chicken and sharptail zones where the hours are 7 A. M. to 6 P. M.

The seasons were fixed after department executives studied detailed investigation reports from the research section of the division of game and fish, game wardens and field observers. Biologists from this unit made [illegible] storms and spring rains on the bird populations.

The lengthy ruffed grouse season was decided after biologists informed the department that this species is nearing the upgrade climax of a mysterious 10-year cycle fluctuation that operates independent of hunting harvests. They urged that the birds be harvested while they are here since decades of old records indicate they will show a marked decline in a few years regardless.

The regulations follow:

Ringnecked pheasant: Open season, 17 days, commencing October 18 through November 3, inclusive. Shooting hours: 7:00 A. M. to 4:00 P. M. Area open: Statewide.

Ruffed Grouse: Open season, 20 days, commencing October 11 through October 30, inclusive. Shooting hours: 7:00 A. M. to 4:00 P. M. Alice Stevens, Martin Barstad Wed Wednesday August 20 in Crookston

One hundred guests attended the candlelight services in the sanctuary of the Christ Episcopal church in Crookston which united in marriage Miss Alice Beryl Stevens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Stevens of Crookston, and Martin J. Barstad, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Barstad of Thief River Falls. The vows were prompted by Rev. J. H. Rayner at 8 p. m. on Wednesday, August 20. The church was beautifully decorated with potted palms and tall baskets of gladiolas. Garden flowers were placed on the windowsills, and nosegays were fastened to each pew. The color scheme was carried out in pink and white.

The bride chose as her attendants, Miss Joy Kiser of Crookston as maid of honor, and Miss Margaret Stevens, sister of the bride, also of Crookston, as bridesmaid. Severin Barstad of this city was his brother's best man, and ushers were Robert Stevens of Hibbing, brother of the bride, and Emmet Olson of Crookston. The bride was given away by her father.

Prenuptial music was played on the organ by Miss Constance Cocking of Pelican Rapids. Immediately before the ceremony, "Because" and Ich Liebe Dich" were sung by A. Griffin Richards of Glyndon, who also sang "The Lord's Prayer" at the close of the ceremony. The wedding march from Lohengrin was used.

The bridal gown was fashioned in basque style with skirt, sleeves and yoke of net, and an ivory lace bodice. Her fingertip veil fell from a Juliet cap. She carried an arm bouquet of cream colored roses and white sweet peas tied with white satin ribbon.

Miss Kiser, maid of honor, wore a gown of rose marquisette with a white bolero trimmed with rose braid. Miss Stevens, bridesmaid, wore white embroidered organdy and a rose bolero with white braid trim. Both wore crowns of pink asters in the hair. The bride's mother was attired in a street-length dress of delft blue silk crepe fashioned with a fitted jacket and trapinto trim. The groom's mother wore a navy blue silk crepe afternoon dress. Both had shoulder corsages of pink roses.

A reception for the guests was given by the bride's parents and was held in the church parlors. The bridal party was seated at a T-shaped table appointed in pink and white and centered with the wedding cake. Tall pink tapers lighted the table. The other guests were served buffet style. The serving table was centered with a unique arrangement of white tapers in star-shaped candle holders.

Mr. and Mrs. Barstad then left on a wedding trip through Minnesota and Wisconsin. For travel the bride chose a black dressmaker suit of wool gabardine with gold accessories. The couple will be at home in Arcadia, Wisc., after September 1, where Mr. Barstad will teach. The bride is a graduate of the Crookston High School, and was also graduated from the Moorhead State Teachers College with the class of 1938, having been employed in the Fargo public schools. Kitty's Komments

The autumnal haze has already begun to veil the landscape—fall arrives so very quickly. With the hum of the threshing machines—the diminishing rows of shocks in the fields and the pile of golden straw heaping itself to a respectable straw stack behind the barn—with the ladies of the house busy getting food ready to feed the hungry men—making it such a busy season! Yet for many they feel it is the best period of the whole year. It's the time you reap the results of your summer's work.

The bright days are too beautiful for words. Flowers are a riot of gorgeous colors.

When night arrives a large golden red harvest moon shines down on you. It isn't any wonder our young men and women find fall the ideal time for romance. Life is such fun! It is such fun to revel in the keen joy of living.

An autumn moon—a ribbon of road as far as you can see, a car, the one and only by your side—life is fairly bubbling over—you step on the accelerator—the speedometer climbs—60—70—and—

Why, oh why, must you who have so much to live for, jeopardize all that young life, all that keen enjoyment of living in the mad rush of speed? Why exchange all that glorious life for dripping blood, mangled limbs and crushed bodies—intense pain and horrible suffering—sudden cruel death?

Let us drive so we can live to enjoy the light of many more harvest moons—the beautiful wonders of so many more autumns to come. Remember, let us drive to live!

BEARS FIVE COLTS IN FIVE YEARS

Farmington.—If recently you happened to repeat the well-known quotation, "The old grey mare aint what she usta be," you might have been referring to some horse, but certainly not the one owned by Otto Leinder Sr. His horse, Nancy, is the 25-year-old mother of five colts, all being born during the last five years. Mr. Leinder looks upon this as some sort of horse record, for neither he nor his friends have ever heard of a horse this age giving birth to five colts during the similar five-year period.

Would You EAT—

22 pounds of lean beef in a day?

That's a silly question, but if you were to get the daily requirements of calcium necessary to good health, that is exactly what you would have to do if you chose lean beef.

Here's a tip—

Just one quart of Hoel's Quality Dairy milk contains as much calcium as does 22 pounds of lean beef!.

Sale of Straw Gives Grower Added Income

Minnesota farmers have a better chance than ever this year to increase the income from their flax crop by the sale of the straw for manufacturing purposes, A. C. Army, University Farm agronomist, reports that twice as much flax straw will be bought up for this purpose in 1941 as in 1940. He believes that good flax straw, dry and fairly free from weeds and chaff, should bring about $2 per ton in the stack.

The income derived from straw is only a fraction of the value of the flaxseed, but it is welcome as additional cash income and warrants extra care in the handling of the straw. This is especially true if the flax is free of weeds in the first place and likely to have ready sale, Army says.

Surgical Dressings are Made in Big Quantities by American Red Cross

The American Red Cross is nearing completion of 40,000,000 surgical dressings as a reserve stock for the United States Army, it was announced in Washington by Mrs. Dwight M. Davis, national director of Volunteer Special Services.

More than 24,000,000 dressings have been shipped to the Army base warehouse at Toledo, Ohio, with an additional 10,000,000 reported ready for shipment in chapters throughout the country, she said.

The Red Cross undertook the surgical dressing program following a Government survey which revealed that commercial manufacturers were able to produce only 10 per cent of total needs of the Army and Navy in time of active warfare. It was pointed out that the bulk of their manufacture was needed for civilian use.

In the event of national emergency, Red Cross officials feel the organization would be able to produce approximately 40,000,000 surgical dressings a month. The current program, Mrs. Davis said, has been limited to some 800 of the 3,700 Red Cross chapters, most of which also have been engaged in the production of 32,000,000 surgical dressings for foreign war relief.

Red Cross preparedness plans which could be placed in operation in six weeks would place 2,000 chapters into surgical dressing production should the need arise, according to Mrs. Davis.

On some German destroyers, torpedoes are fired with the mouth, asserts Collier's. With his eyes at the range finder and his hands on the tube-aiming controls, the gunner merely has to blow into a "peashooter" to actuate the trigger.

STATE OFFICIALS SEEK CHANGES IN OLEO REGULATION

Minnesota Men Confer with Representatives of Southern States

Efforts are being made by Minnesota state officials through negotiation with officials of southern states to obtain a modification of the new federal oleomargine order, scheduled to go into effect September 6th, which Minnesota farmers and farm leaders say will be so disastrous to Minnesota farmers.

The order, issued by Paul V. McNutt, head of the Federal Security Administration, prescribes a definition for oleomargine which permits manufacturers of that product to add ingredients that will make it a close imitation of butter. Seeing a direct threat to the dairy industry and a disruption of our entire farm economy if these regulations are permitted to stand, Governor Harold E. Stassen requested that arrangements be made for a conference between representatives of the northern states and commissioners of agriculture of the southern states, from which come the major demands for legislation favoring oleomargarine.

Back in St. Paul this week after their initial conference were the men who represented Minnesota, Commissioner of Agriculture R. A. Trovatten, Deputy Commissioner E. J. Thye, W. R. Combs of the dairy division of the University of Minnesota and Paul Miller, director of extension, University of Minnesota.

Reporting to the governor, Commissioner Trovatten said he pointed out to officials of the southern states in their conference in Memphis that they were not opposing manufacture of oleomargarine, but that they objected to a definition permitting manufacturers to imitate butter in all its essential qualities by the addition of flavoring, coloring and other ingredients.

It is difficult to laugh at your own expense when you are broke.

On Maneuvers

GEORGE BUCK

son of Mr. and Mrs. Huber Buck of this city, is somewhere in the state of Washington on maneuvers, according to the last letter received by his parents. George is stationed at Camp Haan, California, and made the trip to Washington along the scenic west coast in a truck convoy.

3:30 A. M.—AND ALL WAS NOT SO WELL

Luverne.—"What do you want?" asked bewildered Harold Haanes of a stranger, when he awoke at 3:30 A. M. and found the middle aged man standing over him. The stranger, apparently a sleepwalker attired in nothing but a pair of shorts, insisted that the house was his and asked where everybody was. Mr. Haanes succeeded in getting rid of the intruder, but not for long. The man paid him two more visits before being convinced that he had better leave for good.

Extermination of Rats and Insects Urged to Stop Spread of Disease

While physicians and public health authorities are at work hunting for the source of the current outbreak of encephalitis cases in Minnesota, the Minnesota State Medical Association's Committee on Public Health Education today issued a bulletin pointing out that several other grave diseases are carried from sick animals and from other human beings by insects and especially by rats.

Mosquitoes carry malaria and they are under suspicion as carriers of sleeping sickness, though current investigations have not succeeded in proving the case against them, the bulletin says.

But the most notorious and dangerous of all disease carriers, with the possible exception of ticks and fleas, is the rat, the doctors say. "No less than seven major diseases and illnesses are known to be transmitted or caused by rats, including bubonic plague, rat-bite fever, typhus fever, pneumonic plague, jaundice, parasitic mange and tapeworm. Rats have been suspected, also, of carrying encephalitis in some instances; also leprosy and infantile paralysis. Ticks, on the other hand, are known to carry tularemia and rocky mountain spotted fever and fleas are the commonest agency for spreading typhus.

Efficient and economical new methods for ridding districts and private homes and farms of rats are available from the United States Public Health Service in Washington, D. C.

This modern army gets all the breaks. They are now going to streamline the army nurses—or didn't, I understand the headline which read: "Streamline Nurses Course for Defense."—Willmar Journal.

THE PLAN FOR PEACE

There has been surprisingly little criticism of the eight point peace objectives outlined by President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill following their historic meeting somewhere on the Atlantic. The professional fault finders who predict the most awful consequences as a result of everything Roosevelt and Churchill agree upon have been singularly restrained in their criticism of this declaration. It probably is fair to assume, therefore, that the Eight Points may be accepted as a good start in planning the solution for the difficult problems of peace that will follow the war.

After what has happened following the last war it is easy to be skeptical about peace plans—easy to doubt the world of nations can ever be so organized that the regular and periodical blood baths can be effectively outlawed. Possibly, however, the mistakes of the last war were a necessary course of instruction and that out of ruins that have resulted from those mistakes there may come a new conception of right relationships among nations that will make possible an enduring peace. Certainly it is a goal worth striving for in spite of past failures.

Any plan for maintaining law and order in the world must provide, in one form or another, an international police force, along with a few rules and regulations on carrying firearms. Individual nations will have to sacrifice a few individual rights. We will have to adjust ourselves to the idea of submitting our international differences to tribunals of justice, before which the weak and the strong will have equal rights. That means that great nations such as ours will have to make greater concessions than the smaller nations who in the past have depended upon some big brother relationship for protection.

But the advantages greatly outweigh the disadvantages, even for great nations such as ours. If an international police force is not organized then we face the necessity of maintaining for our protection a police force of our own, one that is big enough to protect us from any combination of armed forces that might threaten us. That means a continuation of the old practice of several nations running an armament race that leads eventually to a test of strength.

The eight point peace plan provides for the establishment of an international authority through which the self governing people of the world can maintain order and, as we see it, that is its principle merit. Our isolationists, who are responsible for the stupid policy that has guided our nation since Wilson was repudiated, will continue to tell us that we must have nothing to do with the rest of the world. But the world is now a small community compared to what it was a hundred years ago and we must start to assume a fair share of our responsibility as one of the leading citizens of that small community. The fact that the isolationists have not attempted to tear the eight point peace plan to bits may indicate that they are beginning to see the error of their ways.

Axis powers cried to the high heavens because Britain and Russia moved in on Iran. One would think, judging by their self-righteous indignation, that the Chinese, the Greeks and the Norwegians had invited the dictators to come in and enslave them.

This is the season of the year we like most of all and if the weather is seasonable we look forward to some mighty pleasant living during the next couple of months.

When Marshal Petain proclaimed his dictatorship of France a couple of weeks ago and appealed for the united support of the French people he referred significantly to the spirit of revolt that had caused his administration much trouble. Now it becomes apparent that his action has further inflamed the French people and acts of violence are common thruout both occupied and unoccupied France. Threats of taking ten lives for one will not subdue a mob once the mob spirit has developed and the real battle of France may now be in the making. The fact that there is still a French navy and a large French army in Africa and other French possessions means that the developments within France are of more than local importance to the Germans. It may become a revolution that will be more than just an ordinary headache to Herr Hitler.

Under the pressure of war demands the government has given encouragement to the oleomargarine industry and leaders of the dairy industry are organizing an understandable revolt. The government probably is thinking in terms of world needs. Leaders of the dairy industry are thinking of the interests they serve. For years to come there probably will be an actual world-wide shortage of fats for human consumption which must be taken into consideration in present planning. Encouragement of butter substitutes will no doubt be disadvantageous to dairymen, but if the concessions now being made to oleo are only temporary, to be withdrawn at the end of the emergency, butter may not suffer unduly. After all, good butter is good butter, for which there is no substitute.

Next Sunday will be the start of the eleventh week of Hitler's Russian invasion and when it is remembered that at the start of this blitz it was predicted even by informed observers that Russia could not possibly hold out more than six weeks it will have to be conceded that the Russian defense has been remarkably successful. The Germans are now fighting desperately against time. Fall rains are reported to be adding to their difficulties in the north. Longer nights and cold weather are considered favorable to the defenders. Under the circumstances it is certain that Hitler is putting on the utmost possible pressure in the hope of getting quick results. Whatever gains he may make will be at tremendous cost in men and materials. It is not to be expected that even his well equipped war machine can stand such sustained pressure over a fifteen hundred mile front indefinitely. We wonder if Herr Hitler isn't beginning to worry a little about what the folks at home are going to say when they have checked the lists of "dead and missing."

A hundred and fifty-four young fellows from this corner of the state made application for work in an airplane factory when representatives of the company held examinations here this week, and many of the applications probably will be accepted. Our territory is well represented in the ranks of that civilian army that is working for the government in Newfoundland. Then of course there are those able bodied lads who have been caught in the draft and the many others who have found employment in the industrial centers. The result of this steady drain on our manpower is already making itself felt in local employment circles. Common question among business men nowadays is, "Where can I get a good man."

Ted Christensen, former mayor of Red Lake Falls, has returned to that city to resume his old status of proprietor of the Red Lake Falls creamery, and friends of his, of whom there are many in Thief River Falls, join in extending him a hearty welcome back to the old home community. We are glad to add our voice to the chorus.

The letter "V" has been adopted as an emblem of the Allies in their attempt to undermine the German morale. There is some doubt as to its exact meaning, but a Scandinavian source reported to us that it means, "Ve vill vin."—Minneota Mascot.

Pamphlet Cites Lamb Fattening as Aid to Extra Feed Marketing

With a surplus of feed this year, farmers in Minnesota, the Dakotas and Montana are urged to market extra feed through a lamb-fattening program on the farm.

To assist farmers and stockmen in setting up a program, which also would provide an additional cash income, the Great Northern railway's agricultural development department just has published a folder on lamb fattening. The folder presents a discussion of equipment and feeds and outlines basic principles of a sound feeding program on farms.

Material in the folder was compiled with the assistance of animal husbandry and extension service divisions of state agricultural colleges in the four states.

"Lamb fattening, as a major farm enterprise, has three objectives," said E. B. Duncan, Great Northern general agricultural agent. "One is to provide a market for surplus hay and grain raised on the farm; another is to provide additional cash income for the farmer; and the third is to maintain fertility of the land so that it will continue to produce profitable yields."

NOT ALL FUN WHEN MONKEY BITES GIRL

Baudette—All wasn't fun at the county fair for young Mary Jane Laughty. Mary was one of the many girls who were feeding the monkeys, only she held out a hand with no food in it, and the monkey snapped, biting her finger severely. The girl was taken to a doctor, and her wound treated. She realizes now that had she held some peanuts at the time, the experience might have proved less painful to her, and the day would have been a much happier one for all parties concerned.

Two Suicides Only

Fort Worth, Texas, police have recorded the second suicide among the city's 25,000 Negro population in seven years. A 24-year-old woman took poison after a quarrel with her sweetheart.

Reason is that the boys forget to make believe that they were being protected by a mythical air force.

A little monkey in a tree

Cut Traffic Dangers of Defective Eyesight

More than 1,000 motor vehicle operators who, through no fault of their own but because of defective vision or physical handicaps, have constituted traffic hazards to themselves and others, have been helped on the way to safer driving since January 1, by the Drivers License division of the State Highway department.

During the first six months of the year, the department has required 796 drivers to consult licensed occulists or optometrists and obtain statements showing that eye-sight defects had been corrected. Restricted licenses have been issued to 437 drivers whose vision is impaired. Some of the restricted licenses permit the motorist to drive only during the daylight hours, some permit him to drive only at certain maximum speeds considerably below the uniform speed limits, and others specify that he may drive only when wearing corrective lenses.

In addition to these efforts to reduce accidents resulting from defective vision, the department has conducted drivers' tests of 236 physically handicapped persons. These tests have resulted in issuance of 23 destricted licenses and the cancellation of 34 licenses of persons unable to operate a motor vehicle with safety.

South St. Paul, Minn., August 26, 1941: Grain-fed steers and yearlings continue to reap largely steady prices at the South St. Paul stockyards, according to the Federal-State Market News Service. Otherwise, the action on most other slaughter cattle has been irregularly expressed. Medium to good steers cashed on a weak to 15c lower basis. The influx of cows has far exceeded present demands, and the trade is more or less in a dormant condition. Cows and some of the bulls sold fully 25c lower to start off the week's trading, and additional downturns of 10-15c was noted Tuesday on cows. The crop of cows comprised at least 50 per cent of the salable supply. Vealers have not changed materially, except that when numbers are increased the sorting becomes more severe. Replacement cattle received broad support to maintain a fully steady character. Choice Mediumweight steers scored $12.75 Tuesday and heavy bullocks turned at $12.25.

An irregular trend in hog prices on the week's opening session sent top [illegible] to a new four year high at $11.75, while sows sagged 10 to 15c along with heavy butchers. Tuesday's trade on barrows and gilts was 5 to 10c under the close of last week, while sows were 10 to 15c off. The top was $11.65, with the bulk 170 to 240 lb. offerings moving at $11.50 to $11.60. [illegible] 240 to 270 lb. averages brought $11.10 to $11.50, while weights around 300 lbs. sold down to $10.75, and kinds up to 330 lbs. cashed down to $10.50. Sows 400 to 450 lb. offering largely at $10.50 to $11.25. Sows of all weights bulked in a $10.50 to $10.85 spread.

Generally 25c lower prices prevail for native and western spring lambs, while other slaughter and replacement classes tended to hold a steady level, this due mainly to light supplies. Local receipts have been curtailed, but other principal live centers record some increase. The trend for dressed lamb in the east has been weak to lower. Late sales of spring lambs peaked at $11.75, with western feeders up to $11.25.

GRYGLA

A group of relatives gathered at the Wesley Dougherty home Thursday evening in honor of Mrs. Dougherty's birthday which occurred that day and her son Donald's first birthday, which occurred Saturday. The party, which was a surprise, was very informal with music and group singing forming the main diversion. At a late hour the ladies in the group served a lovely lunch featuring two birthday cakes. Those sharing the occasion besides the honor guests and Mr. Dougherty were the Curtis, Harold and Arthur Nordby, Juel Sistad and Gilman Hylland families and Naida Dougherty, who has been visiting here.

Canning Demonstration

A canning demonstration for the farm women in the Moose River community was conducted Monday afternoon at the Alton Anderson home. Miss Dorothy Eau of Thief River Falls demonstrated pressure canning of corn and tomatoes and explained methods of canning and answered questions. This demonstration was conducted by the Beltrami division of the Farm Security Administration. Following the demonstration Mrs. Anderson served a lovely lunch to the ladies present.

Mrs. J. T. Peterson and Quentin and Joan of LeSueur arrived Saturday to spend a week at the Hans Peterson home and with other relatives. Other visitors at the Peterson home on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Russel Wentz of Grand Forks and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rostau and children of Mavie.

John Parbell, Bob Rose and Ardith Thompson, all of Thief River Falls, spent Sunday with Adelaide Peterson.

Naida Dougherty who has been employed at Denver, Colorado, came home recently to spend a week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Dougherty and with other relatives. She left last Saturday for Honolulu where she will resume her nursing profession.

Colleen Lassonson, who has been visiting at the Tom Knutson home for the past few weeks, left Monday for Thief River Falls to visit relatives for a week before returning to her home at Fergus Falls.

Mrs. Kenneth Knutson is leaving this week to begin teaching duties in a school in Sugarbrush township near Bemidji.

Agnes and Gudrun Sandland returned on Monday from Minneapolis where they have been visiting relatives for some time. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Storgaard and children of Minneapolis, who spent a few days at the G. O. Sandland home.

A NEW WAY TO BEAT THE HEAT IS FOUND

Graceville.—Although the temperature has hovered about the 100 degree mark lately, Andrew Johnson, aged resident of Grove City, found a cool spot in his own back yard. On remembering he had left a pail in the cistern some time ago, placed a ladder in the well in order to fetch it. He lost his balance however, and plunged into three feet of water. Mr. Johnson admitted that this wasn't the best way to beat the heat, but it proved very refreshing.

NORDINE RETAINS HIS INVITATIONAL GOLF TITLE HERE

Shoots Last Nine Holes in Sizzling 31 to Win Over Hiller

Fifty-nine northwest golfers participated in the second annual Thief River Falls invitational golf tournament played over the local course Saturday and Sunday. The chilled gallery that followed the finals match Sunday afternoon saw defending champion Jimmy Nordine shoot a 37-31—68 to defeat Crookston's Ernotte Hiller, 4 and 3, and retain the title he won last year. Nordine, after playing a ding-dong first nine with his opponent, blazed around the course in a record-tying mark of 31, and to give him his 4 up margin of victory.

Vic Kvikstad, making a remarkable recovery from a 4 down position, defeated Don McKenzie Jr. 2 up to win the championship consolation finals.

To reach the finals Jim Nordine had defeated Don McKenzie, 6 and 4, in a first round match Saturday afternoon; and a 2 and 1 win over H. O. Chommie Sunday morning; while Ernotte Hiller was edging out Vic Kvikstad, 2 and 1, and Dr. C. L. Oppegaard, 1 up.

Other flight winners, runners-up and consolation winners are as follows: First flight, Larry Strandemo, Mahnomen, defeated Dick Thronson, 7 and 6; consolation, Dr. Ed. Bratrud, 2 up over Jack Paine, Bemidji. Second flight—Floyd Daniels winner over Wm. Claffy, 3 and 2; consolation, A. C. Huseild, 2 up over Lloyd Bennes.

Third flight—Cal Colvin defeated C. Shol, 2 and 1; consolation, H. R. Baum defeated Ed. Kiland, 3 and 2. Fourth flight—Dane Nordine, Karlstad, defeated Don McKenzie, Sr., Crookston, 4 and 2; consolation, John Sands, Alvarado, defeated Howard Casmey, Crookston, 4 and 2. 17,000 Drivers Under 25 Years Old Jailed for Traffic Offenses

More than 17,000 of the 60,000 motor vehicle drivers arrested during the last 18 months in Minnesota were between the age limits of 18 and 25.

Reports received by the drivers license division of the Minnesota highway department from the various courts throughout the state show that 7,101 motorists convicted of moving traffic law violations were under age—that is between the ages of 15 and 20 inclusive. Another 9,938, the largest single age group in the entire list, were between the ages of 21 and 25.

The 15 to 20 years age group comprised 12.3% of the drivers and committed 11.9% of the violations. The 21 to 25 years age group comprised 12.4% of all motorists but committed 17% of all violations. Moving violations do not include such offenses as overtime parking, etc. which do not endanger life and property.

The age group from 26 to 40 years, which constitutes 35.6% of all licensed drivers in Minnesota, committed 52.3% of all traffic law violations and the total number of motorists convicted in this group was 22,981.

Drivers from 41 to 60 years of age, estimated to constitute 33.3% of the motorists, were responsible for only 21.8% of the convictions, and the total number of violations in this group was 10,775.

Persons over 61 years of age comprised 4.4% of the motorists using the highways and committed 4.3% of the violations.

The Putt That Ended the Match

Hartz D-Ballers Again Are League Champions

Scoring in the 1st half of the 10th inning— Offerdahl crossing the plate on Bill Hallamack's infield hit —the Hartz team retained their city D-ball championship by defeating Land O'Lakes, 4 to 3, in the third and final game of the play-off series Tuesday night. Land O'Lakes opened the series last Thursday night with a 4 to 3 win in 9 innings; the Hartz came back with an easy 11 to 4 victory on Friday night, to knot the series; and then went on to win the final game Tuesday night, 4 to 3, in 10 innings.

Land O'Lakes, 4; Hartz, 3

"Rusher" Hallstrom's double into left-center, scoring Woody Almquist, who had reached second base on an infield hit and an over-throw, gave the Land O'Lakes a 4 to 3 win in the opening game of the championship play-offs Thursday night. Offerdahl's walk, Jaranson's right-field triple, and a wild pitch, gave Hartz two scores in the 1st inning. Anderson's single, a walk to Hallstrom, and Phil Ewing's triple, knotted the count in the 2nd inning; and Bob DuChamp's triple, and scoring on Almquist's long foul fly, gave the Lakers a one run lead in the 4th inning. Al Ness sent the game into extra innings when he beat out an infield hit, and scored when the Land O'Lakes infield messed up Al Johnson's ground ball.

After the Lakers had tallied twice in the 1st inning of Friday's game, the Hartz bunched six hits, with two bases on balls and two errors, in their half of the 1st, to score five runs. The Hartz ten played a fine game in support of Ness' steady pitching, with shortfielder Johnny Jaranson being especially effective. The Land O' Lakes team were jittery, and committed seven errors, with the infielders tagging each other out, and the outfield mis-judging fly balls.

Woody Almquist's terrific home-run drive into deep left-center in the first of the 7th inning tied up Tuesday night's game at 3-all; and set the stage for Hartz win in the 10th inning. Two errors, a walk, and Jess DuChamp's single, gave Hartz two tallies in the 1st inning. Land O'Lakes broke into the run-getting column in the 2nd inning when doubles by Jim LaFave and Woody Almquist accounted for a run. Al Ness' triple into center field, and a wild pitch, gave Hartz another marker in their half of the 2nd inning; and a two-run lead. Klem Gigstad's double, and "Ham" Myhrer's single, chalked up a Land O'Lakes score in the 3rd inning; and Woody Almquist's homerun in the 7th sent the game into extra innings.

CROOKSTON GOLF TOURNEY IS SET FOR NEXT WEEKEND

HORSE TRADER HONEST; ANIMAL SHOULDERS PROOF

Goodhue—This story had its origin twenty-five years ago, but only now it comes to light. At that time John Voth, now deceased, sold a horse to Henry Korsten. Upon inquiring as to the condition of the animal, the prospective buyer was told that nothing was wrong except that a dime was sewed in the shoulder muscle of the horse so that it would get over the "Sweeney". Now, the horse having died, Mr. Korsten cut into this very same muscle where situated, was ten cents worth of Uncle Sam's money. The coin was a bit darkened, and was dated 1899.

AFTER FIVE DECADES BILL PAID IN FULL

Worthington.—When C. B. Andrews of Rushmore sold a road cart to a friend back in the '90s, it never entered his mind that not until the year 1941 would the two-wheeled vehicle be paid for. Andrews recently has been the recipient of a letter containing a check in the amount of $12.50, the final payment on this long past sale. The creditor explained that he was getting old and had been "thinking about things"; therefore, he decided to pay the remaining sum lest the day come when it would be too late for him to fulfill this desire.

FINDS FOUR AND FIVE-LEAF CLOVERS

Elysian.—If superstitious beliefs are of any value at all, Leonard Nelson, a power company employee, will spend most of his remaining days a very happy man. While working at a sub-station plant in this town, Mr. Nelson came across a group of four-leaf clovers, one root containing fifteen four-leaf and two five-leaf clovers. As hard as it may be to find a four-leaf clover, the latter specimen is much the rarer.

ST. CHARLES MAN USES PITCHFORK FOR 59 YEARS

St. Charles.—Probably the oldest pitchfork in use today in Winona county is the one owned by F. E. Franks, well-known farmer of this locality. The implement is 59 years old, and after all this time is still being used. Except for one defect, a broken tine, the fork is in perfect shape. It was one of the first used by Mr. Frank when he and his wife started farming in Boone county, Iowa, in the year 1882.

Keeping Score

They're Still the Champs

It was 11:22 Tuesday night; the last half of the 10th inning; the score tied at 3-all; the final game of the series; two men were out; Clarence Offerdahl on third base, and Bill Hallamack at bat; Land O'Lakes pitcher "Ham" Myhrer whipped his fast ball in to the batter, and Hallamack bounded a grounder along the third base line and beat, by half a step, Wally Tunberg's throw to first base for a hit, scoring Offerdahl with the game-winning run. So the Hartz are still champs of the D-ball league. The game, which was a frost-bitten affair, was a contest all the way, with the Hartz team taking advantage of Land O'Lakes mis-plays, and getting a couple of "breaks", to emerge the victors. But in such a tussle, and in the series too, there is enough honor for both the winner and the loser.

N. B. Early in May I picked the Hartz team to win the championship. It's about the first click I've had for six months, so I have to make mention of it.

My All-Star D-ball Team

I'll perhaps get some arguments on my all-star selections, especially from Jim Kelly, but here they are: pitcher, "Ham" Myhrer, Land O' Lakes; catcher, Gaynor Eide, Kiewel's; first base, Stan Cockrell, Bridgeman's, or Jesse DuChamp, Hartz; second base, Bill Hallamack, Hartz; third base, Wally Tunberg, Land O'Lakes, or Gregg Pouliot, Red Lake Falls; shortstop, Roy Lee, Hartz; short fielder, Johnny Jaranson, Hartz; left field, Woody Almquist, Land O'Lakes; center field, Wally DuChamp, Kiewel's; and right field, Jimmy LaFave, Land O' Lakes.

Jimmy Ties Course Record

While trouncing Ernotte Hiller, 4 and 3, in the finals of the golf tournament Sunday, Jim Nordine equaled Tom Jurde's course record when he blazed around the course in 31, five strokes under par. On the 1st hole, which is a par 5, Jim had an eagle 3; took a par 4 on the 2nd; a birdie 4 on the 3rd hole; a birdie 2 on the 4th hole; shot a 5, 3, and a 4, on the 5th, 6th, and 7th holes, all pars; a birdie 3 on the 8th; and par 3 on the 9th; for a 31.

Practice Makes Perfect

There's an old saw to the effect that "practice makes perfect", and the trapshooters that were out at the Fair Grounds Sunday witnessed an example of the truth in that adage.

Dr. P. M. Dale, of Granite City, Ill., visiting here, broke 25 straight in Sunday's shoot. The Doc only began to shoot at clay pigeons a year or so ago, and in his first attempt he only broke 2 out of 25. He vowed then that if practice would improve his shooting and timing that he'd surely put in the practice; and since then hardly a day has passed that the Doctor has failed to shoot several rounds. The result is that now he's always in the 20's when he shoots.

Prospects Are Only Fair

There weren't very many lettermen in the first squad of Prowlers that reported to Coach Harry Newby for the opening session of football practice Monday morning. With school registration next Monday it is expected that the bulk of the experienced players, many of whom are working, will report.

With the first game, with Red Lake Falls, only two weeks way, Coach Newby has been sending the [illegible] practices. The morning sessions being devoted to instructions on plays, formations, etc.; while the afternoon drills are given over to fundamentals and basic play.

Judging by these preliminary sessions it's apparent that Newby's problem will be to develop a backfield to operate behind the Prowlers veteran line. The only boys with considerable backfield experience, among the boys that have reported, are Luther Fjelstad and "Guernsey" Gjerhes, and they will probably be given a trail at quarterback and fullback, respectively.

Committee is Satisfied

The committee on what's-wrong-with-local-athletics —namely, Al Holzknecht, Lloyd Bennes, and Judge Arnold—have been operating on a double-shift basis since football practice began. And it's their consensus that Harry Newby is okay.

Whose Dog Is He Anyway.

The DuChamp boys, Wally, Jess, and Bob have a six months old pointer pup, called Duke, and they're always bragging about what a fine hunter he is. Says Wally: "Boy, have I ever got a dog". Says Jess: "You should see that dog of mine hunt." Says Bob: "Can my dog ever find chickens." Well, last week the pup got loose and went after a couple of pair of silk hose on the neighbor's line, and a dress or two. Says Wally: "That fool dog of Jess' and Bob's sure gets into trouble." Says Jess: "It's funny that Wally and Bobby can't take care of that dog of their's. Says Bob: "You should have seen what Wally's and Jess' dog did to the neighbor's clothes." They'll do it every time.

WARREN DEFEATS LOCAL BALL CLUB SECOND TIME 4-3

Thief River Falls to Play on Plummer Diamond Next Sunday

A fast double play, with Rex Bossard snaring Jesse DuChamp's line drive and pegging to Rosendahl to double Nick Bromberg off first, closed out the Warren game here Sunday and gave Harold Stroble his second 4 to 3 decision over the locals this season. Thief River Falls will end their season's schedule with a game at Plummer next Sunday.

Warren opened the scoring in the 1st inning on McGlynn's double to left, an error, and a fielder's choice, to score one run. Thief River in their half of the 1st inning filled the bases on singles by Jess DuChamp, Stan Cockrell, and Bill Hallamack. Johnny Jaranson's long fly scored Jess; Wally DuChamps' ground-ball was bobbled by shortstop Ready, and Cockrell scored on the error. Bob DuChamp was a strikeout victim; and Nornes grounded out, pitch to first, to end the inning.

Warren regained the lead in the 2nd inning when three ground singles, by Stroble, Rosendahl, and Bossard, and a base on balls, gave the vistors two tallies. And Warren increased their one run margin by marking up a score in the 5th inning on a base on balls, a fielder's choice, a single by Web Larson, and an error.

After being held hitless and scoreless for 4 innings, Thief River picked up a score in the 6th inning when Wally DuChamp's long double into left-center scored John Jaranson, who had reached first base on an error. The locals brought the tying run around to third base in the 7th inning, when Gordy Reierson singled and reached second and third on infield outs, but Hallamack's hard drive was taken by center-fielder Larson for the third out.

Shevlin Pastor to Talk at Luther League Rally in St. Hilaire Sunday

The Luther League of the Norwegian Lutheran church of St. Hilaire will be host to the leaguers and young people of the other three churches of the parish, St. Pauli, Clearwater and Oak Ridge congregations, at a special rally program in St. Hilaire Church, Sunday evening at 8:00.

Guest speaker of the evening will be the Rev. J. B. Jerstad, newly-installed pastor at Shevlin. Having attended the International Young Peoples Luther League Convention held this past June in Billings, Mont., Mr. Jerstad will give some of his impressions of the convention and will speak on the convention theme: "Conquering with Christ."

"Because of Mr. Jerstad's experience and accomplishments as a leader in young peoples Luther League work and the vital message he has for Christian young people", said the Rev. Alvin O. Skibsrud, pastor of the St. Hilaire Parish, "I am especially anxious that all our young people be in attendance at this special program."

People find out how foolish it is to stay up all night when it finally dawns on them.

Don't be too positive in your opinions. It is highly embarrassing to recross a stream after you have burned your bridges.

ASK COAL USERS TO FILL BINS AS SOON AS POSSIBLE

Defense Council Urges Step to Relieve Transportation Agencies

Minnesota coal buyers this week were urged by Ernest L. Olrich, chairman of the state defense council, to join in an effort to fill their bins as quickly as possible. The recommendation is advanced as a step toward easing the fall and winter burden on the vitally needed transportation facilities in the state.

"None is wise enough," Mr. Olrich said, "To accurately forecast what our defense needs this winter are going to be. We do know, however, that we must have fuel to heat our homes and we also know that transportation is vital to defense. If the coal bins of Minnesota homes are filled now, the railroads will be relieved of just that much traffic that normally is handled during the fall and winter and hence they will be correspondingly better prepared to meet the defense demands that certainly will be made on them."

The following "Five Rules for householders, have been suggested by the consumer division of the office of price administration for civilian supply, in promoting the "Buy Coal Now" campaign:

1 Call your coal dealer and arrange for as much of your winter's supply as you can handle.

2 The earlier you buy coal, the more money you will save, according to every present index.

3 Some kinds of bituminous coal disintegrate less than others. Consult your dealer as to the kind of coal that you should buy.

4 If necessary make credit arrangement with your dealer so that you can fill your bin early.

NINTH DISTRICT HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY FORMED

Melvin Bergeson of Fertile Named First President at Crookston

The first annual meeting of the Ninth District Horticultural Society was held at the Northwest School of Agriculture, Crookston, in conjunction with the first annual flower show on August 19. One hundred enthusiasts in landscape gardening and flower growing were present for the program and business meeting; delegates from garden clubs in Marshall, Pennington, Polk, Norman, and Mahnomen counties represented their clubs at the business session. The Fertile Garden Club, with twenty members arriving in a chartered bus, took honors for the club with the largest attendance.

On the formal program, Superintendent T. M. McCall of the Northwest School, in presenting a program for home grounds beautification for the entire Red River Valley, praised the work of the local garden clubs. Mr. McCall also pointed out how the Red River Valley Development Association, through its county Valley Farmer and Homemaker awards and prizes to 4-H Club members for tree planting in the counties of this district, was aiding the county agents in the home grounds beautification program. Melvin Bergeson of the Bergeson Nursery at Fertile, spoke on the subject "New and Desirable Varieties of Shrubs and Woody Plants for Northwestern Minnesota." Mrs. M. Kannowski, superintendent of Parks of Grand Forks, North Dakota, gave an address on "New and Desirable Varieties of Annual and Perennial Flowering Plants."

It was decided that the annual meeting of the new organization should be held on Thursday of Winter Shows week each year at which time officers should be elected and plans made for the annual summer meeting and flower show. Officers elected included: Melvin Bergeson of Fertile, president; Mrs. Harry Cook of Newfolden, vice president; J. H. Wampole, horticulturist, Northwest School and Station, Crookston, secretary-treasurer; delegate at large C. M. Peack, Crookston.

258 Drivers Licenses Revoked for Drinking During Month of July

Two hundred and fifty eight motorists, the largest number in any single month since the origin of the Minnesota drivers license law, suffered outright revocation of their driver's licenses during July because of their fondness for intoxicating liquors.

Officials of the state highway department, who made the announcement today, asserted it is significant that the unprecedented number of convictions for drunken driving should have occurred during the month which recorded the year's most startling increase in traffic fatalities.

In all, 263 drivers licenses were revoked during July, the third largest monthly list in the history of the license law. Of these 252 were for drunken driving and 8 for habitual inebriacy.

During the same month Minnesota streets and highways were the scenes of traffic tragedies which claimed 69 lives. This was an increase of 27 deaths over the 42 fatalities recorded in July of 1940, when only 137 drivers licenses were revoked for drunken driving and one for inebriacy. Revocations for drunken driving and inebriacy have totalled 841 so far this year, with 269 more suspended for the same cause.

BRUIN SOUGHT FISH; RETURNED EMPTY HANDED

Coleraine.—While fishing recently, Walt Powers and a friend noticed something moving on the shore line. They were doubly sure when a bear appeared and made straight for their boat, it probably having noticed the huge bluegill that Walt was hoisting in. The animal swam to the boat and not succeeding in getting the prey it was after, made a grab for the string tied to the boat. Alas, all was in vain, for Walt was not one to surrender his fish so easily. He sent an oar flying in the direction of the bear's head, and consequently it wasted no time in leaving. The men resumed their fishing, as though nothing had occurred.

STATE HAS NEARLY 120 MILES PAVING NOW IN PROGRESS

Second Largest Program Yet to be Undertaken without Bond Issue

When contracts are awarded on bids received last Friday, the state highway department will have under contract this year 119.6 miles of concrete pavement on state trunk highways.

This is the second largest concrete paving program ever undertaken without the aid of bond issue money in any one year of Minnesota's road building history. All but 10.9 miles are to be completed this year, and 5.9 miles of additional work is currently programmed, to be built early in 1942.

Highway Commissioner M. J. Hoffmann pointed out that the 119.6 miles already let are of sufficient width to equal 144 miles of old 18-foot pavement, regarded as standard up to 1928. The cost will be $3,756,000.

The only previous non-bond issue year in which mileage of concrete exceeded that already under contract for 1941, was the year 1925 when 179.2 miles were paved. The 1925 paving, being of 18 foot width, comprised 1,875,000 square yards of concrete surface, while the 119.6 miles being laid this year total 1,510,750 square yards, a difference of only 355,250 square yards.

The exceptional 1925 paving program was made possible by the fact that that year the State Highway Department still received revenues from the higher motor vehicle license tax, then averaging $16.50 per vehicle, and for the first time had available the proceeds of the newly enacted gas tax law, all proceeds from which originally accrued to the state trunk highway fund without division with the counties.

Minnkota Diesel Engines Get Test Run This Week

All three of the 1,000-horse-power Diesel engines at the Minnkota Power Co-operative generating plant had their first running tests Monday, each being in action for half an hour.

The tests were run by James Moodie of the Cooper Bessemer corporation, manufacturers of the engines.

The machines will be tested under load for a week or 10 days, then are scheduled to take over rural electric service in the northern Red river valley which now is being handled by the power plant of the state mill and elevator at Grand Forks.

SKELETONS UNEARTHED AT INDIAN MOUND

Ortonville. — An important discovery was made recently at the local golf course, one which will undoubtedly prove to be of great value to our state historians. It was not a new type of shot performed by one of golfdom's greats but rather the uncovering of two skeletons during the excavation of the Indian mound. The bones were judged to be those of adult Indians who probably died and were buried long before the white man came to this region. The skeletal material was packed for shipment to the state university, and will be returned later to go on display at the clubhouse, which will be built on the site of the mound.

The telephone is helping speed up the production of planes, tanks, guns—all the many weapons and materials of defense.
Never before have such heavy demands been put upon the telephone, particularly in the larger cities and over the principal long distance lines.

Attendance Registers Small Decline from Opening Day Last Year

ENTIRE FACULTY ON DUTY HERE TUESDAY

G. E. Ahre, Band Director, Called to Service in Army Air Corps

The public schools of Thief River Falls drew an attendance of 1,534 on the opening day of the fall term Tuesday, Supt. Morris Bye announced today. The total compares with an opening day enrollment of 1,570 in 1940.

Following are comparative figures for the various schools for this year and last:

	1941	1940
H. S. Grades 9-12	582	622
H. S. Grades 7-8	212	201
Washington	240	232
Northrop	230	249
Knox	270	266
	1,534	1,570

Enrollment in the upper grades was as follows: Seventh, 103; eighth, 109; ninth, 146; tenth, 156; eleventh, 133; twelfth, 120; postgraduate, 6; teacher training, 16. In the kindergarten classes a total of 105 little boys and girls were enrolled.

"The slight decline in the opening high school enrollment was attributed largely to the fact that more jobs are available for young people this fall than in former years.

All faculty members were on duty at the opening of the school term Tuesday. Possibility looms, however, that it may be necessary to find a successor to Glendon E. Ahre, band instructor. A first lieutenant in the U. S. Army air corps reserve, Mr. Ahre has been ordered to report for a physical examination at Fort Snelling next Monday, and then, if he passes the test, he will be assigned to service at Elmendorf air field in Alaska. Mr. Bye stated that no action looking toward the appointment of a successor will be taken until it is known whether Mr. Ahre has passed his physical examination.

F. D. R. PLEDGES FULL U. S. HELP AGAINST NAZIS

President Delivers Labor Day Message to Nation Monday

SAYS U. S. EFFORT IS NOT YET SUFFICIENT

Declares Nation Will Do All in Its Power to Crush Hitler

Reminding his fellow Americans of their constant readiness to fight for their rights, President Roosevelt declared Monday that "we must do our full part" in conquering "forces of insane violence" let loose by Adolf Hitler.

"There never has been a moment in our history," he said in a broadcast Labor day address, "when Americans were not ready to stand up as free men and fight for their rights."

The fundamental rights of Americans, established by their forefathers on the field of battle, are threatened, he warned, "by Hitler's violent attempt to rule the world."

The president spoke of the increasing war production of the nation's throbbing industries, but asserted that "our American effort is not yet enough." He hinted at additional steps to guarantee delivery of weapons and war equipment overseas but did not mention specific methods.

Once more he scorned the doctrine of appeasement. "Appeasers and Nazi sympathizers, he asserted, have asked him to become a modern Benedict Arnold, to betray a devotion to freedom, churches and country. This was his reply:

"This course I have rejected—I reject it again.

"Instead, I know that I speak the conscience and determination of the American people when I say that we shall do everything in our power to crush Hitler and his Nazi forces."

A. C. Matheson returned Wednesday from St. Paul where he had been teaching Spanish in the summer adult education classes.

COUNTY WELFARE BOARD TO CHECK ON FOOD PRICES

Division of Social Welfare Orders Survey Thruout Minnesota

The survey will be made on September 10 at the request of the division of social welfare, it was announced this week in St. Paul by Walter W. Finke, director.

The purpose of the study is to provide an accurate basis for any adjustments that may be necessary in the division's standard food budget. This budget is used as a guide by county welfare boards throughout the state, in making their public assistance and relief grants. Mr. Finke pointed out that a number of basic items recently have been removed from the surplus commodity list and that this fact will be taken into consideration, with relation to food budgets.

Ordinarily, the division makes a food price study twice each year—in May and November. However a special study was felt necessary at this time, in view of the rapidly changing prices on so many essential items.

Satin streamers fell from the bouquet and from the bow in her hair. To complete her costume she wore a gold cross given her by the bride. MAKES LONG TRIP BY WAY OF BICYCLE

Luverne.—Because he did not have the services of an automobile to his disposal, and wanting very much to visit his relatives at Luverne, James Pinley, residing temporarily at Chatfield, decided to travel the 200 mile distance by way of bicycle. The young cyclist did not think the trip a hard one to make, although during the course of travel he stopped very few times. James has been working on a farm near Chatfield, and no doubt the nature of his work played an important part in conditioning him for the exerting journey. He needed only a little over 36 hours to complete the trip.

Luncheon was served at five tables on the lawn. Present were the Mesdames Lillian Loken, E. D. Traver, J. O. Yotter, L. J. Johnson, J. N. Nesse, Gilbert Sandum, Harold Rasmussen, O. F. Halldin, J. J. DEMONSTRATION OF ROUGH TILLAGE SET FOR TUESDAY

Project on Black River Farm Shows Ways of Stopping Soil Drifting

A rough tillage demonstration will be given at the Leonard Casavan farm, Black River township, on Tuesday afternoon, September 9 at 1:30 P. M. according to an announcement made today by County Agent Ernest Palmer. This demonstration is being conducted by the United States soil conservation service in cooperation with the University of Minnesota extension division as a program to stop the drifting of soil by wind.

The demonstration will show the operation of machinery such as the surface packer, basin tiller, small plow packer, one way disc tiller, tandem disc, duck foot and press tiller. Specialists from the Northwest School of Agriculture, Crookston, University Farm, St. Paul and from the soil conservation service will be present at the demonstration to explain the operation of the machinery.

Mr. Palmer calls attention to the fact that there are many farms in Pennington County on which wind erosion is a problem and urges farmers to take advantage of the opportunity to see the recommended practices put into operation.

The farm which Leonard Casavan operates on which this demonstration will be held is six miles west and two miles south of St. Hilaire. The field on which the demonstration will be given is just across the road from the Ed. Moren farmstead.

Minnesota Ranks High for Rapidity in Making Job Insurance Payments

Minnesota now ranks first among the 48 states in the prompt payment of job insurance, Governor Stassen announced this week. He made public details of a study conducted by the federal social security board, results of which were reported to him by Victor Christgau, director of the employment-security division.

In attaining first place among the states, Minnesota this year is rated at 94.5 out of a possible 100 points; 23.6 above the national average of 70.9.

Minnesota's [illegible] this year is a rise [illegible] 1940, and from forty-fifth place, three years ago. That was before the governor's reorganization plan had gone into effect and at a time when claimants were obliged to wait an average of approximately six weeks for a benefit check.

In Minnesota, out of a total of [illegible],664 payments made during the three-months period studied, 94.5 per cent were issued within less than one week following the end of the week for which the worker was compensated.

"IT'S A SMALL WORLD" SAYS RECENT VISITOR

St. Peter.—C. E. Hovenden stopped at Lafayette recently to visit Miss Amy Johnson, a former co-worker of his at the Caledonia school. After inquiring as to Miss Johnson's place of residence, Mr. Hovenden was met at the door by Miss Amy Johnson, but not the same one he had originally planned to see. This young lady had the same name and strangely enough knew the caller, as she was a classmate of his at Mankato Teacher's College. The incident served to prove that the world is quite a small one at that.

SON IN MISHAP— BUT FATHER SUFFERS

Stillwater. — Words cannot express the feelings of Boyd Christopherson as he followed in pursuit of a runaway car in which was imprisoned his two year old son, Duane. The vehicle descended a nearby hill and came to rest in a swamp, only after turning completely over. Strangely enough the young occupant of the car escaped possible injury and it was Mr. Christopherson instead who suffered the ill effects. While chasing the car he fell down once and then ran into a barbed wire fence, suffering many cuts and bruises.

Auxiliary Notes

Auxiliary to Have 1st Meeting of Year Thursday

The American Legion Auxiliary will have their first meeting of the year on Thursday evening, September 4. Reports of the state convention will be given and there will be a business session. Hostesses are Mrs. Rudolph Sagmoen and Mrs. M. P. Erickson.

The membership drive in this city is now under way, and dues and due Oct. 1.

The significance of membership in the Auxiliary is explained in part, as follows in a bulletin issued by the National Headquarters of the American Legion Auxiliary: "When we invite the mother, wife, sister or daughter of a Legionnaire to become a member of our Auxiliary we want her to know very definitely what we are offering. We want her to know why we place such a high value on our Auxiliary membership and to feel the significance of belonging to this great organization as we feel it."

"Security for America and all that America means in human happiness and liberty—security from foreign attack, from internal subversion and decay—for this the Auxiliary is continuously striving. Behind the armed defenses of the nation, the Auxiliary is helping to mobilize the great strength of public opinion; to bring the women of the country to understand the necessity for strong armed defenses, and to make their voices heard in a demand that America be adequately protected against war."

Weather Accuracy

An average accuracy of about 85 per cent is attained for the general weather and temperature forecasts issued for large areas each day by the weather bureau for periods of 36 and 48 hours in advance. A somewhat higher percentage of accuracy is attained in connection with specific forecasts pertaining to warnings of expected freezing temperatures, cold waves, frosts, heavy snows, high winds and storm warnings for coastal sections.

Camel From North America

The camel was originally from North America, according to an exhibition in the Field Museum of Natural History in Chicago. The exhibit traces the evolution of the camel from various American species down to the modern species now limited to Asia, Africa and South America. Each important step in camel evolution is illustrated by specimens of skulls, jaws and feet, showing successive anatomical changes which occurred. America was the stage upon which most of the evolution took place.

A LATE SUMMER FEAST

"August is my favorite month,"—the rather plump gentleman from down south explained. His reasons were that so many of his favorite foods were at their best in August. Then he told us his idea of a perfect meal for this time of year. It's the sort of dinner that would appeal to any man or woman . . . I think . . . regardless of what part of the country they might call home. Here it is:

Iced Cantaloupe
Fried Chicken
Corn Fritters
Peas in Cream
Boiled or Baked Sweet Potatoes
Hot Biscuits
Quince Jelly
Sliced Tomato Salad
Fresh Peach Ice Cream
Pound Cake
Coffee

CORN FRITTERS

1 egg
1 cup uncooked corn (cut from the cob)
½ tsp. salt
⅛ tsp. pepper
1 tbsp. melted butter
½ cup sifted all-purpose flour

Beat the egg and add other ingredients, mixing thoroughly. Drop by tablespoonfuls into hot frying pan in which 2 tbsp. fat have been melted. Cook until golden brown on both sides. Drain on brown paper and serve hot. This will make 10 servings.

Also a Good Lunch or Supper Dish

These Corn Fritters also make a delicious supper or lunch dish served with plenty of butter and syrup.

FRESH PEACH ICE CREAM

1 cup milk
½ cup sugar
4 tsp. all-purpose flour
⅛ tsp. salt
1½ cups mashed or finely cut peaches (6 medium-sized fresh peaches)
¼ to ½ cup sugar for peaches
1 cup whipping cream
1 tsp. vanilla

Scald the milk. Mix together the sugar, flour and salt. Pour the scalded milk slowly over sugar, flour and salt mixture and cook in a double boiler over hot water for about 20 minutes (until mixture thickens slightly). Cool. Add the peaches, sweetened with the ¼ to ½ cup sugar.

Add the stiffly whipped cream, folding it in. Blend thoroughly. Add the vanilla. Pour into the tray of a mechanical refrigerator and freeze until firm, stirring two or three times before the mixture is completely frozen. Or place in an ice cream freezer . . . using 3 parts ice to 1 part salt. Freeze. This makes 6 servings.

ANNOUNCE CIVIL SERVICE PLAN FOR WELFARE STAFF

Examinations Covering Four Positions in County to be Conducted

After several months of preparatory work, plans were announced this week for bringing under civil service the four positions at the office of the Pennington county welfare board. The jobs affected include the executive secretary of the Board as well as members of the visiting staff, clerks, and stenographers, whose salaries are paid out of welfare funds. Examination will be held in October.

In the development of this program, officially known as the merit system for social welfare employees, Robert M. McCurdy was appointed to be supervisor of examinations and eligible registers. Roger Cumming is to be in charge of employment details. Mr. McCurdy is a Minnesotan who for many years has been intimately associated with civil service activities.

To keep the merit system close to the county level, Walter W. Finke, director of the state social welfare division, this week announced an advisory committee, selected from nominations made by a former committee representing the state's county welfare boards.

This seven-person advisory committee is made up of three county commissioners, two laymen, an executive secretary of a county welfare board, and a welfare worker.

DOWN WENT PANTS, MONEY AND ALL

Belgrade.—It was quite a costly fishing trip that Herbert Wittie experienced recently. He was fishing with a party of four on Lake Koronis when members of the group fell victims to a sudden storm which overturned their boat and left them struggling in the water for three quarters of an hour before help arrived. In the excitement of trying to keep afloat, Wittie kicked off his trousers, containing his purse with $150 in it. The lost money did not seem too important, however, for Mr. Wittie realized that it was enough that he is alive today.

8,500 Drivers Warned, Arrested by Patrol for Flouting Road Safety

Almost 8,500 motorists driving on Minnesota's highways in July were given warnings, "must repair" tags or—in flagrant cases—were arrested during the month by state highway patrolmen, according to a report issued by Elden Rowe, chief of the Minnesota highway patrol.

High in the patrol's activities to take accident-prone motorists off the highways were the 3,897 written and verbal warnings given motorists for dangerous driving practices. Improper lights — glaring, inadequate or those out of focus—earned rebukes for 1,198 motorists. Warning tags were made out for 229 who ignored "stop" signs and for 218 who drove at speeds unsafe for road, weather or traffic conditions.

Illegal lights—those which were in such faulty condition as to endanger the lives of motorists—resulted in 2,102 illegal equipment or "must repair" tags being issued. In this list of improperly equipped vehicles were 1,085 with tail lights out, 629 with head lights out, 188 with lights out of adjustment and 119 with no clearance lamps. A total of 2,895 tags were issued requiring the immediate repair of faulty and dangerous equipment.

Motorists in distress, usually through no fault of their own, also received the attention of the highway patrolmen with 4,182 being given various forms of aid. Minor adjustments or repairs were made for 1,709, road information given to 1,898, gasoline delivered to 171 stranded motorists, obstacles removed for 117, 75 cars helped out of ditches, and garages called for 66 motorists whose cars needed mechanic's attention.

The general livestock judging team composed of Eugene Prestegaard, Star club; Robert and Carroll Parnow, Highlanding Club received 19th placing out of 33 teams entered. OFFICER HALTS SPEEDER BUT NO TICKET GIVEN

Claremont. — Lawrence Looke tells a story as related to him by a highway patrolman. The officer stopped a motorist who had been exceeding the speed limit. Hoping to emphasize the fact that the man was going too fast, the officer asked the traveler to show he had a flying license. It seems that the request was not a hard one to fulfil, for the driver had formerly been a pilot and still had his flying license in his possession. As it happened, the officer didn't have the heart to give the offender a ticket.

It takes more sound judgment to build a happy home than a beautiful home.

Kitty's Kommentz

A tragedy— I think I can call it that—has occurred. Every year now for six years a swallow nest has been occupied by a family of nestlings, enderly raised to full full grown birds by a devoted swallow couple.

Whether it has been the same two birds I do not know, but every year they'd come to nest, on the same rafter in the barn. They seemed to know no harm would befall them, and they'd really become quite tame.

This year our swallows were back again. The mother and father bird were as devoted as ever, and soon they were busily feeding five wide open beaks of quintuplet birdlings.

Then one day the cheeping from the nest seemed more insistent, and when they heard the human voice, the little fellows crowded almost to the very edge of the nest seeming that eager.

I looked for the parents and saw only one forlorn swallow sitting on the windmill. It was the mother (her coloring is more drab.) No effort did she make to feed her babies that day. "If she didn't feed them by morning, I must put an end to the poor little things" was the thought I had everytime I heard that hungry chirping.

Sure enough, the next mornig, she, alone, was feeding the oh, so hungry nestlings. I didn't pay any special attention to the birds any more since they were being fed, but I did notice a male swallow trying very hard to interfere with the family life of another couple nesting in the machine shed. But, believe me, Mr. Machine Shed Swallow really knew how to protect his home! Feathers flew more than once.

I wondered, "could that be the reason why mother swallow was so dejected. Had her mate left her for someone else? Could such an occurrence happen within the realms of bird life?"

A few days later I noticed on entering the barn the unmistakable odor of decomposing organic matter. I couldn't understand what it could be until I looked at the swallow nest—it was to quiet!

With a spade I tore it down and in it were five dead birdlings.

The little birds hadn't starved since I noticed she fed them. Could it have been, she purposely fed them something to kill them? No one knows! It was a tragic ending to a family life so brightly begun.

The mark of a nest on a rafter is a sad reminder of a swallow mother's broken heart.

Farmers, and those of us who hope to handle a few of the dollars the farmers put into circulation, are getting a little impatient because of the showers that keep things just wet enough to delay the threshing. Maybe we should be glad as long as it doesn't get any worse. It's a lot worse over in Wisconsin. What has happened in Wisconsin this past week reminds us that our own ditches may be useful again one of these years. It would be fine if they were in good condition.

It worries us a little too once in a while when we drive around and see all the new houses that are being built. Who in the world is going to occupy all the dwellings that are vacated by the people who are moving into the new places. But when we get back at the counter and house hunters start pestering us for tips on possible vacancies then we realize that in spite of all the new construction of recent years there still is an actual house shortage. Mrs. Myrtle Hale advertised a small place for rent last week. By five o'clock of the day the paper was out she had had sixteen telephone calls and nine personal visits by prospective renters, most of whom, of course, were too late. That may sound like a plug for the classified section, which really does bring good results, but we wouldn't mention that in this column. The point is that home building hasn't been overdone as yet and for the time being at least we will add this problem to the list of things we will not need to worry about.

If the success of the 4-H Club work in the county may be determined by results at the State Fair then we would say the Pennington County 4-H organization has had an unusually successful year. Our community made a very respectable showing at the state exposition and that certainly is a thing to feel good about. A round of cheers for those who contributed toward the good results.

We should know pretty soon now whether or not the Japs are going to do more than just talk about the American tankers that are delivering gasoline to Russia's back door. There has been a lot of conversation about this up to the present time and it won't take much of an incident to bring the argument to a head. The Japs have carried a chip on their shoulder a long time now and too often, it seems to us, they have gotten away with a bluff. Our government seems to have come to the conclusion now however that we can't keep on backing away forever. We have declared our intention of maintaining our rights on the high seas. Japan and Russia are not at war and a blockade of Russian ports is not justified. It strikes us that now would be a pretty good time to settle several important questions in which our rights in the Pacific are involved.

This week has been called the second anniversary of the war but that isn't strictly true. As a matter of fact the war is several years old, dating back to the Italian conquest of Ethiopia and the Japanese invasion of northern China. That is when the program of world domination was officially started by the dictators and that is when the Democracies should have joined hands in self defense. They didn't of course and one by one they went under. It is easy to point out past mistakes and some of the mistakes that were made are understandable. But why, when the mistakes of the past are so apparent, anyone should argue that we should continue making those mistakes, is difficult to understand. There still are people in this country, as there were in Norway and Holland and Belgium before their slaughter, who tell us that we can find safety only by standing alone; that we should remain indifferent to the murdering of our neighbors and come to terms with a combination of criminals whose avowed purpose it is to gain mastery of the entire world. No one in this country wants war, but no one wants slavery either. If the dictators overcome all opposition in Europe then there will be no alternative for us but war or slavery. To fail now in extending all possible aid to the nations that are still resisting the aggressors would be to hasten our own doom. On this second anniversary of the date of the beginning of a realistic attitude by the people of some of the Democracies it is encouraging to know that a large majority of our people now realize that our country cannot find security behind a Chinese Wall of isolation. We are a part of a world that is growing smaller rapidly, and we will have to assume our share of the responsibility for maintaining order in that world.

What was it Lindberg said about the Russians?

FARMERS AND PRICE CONTROL

(St. Paul Pioneer Press)

Congress should remember, when it gets down to the details of the price control legislation asked by the President, that the position of agriculture is a special one in the American economy.

The World War boom broke in 1920. In not one of the twenty years that have passed since then have farm prices as a whole recovered the relation they held with other prices and costs before the first World War. From time to time some individual farm products have done so, and the general level came close to doing it for a few years in the late 1920's. But the other prices have always run on ahead of farm prices, not only in times of prosperity, but especially in times of depression. Farm prices have always fallen farther, stayed down longer and come back less than others.

This has meant that the farmer has lost ground since 1914. He has not participated equally in the general rise of living standards since 1925. In relation to other groups he has been the "poor country cousin." He has had to exchange cheap wheat and meat for relatively expensive tools and household goods. A price level which would restore agriculture to its pre-1914 relationship to the rest of the system is called "parity." Parity is the objective of present farm legislation, but up to now it has not been attained.

However, parity is now in hailing distance. In June all groups of farm products had reached 118 per cent of their 1909-1914 level; commodities bought by farmers were 126 per cent of that level, farm wages around 140 per cent and farm taxes around 200 per cent. As nearly as such things can be figured, the American farmer was 94 per cent of the way to parity, against 61 per cent in 1932, the low point of the twenty-year period.

In the past 30 days, there has been a gain of seven points in the index number of farm prices, bringing it to 125. Other prices have also gone up, but the probability is that when the government statisticians bring out their figures for July, agriculture will be even closer than in June to parity.

Just at this point the government starts price control. The American farmer, having had bitter experience, wants no repetition of the war boom and post-war crash. But it will be most natural for him to feel, after this emergency is over, that if the government can fix prices so that they do not go above parity, it can also in less piping times, fix prices so that they do not go below parity. The two things may not be exactly the same from the technical point of view, but the farmer will come to the conclusion that the practical difficulties in the way of guarding his price structure on the "down side" of the cycle have been exaggerated.

On his side the farmer, too, has an obligation. There are proposals in Congress for relaxation of acreage control and market quota restrictions. The farmer must realize that he cannot have it both ways. Price protection without production and marketing control makes no sense. Free rein looks good just now, but it will create worse problems than it solves. The farmers will be in a far better position in the post-emergency period, both economically and politically, if they keep on the main road they are on.

Granite Falls—Soda is the common ingredient of many a baked food, but can also be used for a much different but useful purpose. So found out Mrs. Arnold Johnson who recently noticed flames rising from beneath her parked automobile. The fire did not last long, however, as grocer Will Anderson, noticing the blaze, grabbed a package of soda from his store shelves and threw the powder on the spreading flame. It proved to be an odd but rather effective way of bringing an end to the "hot" situation.

PAPER COMES HOME BY WAY OF THE MOUTH

Pelican Rapids.—When C. J. Swanson, conductor on the Pelican Train, finishes reading his daily paper, he throws it out the train window. There to fetch it is a dog belonging to Emil Olsch. The animal catches the paper and takes it home. This has been going on for some time, and the dog has never missed meeting the train. This dog is unusually clever and is certainly a credit to the canine race.

The letter was originally sent to Scribner's great, great, great grandfather in the fall of 1777. The parchment is 164 years old and has been passed through a long succession of owners to Koochiching county's own Percy Scribner. The keepsake was willed to Percy by an uncle, a former Wisconsin resident, now deceased.

Leaving the post office with the morning mail, Mr. Buttz opened a letter containing seventy five dollars in bills, when a gust of wind took the bills and scattered them in all directions. The bewildered man retrieved as many of the greenbacks as he could, but found that fifty dollars was unaccounted for. A reward was offered for the missing money.

South St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 2, 1941: Despite the fact that the past two days included a holiday, with light shipments, the demand for slaughter cattle has not shown any marked improvement. In fact, according to the Federal-State Market News Service, prices realized are mainly steady, with instances stronger on slaughter cows. Present levels are maintained only under pressure, as vigorous attempts are made to cheapen up on five cents and all interests have not followed the established trend. The number of fed steers and yearlings has been scarcely small, only strictly finished offerings being in reliable demand. Barely steady to 25c lower money prevailed in the East for dressed steer beef. The outlet for bulls continues narrow as the price trend weakens. Vealers cashed at fully steady figures, although some attempts have been made to weaken the price structure by heavier sorts. Replacement cattle did not find the broad demand registered a week ago and only closed for Choice kinds held steady, Medium grade on the weak side, with Common kinds largely 25c lower. Choice long yearlings sold at $12.25.

Hog prices were off mostly 20 to 25c [illegible] over the week about steady. Tuesday a top was $11.65 paid freely on Good and Choice 180 to 230 lb. weights, while the bulk Good and Choice 170 to 240 lb. offerings brought $11.50 to $11.65, similar grades scaling 240 to 270 lb. moved at $11.15 to $11.60, while most 270 to 330 lb. weights cashed at $10.80 to $11.25. Heavier weights were scarce, while a fairly liberal supply of 140 to 170 lb. averages cashed at $10.50 to $11.40. Good sows under 400 lbs. brought $10.10 to $10.30, with heavier weights downward to $9.65, mostly $9.85 up. Feeder pigs were scarce and steady to 25c lower at $10.75 to $11.25.

Spring lamb gains the past two days approximated 25 to 35c with other slaughter classes generally steady. Feeder lambs showed strength, some shipments including fats at 25 to 40c better money. Top late for Good to Choice western spring lambs was $12.15 with similar grade natives from $11.50 to $12.25. Most yearlings brought $9.50 to $9.75, a few at $10. Choice slaughter ewes secured $5.25. A wide range of $11 to $11.75 prevailed for Good to Choice range feeders.

LINCOLN SCHOOL OPENS FOOTBALL SEASON SEPT. 12

Coach Newby Drilling Men for Contest with Red Lake Falls

Coach Harry Newby and his assistants, Walt DePaul and "Bones" Stadum, have been sending a squad of forty Prowler football candidates through intensive drill in preparation for the season's opening game, which is scheduled to be played here Friday night, Sept. 12th. Last year Coach Munson's Red Lake Falls team surprised the Prowlers by handing the locals a defeat, for the only conference loss that the Prowlers received.

While it is too early to designate a "starting" eleven, Coach Newby has been drilling a "first" team that had Don Berg and Steve Alzes, at the ends; Orrin Pederson and Bob Wright, at the tackles; Pete Michalsky and Connie Geston, at the guards; Billy Knelling, at center; Luther Fjelstad, quarterback; Don Olson, Homer Matheson, and Allen Andre, at the halfbacks; and Orlin Gjernes, at fullback.

Lenny Lorentson will probably be inserted at right end, or perhaps given an opportunity in the backfield, where his left-handed passes would be a threat. John Dablow, center, and a letterman, is also expected to bolster the Prowler line. Roman Paulson and Ed Peterson, lettermen tackles, who reported late, will be first-rate tackle replacements, with Paulson alternating at the right tackle with Bob Wright.

The reserve eleven, from which the Prowler reserves will be selected, ran through signal drill with the following line-up: end, Ogden Helle and Harry Huset; tackles, John Berry and Calvin Travers; guards, Marlyn Dorn and Norman Furuseth; center, Bud Elde; quarterback, Don Aasland; halfbacks, Eddie Chommie and Harold Jechert; fullback, Charles Richards.

Expert Marksmen Coming Here Tuesday Afternoon at County Fair Grounds

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Johnson, widely known as the "Shooting Stars", will give a demonstration of their marksmanship at the Pennington county fair grounds next Tuesday afternoon, September 9, at 2 o'clock, it was announced today. Appearing under the sponsorship of an arms and ammunition company, Mr. and Mrs. Johnson will give an exhibition of stunts selected from a repertoire of more than sixty. In one of his most difficult stunts, Johnson tosses from three to five clay pigeons into the air, and then blasts them with his automatic shotgun before they hit the ground.

13 State-Owned Iron Mines Produce Huge Total to August 15th

Keeping pace with mounting national defense demands, iron ore production this year in 13 state-owned mines totaled 10,724,302 tons up to August 15, the largest in state history for that period, Ray D. Nolan, director of the division of lands and minerals, reported today.

Of particular interest, however, especially in the matter of conserving high grade ores, was the fact that approximately 45 per cent of the total—4,891,487 tons—consisted of low-grade ores which had to be concentrated before being shipped.

In 1940, production for the same period was only 8,167,715 tons, with low-grade ore making up only about one-third of the total.

Junior CCC Enrollees Now Getting Army Drill

They won't shoulder arms, but beginning last week, 4,500 junior enrollees in Minnesota civilian conservation corps camps began learning close order drill under regular army regulations.

The war department order sent to all nine corps areas reads:

"In order to improve the carriage and posture of enrollees and to attain more orderly movement of large groups of enrollees within the camps, it is desired that instruction in marching and simple formation be given to all junior enrollees. The instruction given will be based on the appropriate current infantry drill regulations."

Hunters Required to Get Licenses in Home County

The department of conservation warned today that sportsmen must purchase hunting licenses in counties in which they reside. The law permitting the sale of fishing licenses by designated agents to residents of other counties in emergencies does not apply in the case of hunting permits, officials explained.

Batting Averages for Season in Baseball Loop

Bill Hallamack, veteran pitcher, proved to be the best sticker on this season's ball team. Bill clubbed the Plummer pitching last Sunday for two hits in five trips to the plate, and to end the year with a fine .412 average and in top place among the regulars. Clarence Offerdahl, with a .318 average, and Bob DuChamp, with a .300 average, were the only regulars, in addition to Hallamack, who were over the .300 mark.

LOCAL BALL CLUB ENDS SEASON WITH WIN AT PLUMMER

Win Final Contest 8 to 4 on Waterlogged Plummer Diamond

The local ball team brought their season to a successful conclusion last Sunday when they defeated Plummer, 8 to 4, in a game played on the water-logged Plummer diamond. It was the second time this year that the Thief River nine had pounded out a victory over Plummer's highly-touted Lefty Hovanac.

The drama of Sunday's contest was crammed into the 3rd and 4th innings, when the locals scored their eight runs. Plummer had taken a one-run lead in the 1st inning, on singles by Deanne Schoenauer and Howard Hofius, and a fielder's choice on Bakke's ground ball. For two innings Plummer's Hovanac had hurled no-hit and no-run ball, but Bobby DuChamp opened the locals' half of the 3rd inning by poling out a left-field double; Stan Cockrell was safe at first, and trotted on to second, when third-baseman Ste. Marie over-threw first base; Bob DuChamp pulling up a third; Nick Bromberg crashed out a long double to left-center, scoring Bob DuChamp and Cockrell.

The locals continued their assault on Hovanac in the 4th inning. Cockrell walked; Bromberg lined a single into left-field; Reierson was out on a fly ball to Bakke; Jesse DuChamp's sharp single to right-field scored Cockrell, who was called safe at the plate on Hovanac's interference. Jesse's blow drove Lefty Hovanac off the mound, and Plummer's veteran relief hurler Jimmy Gilbertson took over the pitching duties, with Hovanac playing first base. Hallamack was safe on a fielder's choice, when Ste. Marie made the play at home base, and Bromberg after being a "hot box" returned to third safely. Jaranson greeted Gilbertson with a well-hit double, scoring Bromberg and Jess DuChamp with Thief River's seventh and eighth run. Jim Gilbertson pitched shut-out ball during the remainder of the game, allowing singles in the 5th, 6th, 8th, and 9th innings; and collecting five strikeouts.

Plummer rallied for 3 runs in the 6th inning, when an error, and singles by Bob Snyder, John Hovanac, and Reaume Ste. Marie accounted for the game's final score.

Keeping Score

.... With BUCK OLSON

It'll be a Treat

Those shotgun and rifle enthusiasts who witnessed the performance of L. W. "Bill" Johnson, and his wife Fran Johnson, when they were here a few years ago, don't have to be told to be on hand at the Fair Ground Tuesday afternoon, Sept. 9th, when the Johnsons will give another exhibition.

They are so expert in the handling of the rifle and shotgun that some of their feats verge on the phenomenal. And for you fellows who are skeptical about that both-eyes-open, or binocular, style of shooting, well, "Bill" Johnson will explain that theory, and demonstrate its advantages.

Don't forget, it's Tuesday afternoon, at 2:00 p. m. and it's free.

Benson Succeeds Gabrielson

Louie Benson, well-known Gustavus athlete, and former local ball player, has been selected to be assistant coach to John Ronning at Gustavus Adolphus, succeeding "Bump" Gabrielson. Gabrielson has been given a year's leave of absence and will do post-grad work at New York "U".

It's probable that Lou will coach varsity baseball and gymnastics, and direct the intramural athletic program. This appointment is a fine "break" for Louie, but then he's deserving of it.

Don Lorentson to the "U"

It'll surely be sour news for St. Olaf's basketball coach, Art Grangaard, to learn that Don Lorentson is transferring from the Manitou Heights school to the "U". Don, who was one of the factors that gave the Ole's their first "goat" game series over Carleton in 14 years, has played two years of varsity basketball at the Viking school, and would have been eligible for two more years of play.

The reason for Don's transfer to the "U" is that he plans on becoming a pharmacist, and such a course wasn't available at St. Olaf.

Life Begins at Fifty-three

That's a fact as far as Plummer's Jim Gilbertson is concerned. After Thief River had clubbed Lefty Hovanac off the mound—in 3 1-3 innings—Plummer's veteran rubber-armed Jim Gilbertson, who admits of being but fifty-three years old, took over the hurling duties and pitched shut-out ball for 5 2-3 innings. Jim allowed but five hits, and only three—a double by Johnny Jaranson, and singles by Arnie Karlstad and Bob DuChamp—were clean-cut hits. Being complimented on his fine performance, Jim said: If I'd had my up-shoot working those Thief River batters wouldn't have got the ball out of the infield. My up-shoot worked only once or twice during the game, and then the batter missed the ball by at least a foot". Well, I don't know about that up-shoot business, but Jim's submarine delivery, and his wide-sweeping out-curve, certainly had the boys off balance.

But it's for sure that Jim's appearance on the mound added a great deal of color to Sunday's ball game. And did Jim ever have fun with Stan Cockrell! Earlier in the game Gilbertson had been coaching from the third-base box, and Stan had been putting the tongue on Jim, calling him "Grandpa" and "Maw Perkins". The first time Stan faced the pitching of Gilbertson he, Stan, sent a weak dribbler down the first base line, and was an easy out. Jim hurried to the base-line and wiggled his finger at Stan and yelled—[illegible]—You will "Maw Perkins' me, will you?"

Bowling Leagues Set to Go

Officials of the City Bowling Association announced that the league rosters for the coming season are just about complete, and that present plans call for the first league bowling to begin on Sept. 15th. Handicaps this season will be based on A. B. C. regulations, with the teams being given two-thirds of the actual pins difference in the averages. For example, if there is 90 pins difference in the averages between two teams that are bowling a match, the team with the low average will be given a handicap of 60 pins.

Wally DuChamp announced that the Classic league, which bowls on the DuChamp alleys, will begin its schedule on Oct. 1st.

They're Coming along

A week and a half of practice has made a noticeable improvement in Coach Harry Newby's Prowler football squad, and in another week it should be possible to name the team that will take the field against Red Lake Falls on the 12th.

Young LeRoy "Cowboy" Ruprecht became a football casualty Friday afternoon when, in a scrimmage, he fractured, or badly bruised, his left elbow. He was taken to Minneapolis Saturday night for treatment.

RECREATION HIGHLIGHTS

By Ferd Elstad

The recreation program is sponsored by the city council in cooperation with Work Projects Administration recreation leaders.

Girls' Club

Members of the O. P. 2, local girls' recreation club under the direction of Camille Dostal, met last Monday night in the arena upstairs for a social evening. Different recreational games were played. Several old club members dropped from the roll, making room for replacements. Present members include: Wanda Reiersgaard, Sue Prichard, Shirley Simonsen, Grace Forsberg, Irene Forsberg, Arlene Eide, Helen Amundson, Eilene Froseth, Grace Michalsky, Joyce Ferguson, and Kathryn Hagmoen. Other members are being enrolled at the next meeting this coming Monday night, when officers will be elected and the club completely organized. Next Wednesday, several members of the girls' softball team, who are also members of the club, will put on a wiener roast for the boys. This gesture is made in payment for the defeat the boys handed the girls recently.

Handicraft

Handicraft classes have been resumed in the arena upstairs. During the school year, classes will meet Tuesday, Wednesday, and Saturday afternoons. Like last year, a number of fine articles to be made are being planned. Stuffed animals are being made at the present time. Anyone interested in making these articles of handicraft are welcome to take part. There is no charge made for equipment or supervision.

Puppetry

Shows will be held every other Thursday afternoon rather than once a week. This move has been made in order to provide the puppeteers with more time to prepare the following production. Camille Dostal, in charge of puppetry, hopes this change will raise the standard of the shows and insure top-notch productions. The first show will be held next week on Thursday, September 11th. Frog Prince will be the feature.

New puppeteers are encouraged to come to the puppet theatre. Work on puppets will be scheduled every week day afternoon and from 1 to 4 o'clock on Saturdays.

Woodcraft

The arena craft shop will be open every week day after school and on Saturdays from 1 to 5 o'clock. It will also be kept open nights. Monday and Friday nights have been set aside as adult nights. Here, as on all parts of the program, there is no charge made for the use of facilities. Participants are encouraged to bring their own materials, inasmuch as some of the materials are supplied by recreation officials. Furniture repair and making articles of craft can very easily be handled in the shop which is equipped with new hand and power tools. Supervision is provided at all times.

Miscellaneous

Parents are encouraged to see that their children abide by the new life-guard hours. In the very near future, when colder weather sets in, the guards will be removed from the pool. Announcement will be made in the paper when the guards are taken from the pool. Numerous outdoor sports are available at East-Side park.

No Chance for Hunting Deer in Minnesota This Fall, Is Announcement

The department of conservation this week spiked rumors that there will be a deer hunting season in Minnesota this year. Officials explained that the law governing deer seasons specifically limits such periods to even numbered years. A former provision empowering the governor to declare open seasons in emergencies was stricken from the statutes by the 1939 legislature. Surveys by department technicians indicate the deer population is good throughout the state, generally on a par with the supply before the start of the 1940 season.

Efficient Firemen

Efficiency is the word for Colorado Springs firemen. Called to a blaze in a bank building, they discovered a huge pile of trash on fire in the boiler room. Grabbing shovels, they simply scooped the burning pile into the firebox.

FSA PLANS REAL ESTATE LOANS TO BE MADE LOCALLY

Loans Will be Made to Refinance Other Real Estate Borrowings

Marshall and Pennington Counties have been designated as two of seven counties in which the Farm Security Administration's special real estate program will operate this year, according to word received this week by Hilding W. Thelander, county supervisor, from Mr. Milo G. Flaten, state director.

Special real estate loans are an adaptation of the FSA's "rehabilitation" or chattel goods loans and are designed especially to help farm families in the northern cut-over area of the state. The loans are made to refinance real estate indebtedness and remove liens from farms, including taxes, assessments and amounts due under purchase contracts. In some cases loans are made to finance the purchase of additional land needed to convert a presently owned tract into a family-size, self-supporting unit, and to clear what land is needed.

The loans proved of such definite value in saving many farmers in the cut-over area from bankruptcy and in re-establishing themselves that U. S. Department of Agriculture officials endorsed continuance of the special loan program for another year and doubled the allocation of funds for Minnesota.

Newly designated counties for the expanded program include Kittson, Marshall, Pennington, Red Lake, Polk, Todd and Wadena. The program is now operating in 27 counties.

First consideration will be given to applicants, Mr. Thelander said, who are in danger of losing their farms through foreclosure and especially in such cases where there is a possibility of debt adjustment. It has been learned from experience, he explained, that many applicants for these loans are in difficulty because of having contracted for land at a higher price than the production value of their farms would justify.

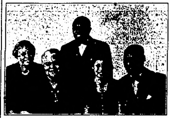
Negro Singers to Appear in City Next Week



Beginning Tuesday, Sept. 9, the Spiritual Jubilee Singers of Chicago and Peter MacFarlane of St. Paul will conduct a week of old fashioned revival meetings at Evangelical Free Church Tuesday to Thursday and City Auditorium Friday to Monday.

This will be the first appearance of these singers in Thief River Falls, and is an opportunity for all to hear these colored folk who have gained an international reputation, having twice been called abroad to sing in England, Scotland and Ireland, and many times crossed our own continent to take part in great religious gatherings. Their singing received special recognition from the Queen Mother, Mary, of England, after they had sung to the wives of 2,000 miners in the Ashington district of London.

Mr. MacFarlane, the evangelist, is superintendent of the Union Gospel Mission of St. Paul, and has been titled by religious circles the "Paul Rader" of the Missions. His is a sincere message of regeneration interspersed with Scotch humor and numerous incidents of remarkable conversions of "twice born" men and women.

Three services will be held on Sunday in the city auditorium—11:00 A. M., 2:30 P. M., 8:00 P. M. All other services at 8:00 P. M.

STATE FAIR SETS NEW ATTENDANCE RECORD THIS YEAR

Approximately 750,000 Persons Attended Exposition Last Week

A new attendance record of approximately 750,000 was established by the 1941 Minnesota state fair which closed Labor Day, breaking the former mark of 706,619 made in 1939.

The 1941 exposition was the most successful in history, says H. A. Derenthal of Wykoff, president. Not only was the attendance gratifying but the exhibits reached an all-time high both in number and quality. The livestock, agricultural and 4-H displays were absolute tops. The fair's entertainment was most attractive and well received by the crowds that thronged the grounds each day.

All expenses incurred by the 1941 exposition will be paid and a profit shown, it was stated by Raymond A. Lee, secretary. The exact amount cannot be determined until receipts from all sources can be checked and outstanding bills listed.

National defense was the theme of this year's fair. In virtually every department special displays emphasized defense needs. The U. S. Army featured machine guns, jeeps and other equipment used in blitz warfare.

The national Percheron show was most successful, according to Ellis A. McFarland of Chicago, secretary of the show which was staged in conjunction with the fair.

Sales of machinery and equipment by the leaders in the farm machinery field exceeded $2,000,000, according to D. J. Murphy, supervisor of the show.

Opening of Schools Prompts Appeal for Extra Traffic Care

More than half a million Minnesota boys and girls—the citizens of tomorrow—are answering the call of school house bells this week and next, and the bells, in addition to summoning the pupils, are also sounding a warning for special care on the part of not only the youngsters but motorists as well.

Elden Rowe, chief of the state highway patrol, issued a three-point warning to children, parents and motorists, urging each to do his part in order that the 1941-42 school year may not be marred by traffic accidents or deaths.

"With approximately 80,000 school children riding daily in some 2,200 buses," he said, "it requires constant vigilance on the part of the children, the drivers and the motoring public to prevent accidents to these youngsters. The children can help in this effort by walking to the bus stop on the left side of the road, facing oncoming traffic, and by being on time each morning. They should remain seated while the bus is moving and should keep heads, arms and hands inside at all times. When meeting or leaving the bus, children should always cross in front of the bus, never behind."

Parents have a major share in Minnesota's program of school traffic safety, Chief Rowe pointed out. They should make it a point to stress careful walking and riding each morning before the children start for school. Children should be warned against playing in the roadway or hurrying across highways or streets in intersections.

GOOD UPLAND GAME SHOOTING IS HELD LIKELY THIS FALL

Conservation Department Technicians Tell of Survey

Upland game bird populations indicate another season of good shooting this fall, detailed investigation by department of conservation technicians revealed Saturday, with sharptailed and ruffed grouse more plentiful than in some years.

Open seasons were set Thursday by the department on six upland species, including a 20-day shooting period on ruffed grouse and 17-day limits on pheasant and quail.

Pheasants will not be as numerous this fall as in 1940, the state's record year for that species thus far, said L. A. Parker, biology research supervisor, but will approximate the population in 1939, which was considered an excellent pheasant year.

Other upland species will stack up about as follows:

Sharptailed grouse—"on the way up," with virtually all observers reporting more than last year.

Ruffed grouse—near the top of a ten-year peak in a cycle which apparently operates independent of hunting harvests.

Hungarian partridge—on the increase and appearing farther east than previously.

The Armistice Day storm last year, which took a huge toll of human lives, undoubtedly was responsible partly for the decline in pheasant population compared with a year ago, Parker said. In addition to the hundreds frozen to death, many of the birds were found crippled after the storm, indicating they were buffeted about.

RAISE BERRIES "BY THE BARREL"

Hackensack—To say that Mr. and Mrs. Bill Torgerson of Swanberg raise berries "by the barrel" would be literally true, for they raise strawberries on the sides of a barrel. To accomplish this, they fill the barrel with rich soil and fertilizer, bored thirty or forty, two-inch holes in it, and set their plants in the openings. The plants are thriving, and the berries are large and luscious.

SMILEY

An exceptionally fine crowd attended the regular monthly meeting of the Smiley community club last Friday evening. The movie shots that Dr. O. F. Melby presented were swell, especially the colored features on the fishing expedition he took with several friends in the Arrowhead lake region up north. Alfred Bredeson of Thief River Falls gave a short talk and being the state fair was on the Steiner 4-H play was not presented due to the fact that many young folks were down at the fair. The next club meeting will be held the last Friday of this month, Sept. 26 with program committee to consist of the Severt Brekke family (chairmen) the Mark Olsons and the Leonard Helgelands. The refreshment committee will be the Willis Rosse family (chairmen) the Carl Beiswengers Sr. and the Nordahl brothers.

Charles and Julian Svensgaard, Galen Wayne all of Mavie, accompanied by Mrs. Walter Lendobeja and daughter Delores motored to Pelican Rapids Sunday where they spent the day at the cottage home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Burrell.

Lloyd and Edward Volrath of Milltown, Wisc., arrived Wednesday evening to be house guests at the home of old friends, the Willis Rosses. The young mens father, August Volrath was a former neighbor of the Rosses in the Wyandotte township almost twenty-four years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Nelson and family of Crookston spent Sunday at the home of Mrs. Nelson's father, John Brady. She is the former Mabel Brady.

Mrs. Hannah McPhee left Tuesday for her home in Grand Forks. She had spent a week at the Ole Torkelson home. Mrs. McPhee and Mrs. Torkelson are sisters.

Dr. and Mrs. Miles Gullingsrud and son of Thief River Falls were Sunday callers at the O. N. Olson and Jim McCrum homes.

The school Dist. 22, Washington school, started transporting the youngsters in that district, by bus, in the public schools in Thief River Falls Tuesday morning. The regular school bus from Thief River Falls comes out and picks the pupils up along the Hazel road and the Angle road.

Relatives from Detroit, Mich., were Monday evening visitors at the Elais Angell home. They were Mr. Angell's nephew, Arnold Kolden and his wife and baby Dean, and Mr. and Mrs. Gustav Schilbred of Thief River Falls. Mr. Kolden is an instructor in one of the Detroit public schools.

Bobby Horien of Grand Forks was up to the Krist Larson home on Thursday for the day. He helped his friend, Betty Lou Beaton, celebrate her birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Allen spent last Sunday afternoon as visitors at the home of Mrs. Sadie Ayers. While there they visited with Mrs. Ayers' son-in-law and daughter (Ardis) Mr. and Mrs. Merle Wakefield and children of Hartland.

Silo-filling and late grain threshing (in between the rains) are the main jobs on farms in Smiley right now. Plowing, too, has made great headway. Tomatoes are the thing these days for canning and consuming. The touch of frost that morning last week did much to hasten the ripening stage of tomatoes. Now is the time to clean and repair the poultry house. 'Tis time for the pullets to be in and the old hens too, should be culled with the good layers kept. Every egg counts these days, so keep your old hens.

Mrs. Elsie Peterson, Lois Peterson, Mrs. Harry Ranum and son of Thief River Falls, and Mrs. Wesley McCrum, daughter Janice of Astoria, Oregon and Mrs. O. N. Olson were Wednesday visitors at the Jim McCrum home.

Krist Larson is a patient in a hospital in Thief River Falls for a stomach ailment. We hope he recovers quickly and on his busy way around home again.

Another good man leaves the community this week when the army draft gets Ole Austad who has been employed at the Frank Hardisty farm for several years.

Word has been received by the Willis Rosses that an old friend Henry Herold passed away recently at his home in Emery, Wisc. He had fallen off a tree this spring while pruning it and injured himself resulting in his death. He formerly lived on the Otto Schroeder farm in Wyandotte and was well known here abouts.

Mrs. Mabel Tersini and Mrs. Esther Gross, their nephew Floyd Hakimaki all of Duluth returned to their home Sunday after a week's visit at the Clara Thune and Clarence Arneson homes. Mrs. Arneson and small son accompanied them back to Duluth for a short visit with her husband who is employed as a tester in one of the huge grain elevators there.

Alvin Brady and Bert Vigen returned to their parental homes on Sunday evening after a very enjoyable week at the Minnesota State Fair in the Cities. They both belong to the Rocksbury 4-H Club.

The Zion Luther League will be entertained Sunday afternoon, Sept. 7 at the John Ranum home with Mrs. Ranum, Mrs. Gilfred Hanson and Miss Clara Olson as hostess. These women extend a very cordial welcome to come and spend a dandy afternoon with them and partake of the delicious lunch to be served.

Mrs. Freeman Allen had a birthday Tuesday. Those who helped her celebrate the event and presented her with gifts were Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Corbett and sons of St. Hilaire, Mrs. Lester Peterson and children and Mrs. Arnold Korupp and daughters of Thief River Falls.

Robert Kraemer was pleasantly and thoroughly surprised when the following gang came to his house Sunday afternoon and reminded him his birthday was that day by giving him gifts and bringing a repast. In charge of the party was Mrs. Agnes Waring and Mrs. Violet Kraemer. Those there were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kraemer, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lindholm, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rupprecht of Steiner, Mr. and Mrs. O. N. Olson, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Olson, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Halley, Mrs. Lottie Olson, Elling Ramsey, Wilma and Arthur Rupprecht, Jerome and Matt Kraemer, Clara and Anton Olson.

Mr. and Mrs. Adam Lendobeja and Dolly attended the birthday party on Mrs. Lendobeja's father, Thomas Jacobson in Steiner Sunday at the Steve Jeanette home. Others there were Mrs. Ada Jorde and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Johnson and youngsters, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Jeanette and children, Mr. and Mrs. Frances Bushy and family, Mrs. Sarah Bushy and daughter of Crookston.

It was Mrs. L. O. Stenseth's birthday Thursday. Mrs. Elias Angell, Mrs. Carl Beiswenger, Sr. and Mrs. Johnnie Nelson brought angel food cake and gifts to their friend, Mrs. Stenseth that afternoon.

Mrs. Carl Lindholm, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Helgeland, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Helgeland and Sophie Torkelson were those from Smiley that helped Hannah Johnson celebrate her birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Olson and son Wayne returned Monday evening from Mrs. Olson's parental home in Brinsmade, N. D. where they had spent a week. They were accompanied by Mrs. Olson's sister, Florence Waller of Numedal. The Olson's and Miss Waller were among the many guests attending the double anniversaries of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Waller who celebrated their golden wedding and their brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Waller of Leeds, N. D., who celebrated their silver wedding. It was quite an affair held in the church parlors in Brinsmade Sunday.

Mrs. Olava J. Nelson, her sister-in-law, Mrs. Mary Viker and son Melvin all of Fertile were Sunday guests at the S. S. Nelson home. Mrs. Nelson is Mr. S. S. Nelson's sister-in-law. She formerly was the owner of the present Westacott farm.

STATEWIDE TRUCK DRIVING CONTEST IN ST. PAUL SUNDAY

Event to be Staged in Front of Grandstand at State Fair Grounds

The eyes of Minnesota—particularly 85,000 truck drivers in the state—will be on the State Fair Grounds Sunday, September 14, when truck drivers of every type of truck will compete for the truck driving championship of the state.

The Minnesota Safety Council and the safety division of the state highway department have cited the truck contest as one of the finest examples of the effort being made by the trucking industry to improve its already splendid safety record.

Drivers to compete in the contest must have had an accident-free record for the past year. Some of the contestants have driven as many as 1,000,000 miles during the past eight years without being involved in a single mishap.

According to Robert Babcock, Minneapolis, general chairman of the contest, the public is invited to view the driving event which is to be run off before the grandstands. Governor Harold Stassen is scheduled to sound the note of welcome, and Cedric Adams, newspaper columnist will be Master of Ceremonies. Admission is free.

The truck driving contestants will compete in two classes—straight truck and tractor semi-trailer units. High point winner in each class will be awarded with an expense-paid trip to New York to compete in the National Truck Driving Contest to be staged in Madison Square Garden, October 29. The local contest is being sponsored by Regulated Motor Transportation Association of Minnesota in the interest of the entire trucking industry.

Doctors Caution Tired Drivers; Give Warning of September Hazards

September's ill-fame so far as traffic accidents go has never been satisfactorily explained, according to today's bulletin from the Minnesota State Medical association's committee on public health education. The fact remains, however, that a larger number of highway accidents occur in September, most years, than in any other month of the 12.

"The facts show that most accidents occur on clear dry highways between towns," the bulletin points out. "That means that speeding, inattention and carelessness, not bad weather or city traffic are the things that cause the worst tragedies.

"Fatigue has been found in recent careful studies by the United States Public Health Service to be responsible for tardy reaction, reduced coordination and manual unsteadiness in drivers. After a driver has been on the road for many hours his efficiency is greatly reduced and he becomes a hazard to himself and to others on the road. Many otherwise unexplainable accidents are undoubtedly caused by fatigue of the driver, or by speeding on the highway," the doctors declare.

Many Garden Vegetables May be Stored Without Canning for Winter Use

Storing vegetables on Minnesota farms this fall will help to keep the family dinner table supplied with health-giving foods during long winter months, according to A. E. Hutchins and E. M. Hunt, University Farm horticulturists, who discuss home vegetable storage in new Extension Bulletin 236. For many garden products—this method is quicker, cheaper and easier than canning, drying or freezing, they point out.

Because the object of home storage is to keep the vegetables as near fresh as possible for winter use, proper control of temperature, moisture and ventilation during storage is necessary. The bulletin contains a storage table in which essential storage conditions are outlined for various vegetable crops. In general, even temperature will give the best results. Ample circulation of air is very important the first month or so of storage since many vegetables go through a "sweating" period during that time.

Commenting on the types of vegetables that may be stored, the authors say that only the best of the crop should go into storage. Vegetables for home storage should mature as late in the season as possible and yet should avoid injury by cold weather. Cabbages, onions, squashes, pumpkins, and dry seeds should be thoroughly mature when stored. Root crops, however, should not become fully mature or oversize since they often turn woody and lose flavor with age.

Choice of storage places on the farm may range from inexpensive, temporary outdoor pits to specially constructed permanent cellars. While pit storage is satisfactory for beets, carrots, rutabagas, cabbages, parsnips, potatoes and turnips, this method is advisable only when other means are not convenient. The type of storage chosen will depend on many factors, such as available materials and the amount of labor and expense the family is willing to incur.

Outside and under-the-house storage cellars are both discussed in the bulletin, and diagrams of types are included. Suggestions for storing vegetable crops which require special treatment are also given. Copies of Extension Bulletin 236, "Home Vegetable Storage", may be obtained at the county agent's office or by writing to Bulletin Room, University Farm, St. Paul.

NEW RANGER BUILDING IN BELTRAMI ISLAND

Construction of a new forest ranger headquarters at the Clear River station, 16 miles south of Warroad in Beltrami Island state forest, has been authorized by the division of forestry. The new cabin, of four rooms, will replace an inadequate structure built 16 years ago, and intended for only occasional occupancy.

HORACE GREELEY ONCE SAID

"Young Man Go West"

You may have to move from the farm you now occupy, but you don't have to "GO WEST". Right in your neighborhood there exists the opportunity Horace Greeley had in mind.

With a modest down payment, you can procure a farm home of your own, on easy terms, at 4% interest, on a 20 year contract, in desirable farming regions in central and northern Minnesota.

Now is the time to select one of these farms and gain the independence you have long dreamed of.

Carson Funeral Home
THIEF RIVER FALLS — ST. HILAIRE, MIDDLE RIVER — HOLT,
MINNESOTA

Dear friends:

What does a funeral cost? We often hear that question.

Our answer is that the cost is just what you desire to pay. We leave the selection entirely to the family. There is a wide range of prices, depending upon type and quality, and each casket carries a plainly marked price ticket.

Under no circumstances is a family justified in making a selection which may prove burdensome.

Respectfully,

Carl B. Larson

MINNESOTA GAINS AMONG STATES IN CUTTING STRIKES

Credit Given to Operation of State Labor Relations Law

Concrete evidence of the reduction in strikes Minnesota has enjoyed as compared with other states since adoption of the new Minnesota labor relations law is afforded by a tabulation of figures from the various states just received by A. P. Blair, state labor conciliator, from the U. S. Department of Labor.

The tabulation shows that Minnesota's percentage of the men on strike throughout the nation has steadily declined since adoption of the new labor act which Governor Stassen recommended and put into operation early in 1939. Here are the figures:

	Men on strike in State	Pct. of U. S. Total
1936	14,214	1.81
1937	24,731	1.33
1938	8,651	1.26
1939	2,096	.29
1940	3,223	.56
1941	130	.047

The figures for 1941 are for the first three months of the year only. Totals for later months are not yet available.

Credit for the improvement in Minnesota has been due largely to the new labor conciliation plan and the disposition of employers and workers alike to co-operate in carrying it out, Mr. Blair said. The cooling off period provided under the law affords opportunities for conciliation, which often can adjust differences that used to lead to strikes and lockouts. The plan has attracted wide attention in other states, and measures are pending in Congress to introduce it in the national labor laws.

Clean out Bins Before Storing New Grain Crop, Says 'U' Farm Bulletin

Minnesota farmers who are meeting the grain storage crisis by keeping the 1941 crop on the farm may also have to face the problem of preventing losses through insect infestation, says H. H. Shepard, entomologist at University Farm. Cleaning the bin carefully before putting in the new grain is the secret of insect control, he says.

In Minnesota, new grain does not become infested with injurious insects until it is threshed, so that precautionary measures taken during transportation and storage are important. Old grain should be removed before storing the new crop and bins should be swept out thoroughly. Cracks likely to hold insects may be sprayed with kerosene. Loose hay and grain chaff as well as ground feeds should be kept away from stored grain.

While fumigants are generally recommended for control of insects infesting grain, their use is oftentimes ill-advised and wasteful, Shepard points out. Grain containing broken and chaffy material is likely to become infested with bran bugs. While these insects eat only the broken material, they may raise the moisture content of the good kernels enough to give the grain a musty odor in a short time. Fumigation will neither clean the grain of undesirable screenings nor dry it out once the moisture reaches a high level.

Screening the grain before storage is therefore an important step in preventing infestation.

Farmers wishing more information about granary pests are encouraged to send in samples of infestation to the entomology division, University Farm. Insects will be identified and instructions given for getting rid of them.

SAFER ROADS will decrease accidents!

Needed: More roads with built-in safety—that make it hard for accidents to happen!

Three Essentials of a Safe Road

MODERN ROADWAY DESIGN
Highway engineers know how to make roads safe by easing sharp turns, eliminating dangerous grade crossings, by providing ample widths, long "sight distance," AND a safe pavement surface.

SURE NON-SKID SURFACE
The safety answer is concrete—skid-resistant, wet or dry—durable, true of surface, free from bumps, ruts, waves and other accident-breeding defects.

UTMOST VISIBILITY
Concrete's light-colored surface reflects light without glare; makes headlights more efficient. Helps the driver see better.

CONCRETE SAVES—not only lives, but money. Concrete costs less to build than other pavements of equal load-carrying capacity. And far less to maintain than less enduring surfaces.

SCHOOL BOARD RETAINS SAME TAX LEVY IN '42

Holds District Tax Rates to 38.5 Mills in Spite of Rising Costs

ESTIMATED CURRENT EXPENSE $130,312

Enrollment at End of First Week Virtually Same as Last Year

Despite rising costs of operation which will result in a smaller cash balance at the end of the coming fiscal year, the board of education of School District 18, in adopting the budget at its September session Tuesday evening, set the school district tax levy at 38.5 mills, the same figure as the past several years.

Contributing to the higher cost of operating the school system during the coming year are an increase in fuel costs of $1,275 due to the higher price of coal, engaging the services of two additional faculty members, and increased salaries for school janitors, aggregating $560.

The revenue budget for the coming year estimates total receipts in the general fund at $133,338.32, including $17,549.61 on hand at the beginning of the fiscal year July 1; and net receipts in the bond and interest fund at $32,308.41, including $15,627.64 on hand at the start of the year.

The budget as adopted calls for disbursements during the year as follows: General control, $6,789; instruction, including teachers' salaries, textbooks, library books and supplies, $77,864.12; operation of plant, including fuel, janitors' salaries, light and power, etc., $21,480; maintenance, $3,450; auxiliary agencies and coordinate activities, including transportation of pupils, promotion of health, etc., $9,548.15; and fixed charges, including insurance, $1,510; making a total of $120,812.88 for current expense.

The item of capital outlay calls for the expenditure of $7,020, while debt service will require $20,[illegible], including $12,500 for bond retirement and $7,328.13 for interest payments.

Making up the school district tax rate of 38.5 mills are the regular one mill levy, 34.5 mills maintenance tax and the usual three mills for bonds and interest.

Supt. Morris Bye reported to the board that enrollment at the end of the first week of school numbered 640 pupils in Grades 1 to 6, 109 in the kindergarten, 369 in junior high school and 444 in senior high school. The total is the same in the kindergarten as last year, with two pupils less in the elementary grades and twelve less in the junior-senior high school.

The board granted the request of the Red River Valley Dairymens association to hold one of the sessions of its two-day convention in the high school auditorium Wednesday afternoon, October 22. At the same time the board rejected a similar request from the Junior Chamber of Commerce, which plans to present a stage show Oct. 29.

Mr. Bye reported that the audit of the school district books recently ordered by the board has been completed August 27 by two representatives of the state public examiner's office.

Down a candlelighted aisle, marked by pretty ribbons, Miss Lois Elizabeth Nelson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Nelson, was escorted by her father to become the bride of Dean Gifford Thompson at the chancel of the First Lutheran Church on Friday evening, September 5.

In the setting of candelabra, palms, and white gladioli the nuptial vows were taken before the Rev. Carl E. Rydell following a half-hour interlude of organ music by Mrs. Karl Weiss.

The bride's gown of off white satin was fashioned with a low scalloped basque waist with bouffant skirt, long train and scalloped square neckline. She wore a long flowing veil of bridal illusion fastened to a tiara of orange blossoms and she carried a bouquet of stephanotis centered with yellow orchids and tied with wide satin ribbon.

Miss Doris Nelson, youngest sister of the bride, was the maid of honor and wore a gown of laurey moire taffeta in a rose dust shade. It too was fashioned with basque waist, bouffant skirt and low square neckline. In identical dresses of aqua were the bridesmaids, Mrs. Marco Magano, sister of the bride, Miss Charlene Anderson, formerly of this city, Miss Virginia Jones; and the matron of honor Mrs. Victor Barnard Gunderson. They wore identical off-the-face hats matching their gowns and carried white gladioli. Their gifts from the bride were pearl necklaces.

Darwin Thompson, brother of the bridegroom, was best man, and the ushers were Gene Nelson, brother of the bride, Marco Magnano, James Keenhatt, and George Robert Jepson.

Before the ceremony, Miss Shirley Anderson, cousin of the bride, sang "Take Thou This Heart" and "Ich Liebe Dich".

Mrs. Nelson and Mrs. Thompson received with the young couple after the ceremony, the bride's mother wearing a gown of blue with colored sequins at the neckline. Mrs. Thompson wore old rose, and both wore corsages of orchids.

At the reception in the church parlors, palms and white gladioli were used with a centerpiece of all white flowers surrounded by Silver candelabra.

Pouring were Mrs. Edna Anderson, aunt of the bride, Mrs. C. O. Lynn, Mrs. Cora Jepson, Mrs. Henry Falk. Mrs. Darwin Thompson and Miss Alice Nelson cut the bride's cake, assisted by the Misses Noreen Invren, Kathryn McDonald, Dorothy Kopping, Mary Mettler, Jeanne Johnson, Mary Thomas, Louise Cheney and Bernita Falk.

After a short trip to Canada the young couple will make their home at 5010 No. Verde, Tacoma, Wash. For traveling the bride wore an off green tweed suit with an oatmeal beige top coat with fox fur. Her accessories were brown and she wore an orchid corsage.

Mrs. Thompson was graduated from the Lincoln High School in this city, and attended St. Olaf College in Northfield, National College, and Northwestern at Evanston, Ill., where she was graduated. Twin Sisters Are Married at Double Wedding on Saturday

The double wedding of the twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar A. Nelson took place on Saturday, September 6 at 4:30 p. m. in the First Lutheran Church. Rev. Charles W. Erickson officiated at the single ring ceremony uniting in marriage Miss Marjorie Lois Nelson of Minneapolis and John A. Mattson, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Mattson of this city; and Miss Margaret Ruth Nelson of Minneapolis and Walter W. Bordasch of Minneapolis, son of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Bordasch of Aberdeen, S. D.

Nuptial music was played by H. Harrison at the piano and by Mrs. Harrison at the organ. Two vocal solos, "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer" were rendered by Miss Ardith Burrell. Mrs. Harrison was gowned in yellow chiffon and Miss Burrell in peach chiffon. Mrs. Harrison's corsage was of Hollywood roses, while Miss Burrell wore a corsage of Talisman roses and sweet peas.

The bridal party entered the church to the strains of the wedding march from Lohengrin and took their places before an altar banked in white satin and bordered with white daisies. Potted ferns and white asters formed the background against which candelabras holding tall lighted tapers were placed. Large baskets of pink and yellow gladioli added to the decorations. Attached to the end of each pew were small nosegays of pink gladioli while the aisle was bordered in white and edged with ferns.

The brides entered with their father. Their gowns were identically fashioned of white starched chiffon with yokes of Chantilly lace. They were styled with full skirts, and sleeves ending in points over the back of the hand. Both wore gold heart-shaped lockets as their only jewelry, and carried shower bouquets of white asters and sweet peas. Their veils were of bridal illusion, fingertip length.

Miss Marjorie Lois was attended by Mrs. E. D. Mattson as matron of honor, and Miss Dorothy Nelson her sister, as bridesmaid. Miss Margaret Ruth chose Miss Dolores Bordasch of Minneapolis, sister of the groom, as maid of honor, and Miss Betty Joan Nelson, sister of the brides' as bridesmaid.

All wore identical gowns styled with full skirts of blue marquisette and tight-fitting bodices of matching lace with sweetheart necklines and three-quarter length sleeves. Each wore a single strand of pearls, gifts of the brides'. Mrs. E. D. Mattson and Miss Bordasch carried arm bouquets of yellow gladioli, while the bridesmaids bouquets were of pink gladioli. All had garlands of matching flowers in their hair.

The brides' mother wore a black ensemble and a shoulder corsage of pink premier roses. Mrs. Mattson also wore black with maroon accessories, and Mrs. Bordasch was dressed in dusty rose with brown accessories. Both wore corsages of Johanna Hill roses.

Little Marlys June Mattson of Warren and Eleanore Lynne Snyder of Fargo, N. D., were flower girls, and wore floor-length dresses of white satin with full skirts, high waistlines, and short puffed sleeves. Both carried colonial bouquets of blue bachelor buttons and had garlands of matching flowers in their hair. They also wore gold heart-shaped lockets, gifts of the brides'. Thomas Nelson of Terre Haute, Ind. was ring bearer, and wore a black velvet suit with a white satin blouse.

John Mattson was attended by his brother, E. D. Mattson of this city, while Delvin Zeigler of Minneapolis attended Mr. Bordasch. Wallace Olson and Lionel Brattland, both of Thief River Falls, served as ushers.

Following the ceremony, Mendelssohn's recessional march was played as the bridal party retired to the church parlors where they received the invited guests at a reception. The T-shaped bridal table was beautifully appointed in silver and white. A large bouquet of pink roses formed the centerpiece with nosegays of white asters on each corner of the table. Streamers in pink and white were arranged from a large white bell hung directly above the center of the table. Identical three-tiered wedding cakes in silver and white were placed before each couple. Moving pictures were taken as the cakes were being cut. White tapers were used for the table at which the bridal party was seated, while pink tapers were used on the tables for the guests.

Mrs. Nelson's circle, with Mrs. C. A. Bloomquist as chairman, was in charge of the serving. Waitresses were the Misses Adeline Lorentson, Marion Parbet, and Lorraine Bugge. Approximately one hundred guests were present.

WEALTH FROM TREES

One of a series of articles on Minnesota's industrial opportunities, written for the Minneapolis Tribune by staff writer Fendall Yerxa, and which was published this week, has special significance for this section of the state. In this article Mr. Yerxa points out the possibilities of cashing in on our poplar trees as pulp for the manufacture of cellulose,—which has many uses, the most important of which is in the production of rayon and plastics. His interesting report, in a condensed form, follows:

> Of all the industries in Minnesota, none will feel the impact of war-restricted imports more than wood and paper products. Even though they are already one of the state's economic mainstays, they stand to gain more than any other single group from the checks which have been placed against American purchasing abroad.
> Pulp and paper plants in the territory are booming at near capacity. But bigger plans are under way; plans for a wood products industry which sound, at the telling, like just another Paul Bunyan whopper.
>
> I've talked them over with men who know, however and I know they are not wild dreams.
>
> I've discussed these plans briefly with men who have been instrumental in drawing them up. If their analyses are correct, there is a tremendous future in store for Minnesota.
>
>
> According to preliminary figures, poplar, which grows like a weed throughout the state, can be used to make cellulose, at "substantially" lower cost than it is now being produced from southern pine and other woods. It will yield a high percentage alpha-cellulose pulp which will bring new activity to thousands of acres of now idle Minnesota submarginal land.
>
> I was told that nobody knows the secret processes for deriving alpha-cellulose from poplar outside of the Northwest Research council, which has pioneered the method, and the engineers of the Minnesota paper company with which the council is working.
>
>
> Alpha-cellulose is used in many fields, but primarily in the production of rayon and plastics.
>
> Rayon production is destined for tremendous increase in the United States. Japan and Germany, top rayon producing nations, faced complete loss of their $7,000,000 market in this country.
>
> But that isn't all. The embargo on silk, in addition to depriving Japan of her $100,000,000 silk trade in America, is driving clothing and textile manufacturers to use of substitutes for silk. Rayon is the chief of these, and is already in heavy demand.
>
> Taken together, these factors indicate that there will be a tremendous increase in the nation's need for alpha-cellulose.
>
> The plastic industry is another relatively new enterprise growing by leaps and bounds. Plastics will be widely used in competition with products which Europe formerly exported to these shores.
>
> Plastics engineers are now busy experimenting with transparent plastic materials for the manufacture of all kinds of bottles, containers and vials and other substitutes for glass, which, if successful, will do much to fill the gap left by forced abandonment of Europe's $6,000,000 annual glass and glass products trade with the United States.
> Thus the coming demands of the rayon and plastics industries should go a long way in encouraging the production of alpha-cellulose from Minnesota poplar. And if Minnesota can produce it cheaper than any other section of the country, these two industries will come to the northwest for their supplies.

Hitler's Russian war will be twelve weeks old this week and now it is just about a certainty the Nazis will be kept busy on their East front all winter. They may take several key points this fall. It isn't conceivable that the Russians can stand up under pressure indefinitely. But the possibility of the Russians being forced into a disorderly retreat is rapidly diminishing. In the meantime the spirit of revolt seems to be making headway in occupied countries. Reports from Berlin telling of extreme penalties being ordered for minor offenses indicate that the rumors of trouble in Norway and France are based on fact. Desperate people will not be subdued by the threat of mass slaughter and the killings in the invaded countries this winter will not be entirely one-sided. Herr Hitler is not going to be as popular as he was in his own country by the time another spring rolls around.

Hunting season opens next week, Saturday. In Thief River Falls however the hunters will start hunting on Friday—hunting for places to sleep. It has been that way every year and many have been forced to sleep in their cars or drive on to other towns. This year an effort is being made by local sportsmen to find accommodations for all who come and the co-operation of all good citizens will be greatly appreciated. Ernie Barzen is chairman of the committee. If you have a room that will be available or a folding cot you would be willing to loan the committee for a couple of days call Ernie or one of the hotels. It will make them very happy.

President Roosevelt is going to make another speech and it probably will deal with the question of our rights on the high seas. Quite likely he will announce that our navy will be instructed to "eliminate" the fighting ships of any country that threatens our shipping. That will be his answer to the attacks that have already been made on our boats—and a very proper answer too. We are at war and have been ever since the lease-lend bill was passed. Our chips are in the pot and we've made our bets. Now that we have come to the showdown there is no reason why we should falter.

Building permits totaling $43,000 were granted by the city council this week, providing for the construction of eight dwellings and the building now being erected to house the Red Owl store. That is a healthy batch of business that will keep many people busy for several months to come. Each application for a building permit is a vote of confidence in the community.

A lot more people are going to learn how to make out income tax returns in a few months. The tax on incomes is one tax many have said they would be glad to pay if they had large enough incomes. Well this year their incomes are going to be large enough. It's nice to know that they will be happy about the whole thing.

If we should happen to be invited out to dinner tomorrow night we're going to break away early even if the hostess never speaks to us again. For a long time now we have been looking forward to the first football game of the season and that's where we're going to be from eight to ten.

South St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 9, 1941: Light supplies of swine available for the week's opening market provided additional strength to the trade, with the ensuing market continuing the upward swing. Live costs of barrows and gilts as of Tuesday were largely 10 to 15c, increases 25c above last Friday, with packing sows 15 to 25c higher. Numbers of packing sows are on the decrease. The Federal State Market News Service reports the peak price of $12.10 for a load of strictly Choice 180 lb. averages Tuesday, with the practical limit being $12.00, numerous lots of Good to Choice 170 to 270 lb. weights moving from $11.75 to $12.00. Choice light packing sows scored $10.90, with bulk offerings under 400 lbs. from $10.25 to $10.85. Feeder pigs were steady to 25c lower, most sales from $10.75 to $11.25.

There was no activity in the cattle pens, however. Sagging dressed values along with liberal supplies of slaughter steers sent values downward at some of the leading eastern points and the market at South St. Paul followed in sympathy. Compared with the close of last week, steers, along with heifers and cows, were weak to 25c lower. Bulls lost 25c. Vealers held steady; stockers and feeders were generally steady. Choice yearling feeder steers reaching $11.50. The top on slaughter cattle was $12.25 for several loads Choice mediumweight and heavy steers along with strictly Choice mixed yearlings. Choice heifers brought $12.00 in load lots. Good Montana cows reached $9.50.

Following a decline of $1.00 in slaughter lamb prices Monday, which pulled the peak level to $11.85, buyers were again in a bearish mood on the Tuesday session and late in the afternoon were attempting to secure further price concessions.

TRI-STATE WATER COMMISSION WILL MEET SEPT. 19-20

Chairman Henry Holt Announces Annual Meeting in Grand Forks

Henry Holt of Grand Forks, chairman of the Tri-State Waters Commission, has called a meeting of the commission to be held in Grand Forks on Friday, September 19. A dinner meeting will be held in the Hotel Ryan at 6 o'clock. Speakers will be W. P. Davies, editor of the Grand Forks Herald, and Walter S. Olson, director of the division of water resources and engineering of the Minnesota department of conservation. Major J. W. Moreland, St. Paul district army engineer, will report on the status of the major projects in the drainage basin of the Red River of the North.

The dinner meeting will be followed by a business session at which officers for the next biennium will be elected, budgets approved, delegates to the annual convention of the National Rivers and Harbors Congress appointed, and other matters pertaining to the program now being developed by the commission discussed.

An inspection of the proposed reservoir sites on the Pembina, Tongue and Park Rivers in North Dakota will be held on Saturday, September 20. The Cavalier Civic Club will be host to the commission and other members of the official party at a luncheon Saturday noon. Altogether, it is expected some 50 or more representatives of the area will attend the meeting and make the inspection trip.

The Spiritual Jubilee Singers Will Appear at Auditorium Sept. 12-15

A large audience assembled Tuesday night at the Evangelical Free church to hear an address by Peter MacFarlane, superintendent of the Union Gospel Mission in St. Paul, together with music by the Spiritual Jubilee Singers of Chicago.

Services will be held at the church tonight, and then will move to the City Auditorium for meetings from Friday thru Monday, September 15. The singers will render request numbers Saturday night, while on Sunday there will be three services, at 11 o'clock in the morning, 2:30 in the afternoon and 8 o'clock in the evening.

The singers will give a Plantation Program Monday evening, when, dressed as slaves, they will supply songs dating back to before the Civil War.

Due to the fact that many were turned away last night from the meeting in the Evangelical Free church, tonight's session will be held in the Community church at 8 o'clock, with an overflow meeting at the Evangelical church. Mr. McFarlane and the Jubilee Singers will appear at both services.

The Rosewood 4-H Club scheduled to meet Sept. 8 will meet Monday night, Sept. 15 at the Arnold Hanson home. New officers will be elected. Everyone welcome.

Thief River Falls Auto Driver in Bagley Mishap

Bagley drivers can feel better now says the Bagley Farmers-Independent. Early last Thursday morning a motorist from Thief River Falls smashed both big windows in the Diamond Inn when he started his car which had been left in gear. The car leaped the sidewalk when the driver pressed the starter and he undoubtedly became so excited he forgot how to stop it. However, he found the owner of the building before he left town and made arrangements to pay for the damage which was about $125.

Low Blood Pressure

Low blood pressure is on the increase in America, says a report of Dr. A. B. Brower of Dayton, Ohio, to the American College of Surgeons. Slenderizing diets are one of the contributing factors, he reported. Low blood pressure victims live longer than persons with normal blood pressure, but have less fun, he said.

SMALL BORE RIFLE TOURNAMENT HELD NEAR CITY SUNDAY

Orrin Brendal of Detroit Lakes Is First Among 35 Shooters

In a field of 35 individual entries, Orrin A. Brendal of Detroit Lakes won the championship in the Red River Valley small bore rifle tournament Sunday on the Thief River Rifle club range one-half mile north of the city on Highway 32.

In the grand aggregate match, combining the scores of the first four matches, Brendal placed first with 984 points, followed in second place by Ernest Bjerken, Thief River Falls, 982; and George A. Leeper, Fargo, third with 980.

Eight two-man teams competed in the final match of the afternoon, which was won by John Lind, 196, and C. H. Jung, 192, for a team score of 388. Second honors went to Howard Hoel, 188, and W. G. Maves, 184, combined score 372; while third place was won by Ernest Bjerken, 194, and Leonard Hanson, 175, team score 369.

Match No. 1 at fifty yards was won by M. C. Collins of Red Lake Agency with a score of 200, with Dr. S. A. Daniels of Moorhead and O. A. Brendal scoring 199 each. W. C. Lincoln of Fergus Falls won Match No. 2 at 100 yards with a score of 199; Brendal, 198, second; and E. Bjerken, 197, third.

Match No. 3 at fifty meters was won by Leo Vils of Roseau, 197, followed in second place by Bjerken, 196, and in third by Dr. S. A. Daniels, Moorhead, 195. Brendal was first in the fourth match at fifty and 100 yards with a score of 397, with George A. Looper, Fargo, and John Lind each scoring 396.

ALVARADO DOWNS PLUMMER SUNDAY IN TENTH INNING

Contest at Plummer Played Under Disagreeable Conditions

Harold Stroble's sacrifice fly into short left-center scoring "Web" Larson, who, after Joy Ready had opened the 10th inning with a strikeout, had poled out a long triple over Rube Fremling's head, and gave Alvarado a 10 to 9 extra-inning win over Plummer Sunday. The game, which was played on the Plummer diamond, was an exciting struggle in spite of the inclement weather and disagreeable playing conditions.

Lefty Hovanac pitched creditable ball for the losers, collecting 16 strikeouts; but Alvarado's ability to bunch hits with men on bases and to take advantage of Plummer misplays, proved to be Lefty's downfall.

"Web" Larson's catch of Holte's line-drive bid for a hit in the 8th inning, with Plummer runners on second and third, was the fielding high-light of the game. If the ball had gotten away from Larson, who made one-handed stab for the ball, two runs would have tallied and Plummer would have won the game.

The hitting honors in the free-slugging game went to Alvarado's Curt Johnson, who had "4 for 4", and Plummer's lanky Bob Snyder, who had "4 for 5".

Prowlers Meet R. L. Falls Friday Evening

The Lincoln high school Prowlers will open the defense of their conference football championship Friday night at 8:15 when they meet Red Lake Falls under the lights on Lincoln field.

Coach Russ Munson's Red Lake Falls team tagged an upset defeat on the Prowlers in last year's opening game and while Red Lake Falls is reported to be considerably weakened by the loss of several players through graduation, the locals are primed to avenge the only conference loss they suffered last year.

Local football enthusiasts will be interested in the first view of Coach Harry Newby's Prowlers, and while the game is an early season affair and will feature straight football, it will give an indication of the style of play that the Prowlers will utilize during the season. Coach Newby stated that the make-up of his starting lineup had not been decided yet, and that there were several positions in which two or more candidates were putting up a battle for the starting assignment.

It is probable that the following players will see considerable service: ends, Don Berg, Roman Paulson, Steve Alnes, and Harry Huset; tackles, Orrin Pederson, Bob Wright, Ed Peterson, John Dablow and John Berry; guards, Connie Geston, Don—"Pete"—Michalsky, Norman Furuseth, and Marlyn Dorn; centers, Doug Snelling and Bud Elde; quarterbacks, Luther Fjelstad and Harold Jechert; halfbacks, Homer Matheson, Don Olson, Eddie Chommie, and Allen Andre; fullbacks, Orlin Gjernes and Morris Efteland.

The following is the Prowlers schedule:

Friday, Sept. 12th, Red Lake Falls here.

Friday, Sept. 19th, Crookston here.

Friday, Sept. 26th, East Grand Forks, there.

Friday, Oct. 3rd, Bemidji, here.

Friday, Oct. 10th, Moorhead, there.

Friday, Oct. 17th, Warren, there.

Detroit Lakes Invites Local Golfers Sunday

Golfers of 10 northwestern Minnesota towns will be guests of the Detroit Lakes Country club Sunday, September 14 at a "North-South" tournament. Club swingers from Crookston, Thief River Falls, Winemac club at Erskine, Mahnomen, Hawley, Perham, Wadena, Pelican Rapids, Fergus Falls and Breckenridge have been invited for the event. There will be no green or entry fee charged players participating.

The largest "Trailer Town" in the world is at Sarasota, Fla., where 30 acres of land are set aside for the "town" and modern conveniences added.

Merchandise Trapshoot Is Set for Next Sunday

A merchandise trapshoot will be conducted at the traps on the county fair grounds next Sunday starting at 9 o'clock in the morning, it was announced today, and a general participation by local shooters is anticipated. A generous array of valuable merchandise prizes has been lined up by the Pennington County Sportsmens club, sponsor of the event.

Ferd Elstad Reports on Attendance at Summer Recreation Activities

A total of 30,788 persons took part in activities sponsored by the WPA-City recreation department in the past three months, Ferd Elstad, director, stated today. Of this total 14,862 were boys, 11,286 were girls, 5,738 were men, and 4,875 were women. Also registered during the three summer months were 33,118 spectators. Facilities manned by 10 recreation leaders during the summer included Tindolph park and pool, East-side park, the sports arena, Fairgrounds and school playgrounds. Midget and American Legion baseball, softball, swimming and diving, puppetry, handicraft, woodcraft, roller-skating, camping and hiking, various athletic games, and the Water Carnival were activities sponsored during the summer.

Local Bowlers Invited to Meeting This Evening

All local bowlers are invited to attend a meeting in the city Auditorium this evening at 8 o'clock, it was announced by Frank Kobliska, president of the Mint alleys bowling association. At the session plans will be discussed for league play during the coming bowling season.

The words are "God Bless America," and not "Jobless America."

Arena Game Room

Use of the arena proper as a recreation center will be delayed until painting is complete. In the meantime, however, part of the basement in the arena has been changed over for use as a table tennis room. Two tables will be set up. The room will be open Wednesdays from 4 to six in the afternoons and nightly from seven until ten. Saturdays the room will be open all day. Everyone is invited to take part in this activity.

Girls' Club

Members of the recreation girls' club met in the arena last Monday night for their regular monthly business meeting. Plans were made for the publication of "Recreation News". Wednesday night of this week they entertained the boys' softball team at a weiner roast held at the Camille Dostal residence. About 25 attended the outing.

Puppet Show

The first of the school season puppet shows will be staged this afternoon (Thursday) at 4:20 o'clock in the arena upstairs. Puppet shows will be produced once every two weeks during the school year. Everyone is invited to these free performances. There is room for a lot of spectators. Come and get a seat.

Miscellaneous

Numerous activities are available at East-side park. All children enjoying out-of-doors sports are encouraged to take part in the activities at the park. Handicraft classes have been resumed in the arena. Wooden belts are being made at present, with many other interesting articles planned. Puppet construction and the game room are available in the arena. Persons of all age groups can spend an enjoyable afternoon at these parts of the program. Adults are invited to inspect the work of the children and the leaders in the arena. Woodcraft in the shop is going full swing. Many participants are working on different articles now.

Italian pastes, noodles, spaghetti, etc., are of Chinese origin, introduced into Europe by the Germans.

The Opening Game

The Prowlers will kick the lid off their six-game football schedule tomorrow night when they tackle Red Munson's scrappy Red Lake Falls eleven. It is reported that Red's material at Red Lake this year isn't very promising, and he lost two fine ball carriers when Thad Richards and Dan Linnehan graduated, but regardless of the material, or lack of material, Munson always put a stubborn and fighting club on the field. Last year the Red Lake boys made history when they upset the Prowlers, 6 to 0.

The game should be an excellent test for the Prowlers, and reveal the possibilities the locals have of successfully defending their conference championship. And it will give the fans their first glimpse at a Harry Newby coached team. Of course it's only an opening game and the teams, due to a limited amount of practice, will be restricted to straight football. The Prowlers will use an unbalanced line on offense; and the backfield will be shifting from a T formation into a single wing.

Fans Due for Surprises

I've been in attendance at nearly all of the Prowlers' practice sessions and I think that the fans are due for a couple of surprises. I hope so. Watch those off-tackle slants of "Guernsey" Gjernes, running from the left halfback spot. He generates plenty of power in his runs. And take a couple of squints at the play of "Mouse" Efteland at fullback. This will be "Mouse's" first game and he may get the "buck", but judging by his play in scrimmage he's the season's discovery. And look over the play of that trio playing in the center of the Prowler line—Connie Geston and Pete Michalsky, guards, and Doug Snelling, center. Of course the "stand out" in the Prowler line will be rough-house Orrin Pederson, and if he gets to learn the technique of using his hands, well, he'll be the fifth man in the backfields of the teams that play the locals this year.

But before I become too optimistic about the Prowlers prospects of victory tomorrow night I'd better add that three lettermen Lenny Lorentson, Bob Wright, and Ed Peterson, won't be in the line-up. Lenny, regular end last year, was absent the first day of school, so did not establish an attendance and, consequently he's ineligible. Bob Wright, in scrimmage Tuesday night, suffered a severely bruised right elbow, and it's feared that he'll be out of the line-up for at least two weeks. John Dablow will perhaps take over Bob's tackle position. Ed Peterson, a reserve tackle last season, has an after school job and his given up football.

Merchandise Shoot Sunday

The local trap shooters expect a record turnout next Sunday when they put on a merchandise shoot at the Fair Grounds field. And on Friday, Sept. 19th, it is planned to have what is called a Hunter's Special. There will be a great many out-of-town shooters here, who will be making the city their headquarters during the chicken and Hungarian partridge season, and it is expected that a number of these hunters will participate in the Special.

Chance for Young Wrestlers

Youngsters who are interested in wrestling could perhaps prevail upon Ernie Palmer to give them some first-class instruction. Ernie, whose duties as county agent take up much of his time, probably could arrange to spend one night a week in coaching youngsters who are interested in wrestling. And these young wrestlers would be getting excellent coaching, for Ernie, in his college days, was captain of Minnesota's Big Ten wrestling team, and twice he reached the Big Ten finals in his weight division. Ernie wrestled Stan Radnicki at River Valley this past week, and won the match, two falls out of three.

Miscellany

Russ Garness, of last season's district basketball champion Prowlers, has enrolled at Luther college, Decorah, Iowa. And it is reported that Eddie Flasch, last year's captain, is headed for North Dakota; and that Johnny Parbst and Gordy Relerson are slated for Augsburg. Plummer's Lefty Hovanac, who has been treated like a cousin by the local ball club this year, will leave this week to enroll at Gustavus Adolphus, where he will be playing baseball under Louis Benson. G. A. Krueger wants to wager that Lefty makes an A-1 state college pitcher; but I doubt it. Lefty, judging by the games in which I've seen him work, throws too many "fat" pitches. His fast ball, instead of coming in high and inside to the batter, comes in knee high and over the outside corner, and the boys like their fast balls down there. But Lefty's a nimble fielder and a strong hitter; so I'll make a bet with Krueger that Louis will play Johnny on first, or in the out field.

They Deserved It

Walt Larson and the Land O' Lakes management put on a chicken dinner last night for the Land O'Lakes diamondball team, the runners-up for the city D-ball championship. And Walt's boys deserved the dinner, for it was only a "break" or two that kept them from winning the title.

LICENSE PLATES WILL GO ON SALE THIS YEAR OCT. 1

November 15th Deadline for Obtaining New Plates, Says Mike Holm

A new provision of the motor vehicle registration law provides for this earlier re-registration beginning this year, Secretary of State Mike Holm announced today. On January 1 all motor vehicles must carry new plates showing new registrations for the year or be ruled off the streets and highways. There will be no operating under old plates for any reason whatever.

To that end, the re-registration tax for 1942, under the new law will become payable October 1 this year. If the owner does not make application for re-registration on or before November 15, he will have to pay an extra fee because of his delay. That extra fee will be 25 cents a day for the first two days and after that will be stepped up to $1.50 by December 1. Seven days after January 1 if the re-registration is not paid, it will be delinquent. After that the law attaches more additional fees for delayed registration.

The additional fees for delay after the registration tax becomes delinquent will accure at the same rate as in former years, 25 cents a day for the first two days of such delay, and 50 cents a month thereafter. These fees will be in addition to the fees for delayed registration that may have accrued before January 1 so that it is possible for the total of the fees for delayed registration to accrue to the amount of $4.00.

There can be no extension of the time for registration without payment of the extra fee, for for the use of number plates issued for the past year.

Concordia College to Open Fall Term Sept. 17

Activity at Concordia college, Moorhead, which starts its 51st academic year on Sept. 17, will center this year around the school's commemoration of half a century of existence. Appropriate to 50 years of growth and progress, two new courses to study have been added to the curriculum. One in business education offers business training on a college level designed for men and women preparing for a business career as well as for teachers of commercial subjects in high schools. A nursing education program has also been added, offered in conjunction with Fairview hospital, Minneapolis.

He Knows Percherons

Eugene Prestegaard of Highlanding came home from the Minnesota state fair, bringing with him the title of champion 4-H Percheron horse judge. He was given top rank among 113 boys entered in the event.

BIG ENROLLMENT IS ANTICIPATED FOR N. W. SCHOOL

Fall Term at Crookston Institution Will Open September 29

Prospects for a high enrollment at the Northwest School of Agriculture at Crookston are unusually bright for the school year opening on September 29, according to Superintendent T. M. McCall. The advance room reservation deposits made by students in considerably ahead of the corresponding date one year ago when 379 students enrolled at the Northwest School.

A number of high school graduates are enrolling in the school for special work in agricultural engineering and other vocational courses in agriculture and business training. One new course in applied farm mechanics has been added to the curriculum this year.

Other courses in agricultural engineering have been rearranged to give all students ample opportunity to elect a maximum amount of work in that department each year. Three full-time instructors are employed in Agricultural Engineering at the Northwest School and include A. M. Foker, A. Kirk Crawford, and W. R. Peterson.

Wage-Hour Cases Bring $25,205.41 in Back Pay

A total of $25,205.41 in back wages was secured for 740 employees of firms in Minnesota during July and August, L. A. Hill, regional director of the wage and hour division, U. S. Department of Labor, announced today. The amounts paid were adjustments for previous payments below the minimum wage or overtime standards set by the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, and in the majority of cases were made voluntarily without the necessity of legal action, Mr. Hill said.

PLUMMER SCHOOL OPENS YEAR WITH BIG ENROLLMENT

High School Enrollment on First Day of Fall Term Is 111

The Plummer high school opened the school year 1941-42 with the largest enrollment in its history. There are 31 students enrolled in the senior class, 23 in the junior class, 36 in the sophomore class, and 21 in the freshmen class, making a total enrollment of 111. There are to date 141 enrolled in the elementary school, making a total of 252 for the entire school.

Faculty members new to the school system this year are Harold Spears, Bemidji, principal; Walter Hulte, Bagley, senior social science and coach; and Miss LaVernia Jorgenson, Frederick, Wisconsin, junior high school English and girls physical education. Other members of the faculty are H. I. Berger, superintendent; Elbert Larvick, vocational agriculture; and Miss Marjorie Menge, commerce and music. O. J. Pederson of Moorhead will continue to have charge of the band. In the elementary school Miss Ines Murray has charge of the fifth and sixth grade room, Miss Rachel Hanson the third and fourth grade room, and Miss Cora Hauklund the first and second grade room.

Improvement in transportation facilities of the Plummer School District was made when the board of education let a contract to the International Harvest Company of Grand Forks through William Frolland, for the purchase of a forty-two passenger school bus. This bus is operated on Route No. 2 which is divided into two parts.

Conservation Division Announces 48,996 Deer Taken During '40 Season

The department of conservation this week estimated the deer kill during the 1940 season at 48,996 or approximately 11.5 per cent of the total Minnesota population. The deer population was calculated at 425,095 in Minnesota during October, 1940, by state and federal survey workers.

Paul R. Highby, department mammalogist, said 66,273 big game licenses were sold last year. This would mean that 80 per cent of the hunters were successful. The deer bag estimates were based on reports turned in by 25,063 hunters.

A breakdown of the 1940 hunters' reports showed that 77 per cent of the deer killed were adults. The remaining 23 per cent were fawns. That the majority of hunters prefer to hunt bucks and do bag them is evident from the statistics. The figures showed that of the adult deer killed, 61 per cent were bucks and 39 per cent does. Of the fawns killed, 56 per cent were males and 44 per cent females.

Since the law limits deer hunting to even numbered years, there will be no season during 1941.

Honey Declines

Missouri bee keepers are worried lest the people of the nation have lost their "sweet tooth." Demand for honey has declined and one of the best honey producing seasons is in prospect.

Ringnecked Pheasants Taken Last Year Reach New Record High Mark

The ringnecked pheasant, introduced into Minnesota not so many years ago, has provided an ever-increasing source of wholesome outdoor recreation for Minnesota sportsmen during the last 11 years, bag statistics released today by the department of conservation showed.

Although the bird has been taken in large numbers each year since 1930, the season bag limits have been so well gauged to the supply that the last two years have seen the best shooting in the decade.

The estimated bag in 1940 was the all-time high of 1,890,790, or approximately 25 per cent more than in the best previous year. Other high years were 1935, with 1,377,624, and 1936, 1,384,800.

With the exception of three years—1933, 1936, and 1937—only male birds were taken. This fall, one hen may be included in the day's limit of three, or in the possession limit of six. The season is from October 18 to November 3 inclusive.

Warn Draftees Against Eleventh Hour Attempt to Secure Deferments

A request and a warning to stop "eleventh hour" attempts to obtain Selective Service deferments were issued today by Col. Norman D. Dean, adviser on occupational deferments at Minnesota headquarters for selective service.

Registrants are notified of the date of their induction from ten days to three weeks in advance. In spite of this, there are cases in which the registrant waits until the day before induction to present new evidence to the local board which might change his status.

It was strongly emphasized that when new circumstances arise which will change a registrant's status, he must report at once to his local board.

When the registrant does not report changes of circumstances until induction is imminent, hardship results both for the local board and the registrant. Should deferment be granted, the local board does not have time to secure a replacement for the man in the next call. On the other hand, because the registrant did not inform the board of the new situation immediately, the requested deferment may not be granted.

Col. Dean also announced that registrants who enroll in trade schools after they have received notice of classification in 1-A are merely losing money by doing so. When a registrant has been placed in 1-A, he has been notified by the government that he is available and will be inducted in the near future. There have been cases of 1-A registrants enrolling in trade schools in an effort to avoid military service. It was asserted that local boards will disregard such enrollment, and the registrant will be inducted.

Composition Roofs

NAZARETH CHURCH OF HOLT OBSERVES 45TH ANNIVERSARY

Rev. Fjelstad Will Speak at Services Next Sunday Afternoon

The Nazareth Lutheran church at Holt will observe its 45th anniversary on Sunday. The local pastor, Rev. T. C. L. Hanson, will preach in the morning at 11:00, while Rev. R. M. Fjelstad, district president-elect of the Northern Minnesota district, will deliver the anniversary festival address in the afternoon. The Luther League will sponsor its own program in the evening.

Rev. I. T. Aastad, Detroit Lakes, organized the congregation in January, 1896, while he was a pastor in Thief River Falls. Preceding this, Rev. Peter T. [illegible]man, then of Crookston, preached there in 1893. Following him, Rev. Ludvig C. Evenson, an itinerant preacher had this as a preaching place in 1894 and part of 1895. Rev. I. T. Aastad took over the field in 1895 and served until August 1, 1896.

Since its organization the congregation have had the following pastors: Mathias Fjekke, 1896-1903; Rev. Th. L. Rosholt, 1903-1905; Rev. S. T. Palm, 1905-1908; Rev. M. B. Ordahl, 1908-1927; Rev. S. L. Tallakson, temporarily in 1927; Rev. L. M. Redal, 1928-1936; Rev. T. C. L. Hanson 1936 to the present time.

The church was built in 1906 and the parsonage moved in from the country in 1910 and rebuilt. From time to time the church and parsonage have undergone improvements to make them more modern. Besides the congregational organization, the auxiliary organizations of the congregation consist of a Ladies Aid divided into six circles with 65 members; Sunday school of 75 pupils, Men's Brotherhood, Dorcas Society and Luther League.

Kitty's Komments

"There's a tug at your heart and a tear in your eye when you kiss that youngster a fond goodbye".

Many mothers will experience that same empty, lonely feeling when they see that young son or daughter start off for school that first day. That momentous day when they really have to be on their own.

That golden circle of mother-love's protection can not reach them there. Mother's loving arms—mother's kisses will not be available for every little bruise and hurt.

Oh! how that first 'day' drags! Long before four o'clock your eyes watch the road for that little figure to appear.

And when you see him, you can't refrain from going to meet him—so anxious you are to see if he is all right—if he has missed you!

There seems to have grown an air of independence around him already. He is just full of talk—everything was so wonderful.

"Miss Smith, the teacher," told him he could color so nicely".

A twinge of jealousy! Hang unto yourself mom! You know a genuine affection for his teacher makes school tasks a pleasure!

"And Mom! a kid cried in school for nothing! He was bigger than me too".

His air of superiority prevents you from correcting his grammar. He didn't cry!

"And Mom, I fell and hurt my knee when playing tag and I didn't cry—much".

You bathe the injured member and use mercurochrome—you'd like to pity—to sympathise, but you must not. He is no baby! Why, he is going to school! He is your little man, now.

RAILROAD MEN IN FURTHER MOVE TO GET PAY INCREASE

1,250,000 Workers Authorize Strike Under Terms of Rail Labor Act

A major new labor problem was dumped into President Roosevelt's lap Friday when 1,250,000 railroad workers authorized a strike for higher wages.

Although President has acted in his capacity as commander-in-chief of the armed forces when intervening directly in other labor disputes—notably the strikes at North American Aviation and at the Federal Ship-building and Drydock Co.—the threatened railway strike will be referred to him under basic law.

The non-operating unions with 900,000 members set September 11 as the date for a walkout and the operating brotherhoods, engineers, firemen, trainmen, etc., planned to set a date soon. However, that does not mean the nation's trains will stop running any time soon. Under the railway labor act there are many steps before a strike may be made effective.

One mediation and arbitration has failed, as in the present case, the next step is the appointment of a fact-finding board by the president. This board must report 30 days after its appointment. But its findings are not enforceable at law. A strike, however, cannot be called until 30 days after the report is issued.
